(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

The supreme court decides that "the trade association" method of co-operating within great industries is not a violation of the anti-trust law.

That's a most important, and very wise decision, but it will cause roars and heart pains in certain circles.

It means that the heads of great industries can agree on prices to be paid by the public, and it will save much trouble to cement makers, steel men and others.

It will be said that the decision will open the door to extortionate price fixing, and there is no doubt that it will facilitate excesses, if manufacturers are foolish enough to indulge in them.

But that can be attended to when the time comes. Meanwhile, prices will be stable, wages can be made fair, without giving the mean employer an unfair advantage.

And the business should go to the best goods and the best salesmen.

A condition of anarchy and price cutting is not desirable in modern business. Stability is the great thing. The government establishes it in post-office rates, the interstate commerce commission enforces it in railroad rates.

Another supreme court decision rendered yesterday, will meet with general approval. It declares void the Oregon law compelling all children to attend the public schools, thus preventing attendance at private schools or parochial and other schools that include religious teaching.

Fathers and mothers should have something to say about their own children, [illegible] especially. And, the "something" should include children's schooling, the right to include in it as much religion, any kind of religion, as they choose.

Provided the parents themselves pay for any special schooling desired for their children, and provided such teaching includes the fundamentals of sound, practical education, there should be no meddling interference.

Public school advocates should concentrate on improving the schools with public funds, and let other methods alone. And the other lines of education should, and must be careful to let the public schools alone.

Thomas R. Marshall, once vice president, and always a good American citizen, is dead. He knew how to

BIG ORCHESTRA AT PARK DANCE

Bennie Krueger Closes Engagement at Rock Springs Tonight.

Bennie Krueger's famous 10-piece orchestra, of New York, will colse a three-day dance engagement at Rock Springs park tonight.

The orchestra is directed by Krueger in person. He is regarded as being the greatest of all saxophone players, despite the fact that he never took a lesson with the instrument. He has been appearing before the public for about 18 years, his first appearance being when he was eight years of age.

While playing in Columbus last year, Governor Donahey issued a proclamation referring to Bennie as the "dean of syncopation." More than 8,000 persons attended the opening dance of the season at Danceland, Cleveland, this spring, at which Krueger and his orchestra furnished the music. Krueger's orchestra was one of approximately 40 applicants seeking the contract to open the Cleveland dance hall.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PLEDGES PREPAREDNESS IN ANNAPOLIS SPEECH

Addressing 1925 Graduating Class of United States Naval Academy, Executive Gives Support to Army and Navy and Reserve Qualified in Every Way to Guarantee National Security.

EACH CITIZEN SHOULD BE POTENTIALLY SOLDIER, HE TELLS NAVAL OFFICERS

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 3.—President Coolidge, speaking as commander-in-chief of the American military establishment, today pledged himself finally and absolutely to adequate national preparedness.

Addressing the 1925 graduating class of the United States naval academy here, the executive gave his unqualified support to an army and a navy and a reserve qualified in every way to guarantee national security. He urged only that maintenance of the national defense be governed in such fashion as to make it an "instrument of righteousness," rather than a "display of mere naked force."

"The true spirit of American institutions requires that each citizen should be potentially a soldier. Ready to take his place in the ranks in time of peril, either in the field or in the necessary productive activity," he told the young naval officers.

Hits Suspicion and Hatred.

The president admonished all men of the service, however, against preaching the gospel of preparedness on the plea that other world powers are arming against the United States. Declaring that the suggestion that "any other people are harboring a hostile intent toward us is a very serious charge," he said:

"It seems to me perfectly proper for anyone upon any suitable occasion to advocate the maintenance of a navy in keeping with the greatness and dignity of our country. But as one who is responsible not only for our national defense, but likewise our friendly relations with other peoples and our title to the good opinion of the world, I felt that the occasion will very seldom arise, and I know it does not now exist, when those connected with our navy are justified, either directly or by inference, in asserting that other specified powers are arming against us, and by arousing national suspicion and hatred attempting to cause us to arm against them."

Duty of National Defense.

The duty of national defense, Mr. Coolidge said, is analogous to the general duty of citizenship and "should be broadly extended and borne by all the people." He declared that a proper display of military force was "the background of secur-

Police Chief Discusses Efforts to Enforce Law

Rev. B. R. Johnson, pastor of the First Church of Christ, was elected president of the Ministerial association at the pre-summer meeting today in the banquet room of the Y. M. C. A. He succeeds Rev. Frederic A. Dean, of the Second Presbyterian church.

Rev. W. C. Stokes, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, was chosen vice president, while Rev. E. E. Lashley, of the Newell Presbyterian church, was named secretary-treasurer, succeeding Rev. A. H. O'Brien.

Chief of Police Hugh McDermott, accepting an invitation to discuss the efforts of the police department to enforce the laws, talked for more than half an hour, answering questions of the ministers. A vote of thanks was extended for his courtesy in attending the meeting.

The pastors also discussed the proposed course in religious instruction in the public schools, which they have asked the board of education to permit, but deferred arrangements pending action by the [illegible] meeting Thursday evening. Should the board act favorably upon the request, a called session of the ministers will likely be held to complete plans for the course.

Explain Religious Instruction.

Explaining the proposed plan of religious education in the public schools, the Ministerial Association issued the following statement:

"In view of the many misunderstandings that have gotten abroad in regard to the proposed plan of religious education which the Ministerial association has asked the board of education to approve, the association has considered it wise to make certain clarifying statements to the local press.

"The proposed plan, in a general way, is as follows: A council of re-

George H. Koch, 62, New Waterford Bank Officer, is Dead

George H. Koch, 62, vice president of the New Waterford National bank, and who for 35 years was engaged in the buggy and wagon manufacturing business there, is dead today following an illness of several months. He was brought to his home about six weeks ago from a Pittsburgh hospital where he had been a patient since last November.

At one time he was a candidate for county commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

He leaves two sons, John H. Jr. and Robert Koch, both of New Waterford; two brothers, Jacob Koch, trustee of Unity township, and John Koch of New Waterford.

Funeral services will be held at New Waterford at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Bankers' Convention Opens.

COLUMBUS, June 3. — More than 1,000 are expected to attend the 35th annual convention of the Bankers' association, which will be convened here this afternoon for a three-day meeting. B. G. Huntington, Columbus, is president; S. A. Roach, Columbus, secretary, and W. R. Myers, Canton, treasurer.

OHIO GOVERNOR'S DAUGHTER BRIDE IN STATEHOUSE-NURTURED ROMANCE

COLUMBUS, June 3.—Miss Margaret Donahey, daughter of Governor and Mrs. Donahey, will be married here at 4 o'clock this afternoon to James Wyne [illegible] Chandlerville, executive secretary to the governor, at the first wedding ceremony to be performed at the executive mansion. A public reception will be held following the ceremony.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Frank H. Huffman, Baltimore, Md., a brother of Mr. Huffman. Miss Donahey will be given away by her father. Miss Margaret Foster, Washington, D. C., as maid of honor; Mrs. Clark G. Ogden, Miss Donahey's sister, as matron of honor, maid, will attend the bride. Little June Keener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keener, Zanesville, niece of Mr. Huffman, will be ring bearer. Willamina Huffman, of Baltimore, niece of Mr. Huffman, and Marion Donahey, youngest sister of the bride, will lead the wedding procession.

Shanghai Situation "Worse;" Strikers Fire On U. S. Troops

American Women Organize Defense Battalion in Movement to Quell Rebellion of Chinese Laborers and Students.

PEKING, China, June 3.—Additional foreign warships were ordered to Shanghai today as the menace of anti-foreign sentiment grew in proportions. The American and other foreign legations authorized the movement of warships at the same time as preparations were made against any outbreak here.

LONDON, June 3.—The situation in Shanghai, where Chinese have gone on a general strike, was described as "worse" in dispatches from Shanghai today to the Evening News.

Communist agents were blamed for the strike of 3,000 Chinese. Public service was reported to be greatly interrupted, with a shortage of meat and other food impending. Sniping was continuing and 2,000 troops were reported enroute to quell the strikers.

Rioting strikers yesterday opened fire on American troops marching in Burkill Road, killing two horses and wounding an American doctor, Thomas G. McMartin. The rioters were dispersed with machine gun fire.

225 Boys Enroll In Y. M. C. A. "Learn To Swim" Campaign

More than 225 youths are enrolled in the "Learn to Swim" campaign being conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. this week. Yesterday was the final day for enrollment.

One hundred and sixty lads received instruction in the art Monday, the lessons requiring both morning and afternoon sessions in the bathing pool. Tuesday, 198 youths were instructed. Lessons were given again this morning and will continue Thursday and Friday.

Boys, who have been taking the course, will be examined on Friday morning. Those who swim 50 feet or more at this time will be awarded a "Y" button. The "Learn to Swim" campaign is open to all boys 10 years of age and over, membership in the association not being necessary.

The classes are under the leadership of Physical Director T. F. Scheffer and Boys' Work Director Harvey J. Price.

Trail of Death in Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota.

HOUSES WRECKED

Terrific Wind Causes Havoc in Twin Cities.

OMAHA, Neb., June 3. — A trail of death and property destruction today marked the paths of three tornadoes that swept over eastern Nebraska and western Iowa last night.

Four were known to have been killed in Nebraska and three in Iowa. More than a score of persons were injured.

Great property damage was wrought.

Toll of Dead May Mount.

ADAIR, Iowa, June 3.—Three persons were killed and three badly hurt by a tornado which swept east of Adair last night.

The dead: John Harris, 75, and his two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elgin and an 8-year old son were badly injured.

The storm demolished houses and uprooted trees [illegible] Casey.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 3.—With two known dead, 24 injured and great property damage as the result of last night's terrific wind and rain storm that struck the Twin Cities and surrounding territory, the toll of dead and injured is expected to mount when communication with the storm swept area is restored.

All communication with the territory west of here for a distance of 100 miles was still cut off early today.

AUTO UPSETS; CHILD INJURED

H. A. Cronin's Car Plunges Over Cemetery Embankment.

Harold A. Cronin, 32, kiln-placer, of Columbia avenue, and his two-year-old son, Hunter, narrowly escaped serious injury when his automobile, a Ford sedan, went over a steep embankment in Riverview cemetery at 5:30 o'clock last evening. The child sustained a deep cut above the right eye and was lacerated about the face, but Cronin was unhurt.

Cronin was making a sharp turn in one of the driveways in the lower part of the cemetery, when, he claims, the steering geer on the car buckled. An instant later the machine went over the side of the hill and overturned twice before it came to a stop against a tree.

The father and son were in the car when it came to a stop. Cronin kicked one of the doors open and with his child crawled out of the machine. The boy was removed to his home in Columbia avenue where his injuries were dressed by Dr. J. A. Metz.

The sedan, badly wrecked, was pulled to the roadway by the McElravy Brothers' wreck car and hauled to a gaage.

DO YOUR OWN THINKING; STAND BY YOUR CONVICTIONS, DR. FRANK G. FOWLER'S ADVICE AS 88 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Do your own thinking, form your own opinions and then have the courage to stand by your convictions, regardless of what the world may say, was the advice to 88 young people—50 girls and 38 boys—members of the graduating class of 1925 of the high school, given by Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, at the commencement exercises in the high school auditorium last evening. His subject was "Clean Channels."

Friends of the graduates and patrons of the school filled the spacious auditorium for the exercises. The graduates marched into the auditorium before the program started, occupying the first three rows of seats, the boys on one side and girls on the other.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of Prof. Ralph Johnson. Chorus numbers by girl and boy members of the class were given under auspices of Prof. H. F. Laughlin.

Eleven Honor Pupils

Dr. Fowler was introduced by Superintendent of Schools F. P. Geiger. Mr. Geiger, who becomes superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia next September, bade farewell to the people of the city in a few remarks at the conclusion of the commencement address and then introduced Attorney Jason H. Brookes, president of the board of education, who, assisted by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal, presented the diplomas.

Mr. Brookes discussed the proposed night classes and the course in ceramics. He paid a high tribute to the leadership of Miss Updegraff as principal of the high school. As the names of the graduates were called, they walked to the stage and received their diplomas.

Special certificates were awarded 11 members of the class—ten who received the highest averages during the four-year course and the "greatest effort student." The ten honor pupils, Miss Updegraff stated, had earned averages of 90 or more during the entire four-year study.

First honors went to Miss Marie Howard, whose average was 94 percent; second honors to Miss Hannah Wilson, whose average was 92.60 percent. But 05 percent separated the second and third honor pupils, Jennings Horger, third honor student, obtaining an average of 92.55 percent. The other students were: Pauline McElravy, Grace Ramsey, Linden Barnes, Dale Leibschner, Evelyn Carmen, Louis Toban and John O'Connell. The "greatest effort student" was Charles McConville, this honor having been voted by the unanimous decision of the faculty.

Dr. Fowler's Address.

Dr. Fowler, in his address to the graduates, said:

When a young fellow, it was my lot, after harvest, when there was more or less leisure, to take an ax or a mattock and go along the streams that ran through the meadows and bottom land and cut away the willow bushes from the banks. If these were left grow they would soon obstruct the channel and stop the flow of the stream, and during freshets cause the stream to overflow. To keep the stream straight and enable it to function well the channel must be kept clean. That is my subject for this evening—"Clean Channels."

Down through the valley where we lived there went winding lazily along a little creek. That creek had tadpoles, water snakes, bull frogs, turtles, catfish, bullheads, suckers and sunfish in it. I know, for I have caught them all. It had a famous swimming pool! I know, for I have caught more than one cold in it. You travel up that valley and that creek grew narrower and narrower, till it became a mere brook. Go on, and after you had traveled 10 miles, you would come to a bubbling, sparkling spring, leaping out from the side of a great hill. That was where the little Still Water began. If you could travel farther, you would go on between shale rocks, through limestone cliffs, following little veins and capillaries, gathering up seeping waters from the heart of that great hill. Then if you want to go farther you may climb your way up through rock and clay and pebbles to the rain falling on muddy road and green field, then up, up to the clouds that float against the serene blue. There is where little Still Water began.

Then turn your face the other way, yonder it goes like a great winding serpent between the silent hills, growing larger and larger all the way. Presently merges out into Big Still Water, then into the Tuscarawas river, then into the Muskingdom, then into the Ohio, then into the Mississippi, and yonder its waters go shooting out into the Mexican gulf. Kissed by the warm sunshine of the tropics, it carries its warmth to far off England, transforming a frigid island into fields and gardens of beauty. It gives fight to the Irish, music to the Welsh, thrift to the Scotch, and bull-doggedness to the English.

So "Little Stillwater" flows on by the British Isles beneath the ice-bound coasts of Siberia, it finds the beautiful Pacific, and so on and on about the great sphere. It is a part of the great

20 Die in Marine Disasters as Severe Storms Sweep Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 3. —A death list estimated at 20 persons, and all in marine disasters, was the toll today of violent storms that have been sweeping Sweden.

TORNADOES HIT THREE WESTERN STATES; HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS

Trail of Death in Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota.

HOUSES WRECKED

Terrific Wind Causes Havoc in Twin Cities.

OMAHA, Neb., June 3. — A trail of death and property destruction today marked the paths of three tornadoes that swept over eastern Nebraska and western Iowa last night.

Four were known to have been killed in Nebraska and three in Iowa. More than a score of persons were injured.

Great property damage was wrought.

Toll of Dead May Mount.

ADAIR, Iowa, June 3.—Three persons were killed and three badly hurt by a tornado which swept east of Adair last night.

The dead: John Harris, 75, and his two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elgin and an 8-year old son were badly injured.

The storm demolished houses and uprooted trees [illegible] Casey.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 3.—With two known dead, 24 injured and great property damage as the result of last night's terrific wind and rain storm that struck the Twin Cities and surrounding territory, the toll of dead and injured is expected to mount when communication with the storm swept area is restored.

All communication with the territory west of here for a distance of 100 miles was still cut off early today.

AUTO UPSETS; CHILD INJURED

H. A. Cronin's Car Plunges Over Cemetery Embankment.

Harold A. Cronin, 32, kiln-placer, of Columbia avenue, and his two-year-old son, Hunter, narrowly escaped serious injury when his automobile, a Ford sedan, went over a steep embankment in Riverview cemetery at 5:30 o'clock last evening. The child sustained a deep cut above the right eye and was lacerated about the face, but Cronin was unhurt.

Cronin was making a sharp turn in one of the driveways in the lower part of the cemetery, when, he claims, the steering geer on the car buckled. An instant later the machine went over the side of the hill and overturned twice before it came to a stop against a tree.

The father and son were in the car when it came to a stop. Cronin kicked one of the doors open and with his child crawled out of the machine. The boy was removed to his home in Columbia avenue where his injuries were dressed by Dr. J. A. Metz.

The sedan, badly wrecked, was pulled to the roadway by the McElravy Brothers' wreck car and hauled to a gaage.

DO YOUR OWN THINKING; STAND BY YOUR CONVICTIONS, DR. FRANK G. FOWLER'S ADVICE AS 88 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Do your own thinking, form your own opinions and then have the courage to stand by your convictions, regardless of what the world may say, was the advice to 88 young people—50 girls and 38 boys—members of the graduating class of 1925 of the high school, given by Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, at the commencement exercises in the high school auditorium last evening. His subject was "Clean Channels."

Friends of the graduates and patrons of the school filled the spacious auditorium for the exercises. The graduates marched into the auditorium before the program started, occupying the first three rows of seats, the boys on one side and girls on the other.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of Prof. Ralph Johnson. Chorus numbers by girl and boy members of the class were given under auspices of Prof. H. F. Laughlin.

Eleven Honor Pupils

Dr. Fowler was introduced by Superintendent of Schools F. P. Geiger. Mr. Geiger, who becomes superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia next September, bade farewell to the people of the city in a few remarks at the conclusion of the commencement address and then introduced Attorney Jason H. Brookes, president of the board of education, who, assisted by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal, presented the diplomas.

Mr. Brookes discussed the proposed night classes and the course in ceramics. He paid a high tribute to the leadership of Miss Updegraff as principal of the high school. As the names of the graduates were called, they walked to the stage and received their diplomas.

Special certificates were awarded 11 members of the class—ten who received the highest averages during the four-year course and the "greatest effort student." The ten honor pupils, Miss Updegraff stated, had earned averages of 90 or more during the entire four-year study.

First honors went to Miss Marie Howard, whose average was 94 percent; second honors to Miss Hannah Wilson, whose average was 92.60 percent. But 05 percent separated the second and third honor pupils, Jennings Horger, third honor student, obtaining an average of 92.55 percent. The other students were: Pauline McElravy, Grace Ramsey, Linden Barnes, Dale Leibschner, Evelyn Carmen, Louis Toban and John O'Connell. The "greatest effort student" was Charles McConville, this honor having been voted by the unanimous decision of the faculty.

Dr. Fowler's Address.

Dr. Fowler, in his address to the graduates, said:

When a young fellow, it was my lot, after harvest, when there was more or less leisure, to take an ax or a mattock and go along the streams that ran through the meadows and bottom land and cut away the willow bushes from the banks. If these were left grow they would soon obstruct the channel and stop the flow of the stream, and during freshets cause the stream to overflow. To keep the stream straight and enable it to function well the channel must be kept clean. That is my subject for this evening—"Clean Channels."

Down through the valley where we lived there went winding lazily along a little creek. That creek had tadpoles, water snakes, bull frogs, turtles, catfish, bullheads, suckers and sunfish in it. I know, for I have caught them all. It had a famous swimming pool! I know, for I have caught more than one cold in it. You travel up that valley and that creek grew narrower and narrower, till it became a mere brook. Go on, and after you had traveled 10 miles, you would come to a bubbling, sparkling spring, leaping out from the side of a great hill. That was where the little Still Water began. If you could travel farther, you would go on between shale rocks, through limestone cliffs, following little veins and capillaries, gathering up seeping waters from the heart of that great hill. Then if you want to go farther you may climb your way up through rock and clay and pebbles to the rain falling on muddy road and green field, then up, up to the clouds that float against the serene blue. There is where little Still Water began.

Then turn your face the other way, yonder it goes like a great winding serpent between the silent hills, growing larger and larger all the way. Presently merges out into Big Still Water, then into the Tuscarawas river, then into the Muskingdom, then into the Ohio, then into the Mississippi, and yonder its waters go shooting out into the Mexican gulf. Kissed by the warm sunshine of the tropics, it carries its warmth to far off England, transforming a frigid island into fields and gardens of beauty. It gives fight to the Irish, music to the Welsh, thrift to the Scotch, and bull-doggedness to the English.

So "Little Stillwater" flows on by the British Isles beneath the ice-bound coasts of Siberia, it finds the beautiful Pacific, and so on and on about the great sphere. It is a part of the great

PLAYLOT AIDES ARE APPOINTED

Souvenir Day Will be Observed Here Friday.

"Let's give the kiddies a safe place to play."

This will be the slogan of club women and high school girls on Friday, when Souvenir day will be observed as a means of raising funds to maintain the city playground this summer, it was announced today by Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Announcement also was made of the appointment of Frank Manton and Miss Ruth Johnsen as playground supervisors. Miss Johnson has been supervisor of the recreation center for the last two years.

Prizes of $5, $3 and $2 and five of $1 each will be awarded workers in the sale of souvenirs.

mean what he said, and to make others know he meant it.

When he was governor, certain sports, not taking the law seriously, decided to have horse races and betting, in the good old way. Indiana's laws forbade it.

Governor Marshall, assured there would be no betting, said he would believe it, and even help to make it true.

"I'll send the militia to the track with instructions to arrest every man making or taking a bet, and I'll send enough militia to do the job well."

The track did not open.

Woman, especially as she grows older, is among the most determined of created beings, and slowly, through the ages, she has been educating man, and making him, if necessary by violence.

Two recent cases:

Mrs. Alexander Norbert, aged 51, of Illinois, confessed she killed her husband, and said she would not go to state's prison. She set fire to her bed in prison and burned herself to death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Storaci, of New Jersey, mother of eight, decided that her husband deserved punishment, and killed him by pouring boiling olive oil over him as he lay in bed.

Women of refinement, rarely do such things, but all women, according to their development, find means to make men better, or make them sorry they are so bad. And, to woman's determination may be attributed practically all of men's reluctant moral betterment.

Thoughtful financiers "managing" railroads, with the ticker paper slipping through their fingers, complain. They say "workers on railroads lack the old-time loyalty and enthusiasm."

That's sad, but how do the financiers know? They never meet the men.

Yesterday the Pennsylvania railroad retired 99 men on pensions. Five had served the road faithfully for 50 years or more, and 45 for 40 years, or longer.

If railroads were loyal to their men as the men are to roads there would be less trouble.

The Laura Spelman memorial, established by Mr. Rockefeller, in memory of his wife, spent last year, in useful public work, $6,580,000.

In old days the money might have been spent in an effort to placate divine justice. Now it's used to help the living.

And that's an improvement.

The Rockefeller gift of books to German universities is especially intelligent and gratifying. Those books, helping earenst students in their work will add to man's knowledge and happiness.

ity." Enumerating the progressive stages of the advance of civilization, including freedom in religion and expression, the installation of popular education, and increasing production and a broader culture generally, he told the graduating class.

"In all this progress and all this advance it has never been possible to maintain that first essential of security without a background of military force. It is that background, that support, that service which your profession helps to provide, that is your contribution, one of the first things, one of the essentials to the civilian life of our country. You may not be actually employed in production, but you are helping to increase the value of production and maintain the public peace without which there could be no production."

While making clear his belief that ultimately, through the application of "reason," universal peace would prevail, the president indicated plainly that, in his belief, the time had not yet come to abandon the principle of protective armament.

"Though ultimately I believe peace will prevail," he said, "I have too much knowledge of the history of mankind and too much experience with the traits of human nature to dare assert that we shall never again be engaged in war."

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank Rev. Campbell and singers of the Second U. P. church, also relatives, neighbors and the many friends for their kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral offerings through the death of our dear son and brother, Lewis Earl.

East Will Sizzle Through Friday, is Weather Man's Tip

WASHINGTON, June 3. — High temperatures will continue, at least through Friday, in the eastern states, the United States weather bureau stated today.

Fair weather will prevail generally, but there will be local thundershowers in the lower lake region, northern New York and northern New England.

While the eastern states sweltered, frosts were reported from Washington and Oregon.

School Orchestra Members to Attend Kiwanis Luncheon

Members of the high school orchestra and Ralph Johnson, director, will be guests of the Kiwanis club at the noon luncheon meeting in the Larkins annex Thursday.

A program of musical numbers will be given by the orchestra following the luncheon. The attendance prize will be furnished by Robert Parker, Chester real estate and insurance dealer.

An inter city meeting of the Wellsville and East Liverpool clubs will be held here Thursday evening, June 11. The program will be under the direction of the Wellsville Kiwanians.

CIRCUS' 24-HOUR MAN IS IN CITY

The "twenty-four hour man" for the John Robinson circus arrived in the city this morning to complete arrangements for the show which will exhibit here Friday.

Afternoon and evening exhibitions will be given at the Columbian park, East End. Because of the lack of railroad trackage in East End, the circus train, consisting of 30 cars, will be unloaded at the foot of Walnut street.

The circus comes to this city from Latrobe, Pa., where it will exhibit Thursday.

AUTO DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Hubert Chambers, of East End, will face Mayor Charles Brown tonight upon a charge of passing a street car while it was discharging passengers. Chambers, who was arrested by Patrolman McFarland, is alleged to have driven past a Pleasant Heights car, while it was stopped on Dresden avenue at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was released on his own recognizance.

GEORGE CHANCEY IS FINED $500

George Chancey, fireman for the American Vitrified Products company, was arrested at his home near Kountz avenue, east of Wellsville, by Turnkey William Cline and Special Officer Walter Torrence last night upon a warrant sworn to by Chief of Police Hugh McDermott, charging him with selling intoxicating liquors.

Chancey was fined $500 and costs by Mayor Brown. He made arrangements to pay.

FACES TWO COUNTS, ONE DISMISSED

Justice P. V. Mackall dismissed a charge of carrying concealed weapons, filed against Roy Justice, of Klondyke by Mrs. Jennie Eckert, a neighbor at a hearing last night. Insufficient evidence was produced to warrant a conviction, the court ruled.

Justice was fined $5 and costs upon a charge of assault and battery to which he pleaded guilty. Mrs. Eckert charged that he had struck her son, John Mills.

Masonic Lodgemen Plan Beaver Visit Thursday, June 11

Members of East Liverpool lodge No. 681, F. & A. M., will make a return visit to St. James lodge No. 457, F. & A. M., of Beaver, Thursday evening, June 11.

The trip probably will be made in a special car leaving the Broadway terminal at 6:30 o'clock. A large delegation of the Beaver lodgemen came here last fall to attend a meeting of the local Masons.

Former Grid Star Killed, Six Injured In Auto Wreck

DETROIT, June 3. — Herbert C. York, 24, former football star at Fordham University, was killed and six other men were injured, five probably fatally, today when their speeding automobile crashed into an enclosed safety zone at Grand River and West Warren avenue, and overturned.

HUSBAND DENIES MURDER CHARGE

CINCINNATI, June 3—William Davis 40, an itinerant preacher, today waived extradition and will go back to Nashville, where he is wanted in connection with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Ada Davis, who was found in the Cumberland river Saturday with her throat cut. Davis declares his innocence. Nashville detectives are now on their way here.

DEATH ROLL

Infant Godwin.

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Godwin, of Newell, were held this afternoon in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street. Rev. Fisher, in charge. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

Police Ban Riding On Running Boards Of Motor Cars Here

Riding the running boards of automobiles is tabooed here.

As the result of the fatal automobile accident on Harvey avenue, East End, last Thursday, in which Harold Purdy was the victim, Chief of Police Hugh McDermott announced today that persons riding on the running boards of automobiles would be arrested.

Purdy, alleged to have been riding on the running board of an automobile, stepped off in front of another car driven by Charles Van Meter.

"It's a dangerous practice and must be stopped or arrests will be made," said McDermott. "Better walk along the sidewalk in safety than ride on a running board endangering your life."

Women Offer Services.

SHANGHAI, China, June 3.—Two hundred members of the American Woman's club, headed by Irene Corbally Kahn, formerly a New York newspaper woman, and Viola Smith, formerly of San Francisco and now assistant to the United States trade commissioner, today organized a women's auxiliary and defense battalion to take an active part in the military movement to quell the rebellion of Chinese laborers and students.

The women tendered their services to the military authorities for emergency duty as chauffeurs of lorries and dispatch cars and as nurses, telephone operators, clerks and cooks.

The club has started a census of its membership with a view to placing every available American woman at work, thus relieving men for the defense patrols.

ligious education, known as the East Liverpool Council of Religious Education, is to be formed. All religious education of the city, which would be carried on in a co-operative way, will be placed in the hands of this council —such as institutes, teachers' training classes, Daily Vacation Bible schools, etc. A director of religious education will be hired to give his or her full time to this work. It is proposed to secure the best director possible—one who has been thoroughly trained in the pedagogy of religious instruction.

"The biggest and most outstanding ambition of the council will be to give religious instruction to the children in the public schools. A curriculum will be worked out by a committee of which the superintendent of the public schools will be a member. It is proposed to begin in a modest way. The director of religious education to go from building to building, giving one period of instruction each week to as many grades as can be reached. The director is to be selected by a committee appointed by the council of which the superintendent of the public schools shall also be a member.

"The entire expense of the work will be taken care of by the East Liverpool Council of Religious Education, so that not one cent of the taxpayers' money will be appropriated to this work. Mr. Geiger, the retiring superintendent, has assured the association that the plan will not create embarrassment on the part of the schools in providing time and room for the work.

"It is further proposed that no child will be permitted to enroll in any of the classes for religious instruction without presenting a signed request of the parents. A complete constitution and a code of by-laws are being formulated of which this clause will be a part, so it will be clearly seen no particular type of instruction is to be forced on the pupils of the city. It might be said at this point that this movement is an attempt on the part of the Ministerial association to meet a long felt need in giving week-day religious instruction in a way that will compare favorably with the best methods of secular education.

"The public is, of course, acquainted with the fact that several of the churches have been giving religious instruction during the present school year once a week to the children who elected to come to the churches. This method has worked quite well. But the Ministerial association feels that the proposed new method will be far in advance for several reasons. First, the children will not lose valuable time in going to and from the churches. Second, it will be much easier to adopt a unified plan of instruction. Third, the children will be provided the most modern and approved method of instruction given by a thoroughly trained teacher.

"The Ministerial association is earnest in its desire to be fair and liberal to all concerned and to bring to the children of the city such a class and quality of instruction as shall make them good citizens—having high respect and regard for the splendid tradition and laws of our country. This plan is already in vogue in many Ohio cities where it is working splendidly. The Ministerial association agrees with the last issue of the Literary Digest which prints the following:

"'All creeds are agreed in desiring to bring up their children in the knowledge and love of God, but they have been too much hedged about with doctrinal fears to agree on any one method of providing religious training for the young. The Constitution provides free a public counter at which all children, of any creed or none, may sit for their secular instruction, but for their general and inclusive religious training no means upon which all can agree has yet been devised. And here, it is pointed out, is the paradox—that the jails are filling with juveniles while their elders are disputing as to the best method of giving their children such religious training as will at least keep them out of jail. It is generally agreed that the home is failing in its chief function, and the few millions of children reached by the Protestant Sunday schools receive religious instruction on the average only half an hour a week. Catholic and Jewish children fare better in this respect. Dogmas remain intact, but, we are told, children go to the devil.

"'Some recent horrible examples, which have received their full measure of publicity, and the alarming figures on juvenile delinquency have focused the attention of observers on the fact that the moral side of education is completely overshadowed by the secular. It is true that in some states, notably Ohio, Indiana and Kansas, the method of setting aside a part of the secular school day for religious instruction by the several denominational organizations is being tried with success. All told, 1,000 cities are now using this plan. In Grand Rapids, Mich., it is provided that the educational equipment of the church schools must be approved by the superintendent of schools. Against this is the fact that in several other states school officials have held that taking time out of public school hours for religious instruction is illegal.

"'Rabbi Samuel Schulman, addressing his own congregation in a New York synagog, expresses his belief, as he is quoted in the press, "that curtailing the public-school schedule for week-day religious instruction is the solution of the problem of the relation of religious education to our public-school system. But before this can be brought about, there must be a more comprehensive discussion, and there must be a better and more thorough organization of all the religious bodies in the city." Commenting on all this disagreement over the plan to give week-day religious instruction to children outside of school, the Washington Post declares, "it is for those who are raging against the plan to propose a practical alternative that will check the rising tide of juvenile crime—if they can. Thus far they have proposed nothing.'

"There has been much discussion in New York city, both pro and con, in regard to the week-day religious education. 'However,' says the Literary Digest, 'Protestant, Catholic and Jewish teachers at a meeting presided over by Cardinal Hayes, agreed that there should be week-day religious instruction in time taken from the school.'

"The above in a general way is the plan which the Ministerial association has asked the board of education to approve, and the association believes that its fairness and constructiveness cannot be questioned."

Do Your Own Thinking

ocean out yonder but it is "Little Stillwater" just the same.

One Sunday afternoon, two friends and myself were sitting on the bank of "little stillwater" and we conceived the idea of putting our names and addresses in a corked up bottle and throwing it into the stream, asking whoever found the botle to write us. We did this. After a few weeks I received a letter from a young lady who lived about four miles below us. I took the letter to my friends in great delight. They had not yet received an answer to their letters. Well, I wrote to the young lady. Then I received one from her saying she had never been fishing, as the letter had stated, and had found the bottle. Then I began to get wise. The two fellows had double-crossed me, one of them had written the letter. I told the young lady about it and we corresponded for some time. My two friends wondered about it all and were disappointed that they did not get the chance to give me the razz.

Keep Channel Clean.

Well, life is like "Little Stillwater." It begins back yonger in God's great hills; it reaches up to the sky; it comes out from God. "Trailing lights of glory do we come from God who is our home." It flows on through country hamlets, villages and town, where folk live. Children sit upon the bank of the stream. They bait their hooks and thrown them into the stream to see what they can catch. They write messages and cork them up in bottles and thrown them into the stream to see what answers they will bet back. That stream widens out. It emerges into greater streams. It shoots out into the great gulf. It becomes a part of the ocean, either to carry icebergs or the flowers and warm-kiss of the tropics. It flows through places where man has never gone and "by faith we see afar." That stream only cuts its way once, that is all. If I can help you to keep that channel clean, I will have done much.

I congratulate you that you are. I do not know why you are. do not know much of anything. Neither do you. When you see a man discoursing on what he knows, write him down as a man who does not know much of anything. When you find a man with a panacea for all human ilis, pass him up. He is not safe to follow. Some philosophers have told us there is no reality in anything, we just think we are. The whole thing is an hallucination. Well, of course I do not believe that. If we are deceived, then there must be something to deceive, there must be something to halucinate. Then I will have to revise what I have said. I do know something. I know that I am. I know that this which is standing before you tonight is no dream; it is no joke. It may be to you but it is not to me. But that is about all I do know. Oh, of course we have a lot of theories, many of which I think are right. But who has the last word concerning these? Where is the last Court of Appeals? It is not around here anywhere. Then why do I congratulate you that you are alive? Because it is glorious to be. This is a great game. We have a great riddle to solve and that is always interesting. There is something within us that is restless, something seeking to express itself. This is something that is reaching out after something that is bigger and holier. I do not know what this something is but I know that it is there. We call it an ego; a life, a soul. I do not know what it is but I do know that it is wonderful to be in the surge of it. I also know that it is worth while. There is a great purpose back of it. There is a great destiny ahead. There is a great Mind and Heart over it all. That great Mind and Heart can be sensed. Its thoughts and powers can be appropriated. So that does not leave much of my first statement, does it? I guess I know a good deal. But after all I do not know much of anything, in the sense that it can be demonstrated. That is what I mean.

So I am not going to come to you tonight with an itemized program to be followed. I am not going to tell you to go to the drug-store to buy your beauty. I am not going to tell you to practice Walter Camp's daily dozen and you will be strong. I am not going to tell you that you have to improve your memory so as to have self confidence, nor to instruct you in so-called ethics of business to insure success. There are a lot of theories, which if practiced, would be much like a man trying to lift himself by his bootstraps. In none of these am I intereested now. There are certain great fundamentals which if taken seriously lead to success. These I want to point out.

Don't Be a Parrot.

Some one has said one wholesome vigorous thought would put the average person to sleep. That is, it would be such an unusual thing, the individual would be so exhausted he would fall asleep. The first thing I want to do by way of keeping the channel clear, so the stream of life will not be obstructed is "Learn to think and think for yourselves." Not many people do that. This is an age of hand-me-down clothes. I do not suppose there are many tailor-made suits in this room. Well this is a day of hand-me-down thoughts, too. Hand-me-down suits are not bad. I wear them frequently. But hand - me - down thoughts are a tragedy. Hand - me down thoughts will kill. They will soon reduce people to the mediocrity of nominalism. God has put a brain in the uppermost place of our being, and the most important thing of that brain is to think. God has ordained us to think and when we let some one else do it for us, we are defeating the purpose of God. Some people cannot render a judgment on religion until their religious paper has spoken, or on politics until their favorite politician has announced himself. Some people wait for the Literary Digest to come before they know what they believe. Mr. Emerson, in one of his essays, gives the advice, "If you think a thing, speak out and say it before anyone else does." It does not do one much good to say a thing after some one else has said it. When a man has a thought and expresses it before any one else has said it, he feels like a free man, otherwise he is a parrot or a slave.

A great deal of the attempted effort of our day is based either on exclamatory suppression or exclamatory acceleration. The politician talks about vested interests on one hand and the spirit of the dangerous red on the other. Talk about vested interests on the one hand and there is a class that go wild in their approval and they cry, "Down with the autocrats." Talk about the reds and there is another class that goes just as wild and they cry, "Down with the agitator." But the point is, what are our vested interests? Are the men who have built our railroads, and tunnelled our hills and spanned our streams, built our mills and sailed our lakes and oceans, invested interests? If so, are we against them because they have done these things? If so would we be content to do without these things? Then the "red agitator," who is he anyway? Maybe the agitator of today will be the statesman of tomorrow. The man who advocated the recall and referendum a few years ago was an agitator; today he is a statesman. The man who a few years ago advocated government control of public utilities was an agitator, today he is a statesman.

Who are the great men of the past? Well, there is a long list of them. But we could answer the question by saying the men who have taken time to think. The popular man may be the man of the masses, but the leader, the discoverer of the new day is the man of individuality. We may say this is the day of group movement and group action. That may be but the day of individual leadership has not passed and it never will. There is an old saying in Latin, "Vox Populi, Vox Dei," the voice of the people is the voice of God. There is a big sense in which that is true. There is a bigger sense in which it is not true. The people proclaimed Jesus as King and gave Him a royal welcome to the city, and then in a few days they cried, "Crucify Him." They were creatures of circumstances. You cannot trust the masses to usher in a new day. They are interested too much in the ribald. It is said that Diogenes, the Greek cynic philosopher, was once discoursing on the streets of Athens with great eloquence on the "Beauties of Virtue," when one by one his auditors began to leave him. He suddenly broke out in a ribald drinking song, then the people began to flock back. Which will draw the larger crowd, some of the old orations or modern jazz? "Yes, we have no Bananas" is better than "Handel's Messiah." An Englishman came to this country and when he went back home he was asked about American prosperity. He said, "Everything seems to be very prosperous in America, except they do not seem to have any banas over there." Which is the more attractive, paintings of the old masters or the modern, nude sensual art of the Police Gazette or the cover page of Physical Culture? Go to the movie operators and ask them what kind of films make them the most money. The old story of Diogenes I rather think would be true today.

Masses Do Not Think.

Now, I suppose if you want to enjoy life, probably you had better not learn to think. That is if you want to enjoy life in the popular sense. If you do much thinking, you will probably have much trouble, because the masses do not think, and a thinker usually finds himself going counter to the masses. The masses drift with the stream, the thinker crooses the course of the stream. The masses have stood back of every delusion and have tried to block every movement of progress. The masses strenuously objected to the discovery that the world was round. When Jesus said "God is love" and not arrogant hatred, and that turning the other cheek by going the second mile would defeat your enemy, and then proceeded to do it, the masses said 'Crucify Him." It was the masses that kept liberty back from the slaves. It was the masses that burned the Salem witches. Galileo had to pay the price for saying that the world was round. They dragged Wendell Phillips through the streets of Boston for championing the cause of the Negro. They silenced more than one man's voice who believed in temperance, and some they silenced forever. Read of the French Revolution and see how after the mob had overthrown the foundations of human government, they turned their guns on high heaven and cried, "We must have no monarch in heaven if we would have none on earth." So they clothed a common prostitute in the vestments of a priestess and worshipped her as the goddess of Reason. Now in the midst of these things, if a man dares to think he must face the mob. Some one has said, "A popular idol is a popular mirror." What people really admire in their favorites is that they see themselves reflected. The reason that there are so many mirrors is that folks enjoy looking at themselves. Every woman has her vanity case and I am told that some men are beginning to carry them. Ye gods, folks who live in glass houses ought not to throw stones. We all like to stand before the mirror. But a mirror never threw back to a man anything but what the man wants to see. He shuts his eyes to all the rest. But a great leader, a great patriot throws back the reality; the thing we do not want. Then we take up stones and break the mirror.

So to think you must have courage; the courage of your convictions. Sup-

PLAYLOT AIDES ARE APPOINTED

Souvenir Day Will be Observed Here Friday.

"Let's give the kiddies a safe place to play."

This will be the slogan of club women and high school girls on Friday, when Souvenir day will be observed as a means of raising funds to maintain the city playground this summer, it was announced today by Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Announcement also was made of the appointment of Frank Manton and Miss Ruth Johnson as playground supervisors. Miss Johnson has been supervisor of the recreation center for the last two years.

Prizes of $5, $3 and $2 and five of $1 each will be awarded workers in the sale of souvenirs.

mean what he said, and to make others know he meant it.

When he was governor, certain sports, not taking the law seriously, decided to have horse races and betting, in the good old way. Indiana's laws forbade it.

Governor Marshall, assured there would be no betting, said he would believe it, and even help to make it true.

"I'll send the militia to the track with instructions to arrest every man making or taking a bet, and I'll send enough militia to do the job well."

The track did not open.

Woman, especially as she grows older, is among the most determined of created beings, and slowly, through the ages, she has been educating man, and making him, if necessary by violence.

Two recent cases:

Mrs. Alexander Norbert, aged 51, of Illinois, confessed she killed her husband, and said she would not go to state's prison. She set fire to her bed in prison and burned herself to death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Storaci, of New Jersey, mother of eight, decided that her husband deserved punishment, and killed him by pouring boiling olive oil over him as he lay in bed.

Women of refinement, rarely do such things, but all women, according to their development, find means to make men better, or make them sorry they are so bad. And, to woman's determination may be attributed practically all of men's reluctant moral betterment.

Thoughtful financiers "managing" railroads, with the ticker paper slipping through their fingers, complain. They say "workers on railroads lack the old-time loyalty and enthusiasm."

That's sad, but how do the financiers know? They never meet the men.

Yesterday the Pennsylvania railroad retired 99 men on pensions. Five had served the road faithfully for 50 years or more, and 45 for 40 years, or longer.

If railroads were loyal to their men as the men are to roads there would be less trouble.

The Laura Spelman memorial, established by Mr. Rockefeller, in memory of his wife, spent last year, in useful public work, $6,580,000.

In old days the money might have been spent in an effort to placate divine justice. Now it's used to help the living.

And that's an improvement.

The Rockefeller gift of books to German universities is especially intelligent and gratifying. Those books, helping earenst students in their work will add to man's knowledge and happiness.

ity." Enumerating the progressive stages of the advance of civilization, including freedom in religion and expression, the installation of popular education, and increasing production and a broader culture generally, he told the graduating class.

"In all this progress and all this advance it has never been possible to maintain that first essential of security without a background of military force. It is that background, that support, that service which your profession helps to provide, that is your contribution, one of the first things, one of the essentials to the civilian life of our country. You may not be actually employed in production, but you are helping to increase the value of production and maintain the public peace without which there could be no production."

While making clear his belief that ultimately, through the application of "reason," universal peace would prevail, the president indicated plainly that, in his belief, the time had not yet come to abandon the principle of protective armament.

"Though ultimately I believe peace will prevail," he said, "I have too much knowledge of the history of mankind and too much experience with the traits of human nature to dare assert that we shall never again be engaged in war."

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank Rev. Campbell and singers of the Second U. P. church, also relatives, neighbors and the many friends for their kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral offerings through the death of our dear son and brother, Lewis Earl.

East Will Sizzle Through Friday, is Weather Man's Tip

WASHINGTON, June 3.—High temperatures will continue, at least through Friday, in the eastern states, the United States weather bureau stated today.

Fair weather will prevail generally, but there will be local thundershowers in the lower lake region, northern New York and northern New England.

While the eastern states sweltered, frosts were reported from Washington and Oregon.

School Orchestra Members to Attend Kiwanis Luncheon

Members of the high school orchestra and Ralph Johnson, director, will be guests of the Kiwanis club at the noon luncheon meeting in the Larkins annex Thursday.

A program of musical numbers will be given by the orchestra following the luncheon. The attendance prize will be furnished by Robert Parker, Chester real estate and insurance dealer.

An inter city meeting of the Wellsville and East Liverpool clubs will be held here Thursday evening, June 11. The program will be under the direction of the Wellsville Kiwanians.

CIRCUS' 24-HOUR MAN IS IN CITY

The "twenty-four hour man" for the John Robinson circus arrived in the city this morning to complete arrangements for the show which will exhibit here Friday.

Afternoon and evening exhibitions will be given at the Columbian park, East End. Because of the lack of railroad trackage in East End, the circus train, consisting of 30 cars, will be unloaded at the foot of Walnut street.

The circus comes to this city from Latrobe, Pa., where it will exhibit Thursday.

AUTO DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Hubert Chambers, of East End, will face Mayor Charles Brown tonight upon a charge of passing a street car while it was discharging passengers. Chambers, who was arrested by Patrolman McFarland, is alleged to have driven past a Pleasant Heights car, while it was stopped on Dresden avenue at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was released on his own recognizance.

GEORGE CHANCEY IS FINED $500

George Chancey, fireman for the American Vitrified Products company, was arrested at his home near Kountz avenue, east of Wellsville, by Turnkey William Cline and Special Officer Walter Torrence last night upon a warrant sworn to by Chief of Police Hugh McDermott, charging him with selling intoxicating liquors.

Chancey was fined $500 and costs by Mayor Brown. He made arrangements to pay.

FACES TWO COUNTS, ONE DISMISSED

Justice P. V. Mackall dismissed a charge of carrying concealed weapons, filed against Roy Justice, of Klondyke by Mrs. Jennie Eckert, a neighbor at a hearing last night. Insufficient evidence was produced to warrant a conviction, the court ruled.

Justice was fined $5 and costs upon a charge of assault and battery to which he pleaded guilty. Mrs. Eckert charged that he had struck her son, John Mills.

Masonic Lodgemen Plan Beaver Visit Thursday, June 11

Members of East Liverpool lodge No. 681, F. & A. M., will make a return visit to St. James lodge No. 457, F. & A. M., of Beaver, Thursday evening, June 11.

The trip probably will be made in a special car leaving the Broadway terminal at 6:30 o'clock. A large delegation of the Beaver lodgemen came here last fall to attend a meeting of the local Masons.

Former Grid Star Killed, Six Injured In Auto Wreck

DETROIT, June 3. — Herbert C. York, 24, former football star at Fordham University, was killed and six other men were injured, five probably fatally, today when their speeding automobile crashed into an enclosed safety zone at Grand River and West Warren avenue, and overturned.

HUSBAND DENIES MURDER CHARGE

CINCINNATI, June 3—William Davis 40, an itinerant preacher, today waived extradition and will go back to Nashville, where he is wanted in connection with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Ada Davis, who was found in the Cumberland river Saturday with her throat cut. Davis declares his innocence. Nashville detectives are now on their way here.

DEATH ROLL

Infant Godwin.

Funeral services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Godwin, of Newell, were held this afternoon in the Miller funeral home, West Sixth street. Rev. Fisher, in charge. Burial was made in Riverview cemetery.

Police Ban Riding On Running Boards Of Motor Cars Here

Riding the running boards of automobiles is tabooed here.

As the result of the fatal automobile accident on Harvey avenue, East End, last Thursday, in which Harold Purdy was the victim, Chief of Police Hugh McDermott announced today that persons riding on the running boards of automobiles would be arrested.

Purdy, alleged to have been riding on the running board of an automobile, stepped off in front of another car driven by Charles Van Meter.

"It's a dangerous practice and must be stopped or arrests will be made," said McDermott. "Better walk along the sidewalk in safety than ride on a running board endangering your life."

Women Offer Services.

SHANGHAI, China, June 3.—Two hundred members of the American Woman's club, headed by Irene Corbally Kahn, formerly a New York newspaper woman, and Viola Smith, formerly of San Francisco and now assistant to the United States trade commissioner, today organized a women's auxiliary and defense battalion to take an active part in the military movement to quell the rebellion of Chinese laborers and students.

The women tendered their services to the military authorities for emergency duty as chauffeurs of lorries and dispatch cars and as nurses, telephone operators, clerks and cooks.

The club has started a census of its membership with a view to placing every available American woman at work, thus relieving men for the defense patrols.

ligious education, known as the East Liverpool Council of Religious Education, is to be formed. All religious education of the city, which would be carried on in a co-operative way, will be placed in the hands of this council—such as institutes, teachers' training classes, Daily Vacation Bible schools, etc. A director of religious education will be hired to give his or her full time to this work. It is proposed to secure the best director possible—one who has been thoroughly trained in the pedagogy of religious instruction.

"The biggest and most outstanding ambition of the council will be to give religious instruction to the children in the public schools. A curriculum will be worked out by a committee of which the superintendent of the public schools will be a member. It is proposed to begin in a modest way. The director of religious education to go from building to building, giving one period of instruction each week to as many grades as can be reached. The director is to be selected by a committee appointed by the council of which the superintendent of the public schools shall also be a member.

"The entire expense of the work will be taken care of by the East Liverpool Council of Religious Education, so that not one cent of the taxpayers' money will be appropriated to this work. Mr. Geiger, the retiring superintendent, has assured the association that the plan will not create embarrassment on the part of the schools in providing time and room for the work.

"It is further proposed that no child will be permitted to enroll in any of the classes for religious instruction without presenting a signed request of the parents. A complete constitution and a code of by-laws are being formulated of which this clause will be a part, so it will be clearly seen no particular type of instruction is to be forced on the pupils of the city. It might be said at this point that this movement is an attempt on the part of the Ministerial association to meet a long felt need in giving week-day religious instruction in a way that will compare favorably with the best methods of secular education.

"The public is, of course, acquainted with the fact that several of the churches have been giving religious instruction during the present school year once a week to the children who elected to come to the churches. This method has worked quite well. But the Ministerial association feels that the proposed new method will be far in advance for several reasons. First, the children will not lose valuable time in going to and from the churches. Second, it will be much easier to adopt a unified plan of instruction. Third, the children will be provided the most modern and approved method of instruction given by a thoroughly trained teacher.

"The Ministerial association is earnest in its desire to be fair and liberal to all concerned and to bring to the children of the city such a class and quality of instruction as shall make them good citizens—having high respect and regard for the splendid tradition and laws of our country. This plan is already in vogue in many Ohio cities where it is working splendidly. The Ministerial association agrees with the last issue of the Literary Digest which prints the following:

"'All creeds are agreed in desiring to bring up their children in the knowledge and love of God, but they have been too much hedged about with doctrinal fears to agree on any one method of providing religious training for the young. The Constitution provides free a public counter at which all children, of any creed or none, may sit for their secular instruction, but for their general and inclusive religious training no means upon which all can agree has yet been devised. And here, it is pointed out, is the paradox—that the jails are filling with juveniles while their elders are disputing as to the best method of giving their children such religious training as will at least keep them out of jail. It is generally agreed that the home is failing in its chief function, and the few millions of children reached by the Protestant Sunday schools receive religious instruction on the average only half an hour a week. Catholic and Jewish children fare better in this respect. Dogmas remain intact, but, we are told, children go to the devil.

"'Some recent horrible examples, which have received their full measure of publicity, and the alarming figures on juvenile delinquency have focused the attention of observers on the fact that the moral side of education is completely overshadowed by the secular. It is true that in some states, notably Ohio, Indiana and Kansas, the method of setting aside a part of the secular school day for religious instruction by the several denominational organizations is being tried with success. All told, 1,000 cities are now using this plan. In Grand Rapids, Mich., it is provided that the educational equipment of the church schools must be approved by the superintendent of schools. Against this is the fact that in several other states school officials have held that taking time out of public school hours for religious instruction is illegal.

"'Rabbi Samuel Schulman, addressing his own congregation in a New York synagog, expresses his belief, as he is quoted in the press, "that curtailing the public-school schedule for week-day religious instruction is the solution of the problem of the relation of religious education to our public-school system. But before this can be brought about, there must be a more comprehensive discussion, and there must be a better and more thorough organization of all the religious bodies in the city." Commenting on all this disagreement over the plan to give week-day religious instruction to children outside of school, the Washington Post declares, "it is for those who are raging against the plan to propose a practical alternative that will check the rising tide of juvenile crime—if they can. Thus far they have proposed nothing.'

"There has been much discussion in New York city, both pro and con, in regard to the week-day religious education. 'However,' says the Literary Digest, 'Protestant, Catholic and Jewish teachers at a meeting presided over by Cardinal Hayes, agreed that there should be week-day religious instruction in time taken from the school.'

"The above in a general way is the plan which the Ministerial association has asked the board of education to approve, and the association believes that its fairness and constructiveness cannot be questioned."

Do Your Own Thinking

ocean out yonder but it is "Little Stillwater" just the same.

One Sunday afternoon, two friends and myself were sitting on the bank of "little stillwater" and we conceived the idea of putting our names and addresses in a corked up bottle and throwing it into the stream, asking whoever found the botle to write us. We did this. After a few weeks I received a letter from a young lady who lived about four miles below us. I took the letter to my friends in great delight. They had not yet received an answer to their letters. Well, I wrote to the young lady. Then I received one from her saying she had never been fishing, as the letter had stated, and had found the bottle. Then I began to get wise. The two fellows had double-crossed me, one of them had written the letter. I told the young lady about it and we corresponded for some time. My two friends wondered about it all and were disappointed that they did not get the chance to give me the razz.

Keep Channel Clean.

Well, life is like "Little Stillwater." It begins back yonger in God's great hills; it reaches up to the sky; it comes out from God. "Trailing lights of glory do we come from God who is our home." It flows on through country hamlets, villages and town, where folk live. Children sit upon the bank of the stream. They bait their hooks and thrown them into the stream to see what they can catch. They write messages and cork them up in bottles and thrown them into the stream to see what answers they will bet back. That stream widens out. It emerges into greater streams. It shoots out into the great gulf. It becomes a part of the ocean, either to carry icebergs or the flowers and warm-kiss of the tropics. It flows through places where man has never gone and "by faith we see afar." That stream only cuts its way once, that is all. If I can help you to keep that channel clean, I will have done much.

I congratulate you that you are. I do not know why you are. do not know much of anything. Neither do you. When you see a man discoursing on what he knows, write him down as a man who does not know much of anything. When you find a man with a panacea for all human ilis, pass him up. He is not safe to follow. Some philosophers have told us there is no reality in anything. we just think we are. The whole thing is an hallucination. Well, of course I do not believe that. If we are deceived, then there must be something to deceive, there must be something to halucinate. Then I will have to revise what I have said. I do know something. I know that I am. I know that this which is standing before you tonight is no dream; it is no joke. It may be to you but it is not to me. But that is about all I do know. Oh, of course we have a lot of theories, many of which I think are right. But who has the last word concerning these? Where is the last Court of Appeals? It is not around here anywhere. Then why do I congratulate you that you are alive? Because it is glorious to be. This is a great game. We have a great riddle to solve and that is always interesting. There is something within us that is restless, something seeking to express itself. This is something that is reaching out after something that is bigger and holier. I do not know what this something is but I know that it is there. We call it an ego; a life, a soul. I do not know what it is but I do know that it is wonderful to be in the surge of it. I also know that it is worth while. There is a great purpose back of it. There is a great destiny ahead. There is a great Mind and Heart over it all. That great Mind and Heart can be sensed. Its thoughts and powers can be appropriated. So that does not leave much of my first statement, does it? I guess I know a good deal. But after all I do not know much of anything, in the sense that it can be demonstrated. That is what I mean.

So I am not going to come to you tonight with an itemized program to be followed. I am not going to tell you to go to the drug-store to buy your beauty. I am not going to tell you to practice Walter Camp's daily dozen and you will be strong. I am not going to tell you that you have to improve your memory so as to have self confidence, nor to instruct you in so-called ethics of business to insure success. There are a lot of theories, which if practiced, would be much like a man trying to lift himself by his bootstraps. In none of these am I interested now. There are certain great fundamentals which if taken seriously lead to success. These I want to point out.

Don't Be a Parrot.

Some one has said one wholesome vigorous thought would put the average person to sleep. That is, it would be such an unusual thing, the individual would be so exhausted he would fall asleep. The first thing I want to do by way of keeping the channel clear, so the stream of life will not be obstructed is "Learn to think and think for yourselves." Not many people do that. This is an age of hand-me-down clothes. I do not suppose there are many tailor-made suits in this room. Well this is a day of hand-me-down thoughts, too. Hand-me-down suits are not bad. I wear them frequently. But hand-me-down thoughts are a tragedy. Hand-me down thoughts will kill. They will soon reduce people to the mediocrity of nominalism. God has put a brain in the uppermost place of our being, and the most important thing of that brain is to think. God has ordained us to think and when we let some one else do it for us, we are defeating the purpose of God. Some people cannot render a judgment on religion until their religious paper has spoken, or on politics until their favorite politician has announced himself. Some people wait for the Literary Digest to come before they know what they believe. Mr. Emerson, in one of his essays, gives the advice, "If you think a thing, speak out and say it before anyone else does." It does not do one much good to say a thing after some one else has said it. When a man has a thought and expresses it before any one else has said it, he feels like a free man, otherwise he is a parrot or a slave.

A great deal of the attempted effort of our day is based either on exclamatory suppression or exclamatory acceleration. The politician talks about vested interests on one hand and the spirit of the dangerous red on the other. Talk about vested interests on the one hand and there is a class that go wild in their approval and they cry, "Down with the autocrats." Talk about the reds and there is another class that goes just as wild and they cry, "Down with the agitator." But the point is, what are our vested interests? Are the men who have built our railroads, and tunnelled our hills and spanned our streams, built our mills and sailed our lakes and oceans, invested interests? If so, are we against them because they have done these things? If so would we be content to do without these things? Then the "red agitator," who is he anyway? Maybe the agitator of today will be the statesman of tomorrow. The man who advocated the recall and referendum a few years ago was an agitator; today he is a statesman. The man who a few years ago advocated government control of public utilities was an agitator, today he is a statesman.

Who are the great men of the past? Well, there is a long list of them. But we could answer the question by saying the men who have taken time to think. The popular man may be the man of the masses, but the leader, the discoverer of the new day is the man of individuality. We may say this is the day of group movement and group action. That may be but the day of individual leadership has not passed and it never will. There is an old saying in Latin, "Vox Populi, Vox Dei," the voice of the people is the voice of God. There is a big sense in which that is true. There is a bigger sense in which it is not true. The people proclaimed Jesus as King and gave Him a royal welcome to the city, and then in a few days they cried, "Crucify Him." They were creatures of circumstances. You cannot trust the masses to usher in a new day. They are interested too much in the ribald. It is said that Diogenes, the Greek cynic philosopher, was once discoursing on the streets of Athens with great eloquence on the "Beauties of Virtue," when one by one his auditors began to leave him. He suddenly broke out in a ribald drinking song, then the people began to flock back. Which will draw the larger crowd, some of the old orations or modern jazz? "Yes, we have no Bananas" is better than "Handel's Messiah." An Englishman came to this country and when he went back home he was asked about American prosperity. He said, "Everything seems to be very prosperous in America, except they do not seem to have any banas over there." Which is the more attractive, paintings of the old masters or the modern, nude sensual art of the Police Gazette or the cover page of Physical Culture? Go to the movie operators and ask them what kind of films make them the most money. The old story of Diogenes I rather think would be true today.

Masses Do Not Think.

Now, I suppose if you want to enjoy life, probably you had better not learn to think. That is if you want to enjoy life in the popular sense. If you do much thinking, you will probably have much trouble, because the masses do not think, and a thinker usually finds himself going counter to the masses. The masses drift with the stream, the thinker crooses the course of the stream. The masses have stood back of every delusion and have tried to block every movement of progress. The masses strenuously objected to the discovery that the world was round. When Jesus said "God is love" and not arrogant hatred, and that turning the other cheek by going the second mile would defeat your enemy, and then proceeded to do it, the masses said 'Crucify Him." It was the masses that kept liberty back from the slaves. It was the masses that burned the Salem witches. Galileo had to pay the price for saying that the world was round. They dragged Wendell Phillips through the streets of Boston for championing the cause of the Negro. They silenced more than one man's voice who believed in temperance, and some they silenced forever. Read of the French Revolution and see how after the mob had overthrown the foundations of human government, they turned their guns on high heaven and cried, "We must have no monarch in heaven if we would have none on earth." So they clothed a common prostitute in the vestments of a priestess and worshipped her as the goddess of Reason. Now in the midst of these things, if a man dares to think he must face the mob. Some one has said, "A popular idol is a popular mirror." What people really admire in their favorites is that they see themselves reflected. The reason that there are so many mirrors is that folks enjoy looking at themselves. Every woman has her vanity case and I am told that some men are beginning to carry them. Ye gods, folks who live in glass houses ought not to throw stones. We all like to stand before the mirror. But a mirror never threw back to a man anything but what the man wants to see. He shuts his eyes to all the rest. But a great leader, a great patriot throws back the reality; the thing we do not want. Then we take up stones and break the mirror.

So to think you must have courage; the courage of your convictions. Sup-

JUNIORS HONOR SENIOR CLASS

Entertain at Annual Banquet and Dance.

Amid a moss and palm-tree setting that revealed in true-to-detail style all the splendor of a romantic tropical scene, students of the junior and senior classes of the high school danced and dined last night in the school gymnasium on the occasion of the annual Junior-Senior banquet on Friday night of 54 members of the senior class, and for charm, variety and decorative effects far surpassed other festivities of the closing month of school.

The elaborate Florida setting in the gymnasium represented the efforts of students over several days of work. The gymnasium ceiling was practically lost in the heavy covering of Florida moss, cleverly suspended by student workers to form a green tinted canopy under which the evening's program took place. Around the floor, a background of shrubbery, with imitation orange trees, furthered the Florida effect. Small water ponds dotted the indoor "landscape." And adding greatly to the general scheme were two live alligators, small ones, which disported in one of the "ponds."

Dinner was served by ladies of the First Christian church. Following dinner, a program of toasts was given by students. Miss Helen Vernia capably enacted the role of toastmistress.

Responses were made as follows:

"Salutations"—Helen Vernia.
"Excelsior"—Paul Hannahs.
"Now, Where"—George Bell.
"Ideals"—Charles Couts.
"Optimism"—Virginia Joyce.
"Recollections"—Superintendent S. E. Daw.

During the interval between the dinner and dance, students were entertained in the auditorium by a male quartet. The singers included Ralph Marriman, Don Miller, Paul Kessell and Harold Driggs, accompanied by Mrs. A. R. McCombs.

Stillwell's orchestra provided music for the dance.

AUDITOR FACES SALARY PROBLEM

Meeting the payroll of the safety department is a problem confronting City Auditor Fred Eckfeld.

Announcing to council members at their semi-monthly session last night that the safety fund is at low ebb and that the prospect of obtaining money with which to bolster the treasury is excedingly dark at the present time, Auditor Eckfeld asserted that far the time being at least, he is at a loss to know where the pay roll funds are coming from.

Approximately $225 was collected from fines and other sources by the police department last month, it was shown by the report of Mayor James S. Barnes.

Two petitions asking the city to relocate as many alleys were read to council. Residents in the vicinity of Riverside avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, seek a regulation allayway through from Eleventh to Twelfth street, between Riverside avenue and Main. Properties, it was said, were encroaching on the city's right of way.

Property owners in Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets are asking similar action on the part of the city on an alley between those two streets.

The alley problems were referred to the street and light committee, Service-Safety Director A. P. Dennis, Solicitor George Ingram, and this committee was given power to employ an engineer to assist them.

A communication from residents in the Central park district, who assert that recent heavy explosions which have been occurring shortly after 6 o'clock for the past several days have been annoying an invalid boy, was read to council. Mayor James S. Barnes was asked to investigate.

LADIES OF ELKS CLOSE PROGRAM

Officers of the Ladies of the Elks today announced that the lodge organization has concluded its socials for the present season.

An afternoon party originally had been scheduled for tomorrow, but as a result of the torrid weather of the past few days, the meeting has been cancelled.

ALUMNI-HIGH DANCE TOMORROW

Arrangements have been completed for the Alumni-High school dance which will be held tomorrow night in the high school auditorium, under auspices of the school athletic association.

The dance program will start at 8:30 o'clock. The Harmony Kings orchestra will provide the music. The dance is for the benefit of school athletics.

Entertain at Bridge Tea.

Misses Elsie and Pauline Berg entertained last evening at bridge tea in their home in Tenth and Center streets.

Four tables were in play. Irises and roses were used in the decorations. Two-course dinner was served by the Misses Berg, assisted by Mrs. F. A. Musser.

FIFTY CLOWNS WITH ROBINSON CIRCUS WHICH COMES HERE JUNE 5

Clowns, exactly 50 of them, are one of the big features of the John Robinson Circus, which will exhibit in East Liverpool on Friday, June 5. They will be active in the rings, on the stages, and also the hippodrome track throughout the afternoon and night performances.

Circuses might dispense with daring and nerve-racking aerial acts, unique and difficult balancing acts, stirring races and some animal acts, but they could not possibly endure without the clown. The clown is one cog in the circus organization that defies all efforts to prune out the unnecessary, because the clown has been a part of the circus since the early days of the wagon show. And he will remain in his niche, regardless of what the future holds in store for the circus.

Clowns interest every class of circus patrons. True, they tickle, the "kiddies" first and impress them lastingly, but the grown-ups are unable to suppress a smile when the "funny crew" in chalk white and fancy weird dress, parade around the arena, stopping only long enough to stage a comic bit of business.

The John Robinson management claims that its young regiment of clowns offer all that is good in the old method of clowning, and also have not overlooked the new features, that are to be seen nowhere else in the circus world.

Y. M. C. A. Will Take Stock At International Conclave

600 Delegates From United States and Abroad Will Discuss Work of Organization at June Meeting.

NEW YORK, June.—Closer co-operation the churches, more extended Christian work and higher standards of leadership are given as some of the principal objectives of the Young Men's Christian association, which will hold its third international conference on boys' work at Estes park, Colo., June 4 to 12, inclusive. The last conference was in 1920.

Six hundred lay and employed workers will attend the assembly in the mountains, seventy miles from Denver, it was announced by the National council headquarters here.

Meanwhile, through an elaborate survey in thirty-one of the forty-eight states, the Hawaiian islands and Canada, the association has been taking stock of itself, with a view to increasing its usefulness.

Thus, according to Albert R. Kilmer, of Brooklyn, chairman of the program committee, the association has discovered within its ranks a present tendency to do "the easier, short-time types of service on behalf of the churches."

In view of the oft-repeated statement that the Y. M. C. A. is the "right arm of the Church," the association will inquire whether it is co-operating adequately with religious bodies, and whether it is receiving due co-operation from the churches in return. A feeling prevails that there is room for improvement on both sides.

More effort needs to be made in the interest of poor boys, said Mr. Klemer, basing his statement on the discovery, through the recent questionnaire, that 60 per cent of the boys holding memberships come from the better class of homes.

The question of whether the Y. M. C. A. is achieving its avowed objective—the spread of Chirstianity—is likely to occupy a considerable portion of the time of the assembly, because there are many within the association who wish to abandon the policy of requiring all who desire to use the building priviliges to "buy" membership.

These feel that the Y. M. C. A. would came nearer to achieving its spiritual goal if membership were divided into two classes—the "pay" membership, entitling the holder to use of the "Y" building and its equipment, and the volunteer membership, entitling him to what is known in the association as "the privilege of service."

The Y. M. C. A. workers, including secretaries both in the field and at national headquarters, and many of the 100,000 lay officers are insistent in urging higher standards for secretarial work, and are likely to make this a leading issue at the assembly.

At the conference the association hopes to lay the foundation for an extensive, if gradual, advance in standards, organization and effort.

A list of prominent secretarial and lay delegates to the assembly, made public today, includes: Dr. Basil Mathews, of Geneva, Switzerland, noted author and member of the World's committee of the "Y"; Professor William Heard Kilpatrick, of the Teachers' College, Columbia University, sometimes called "the greatest classroom teacher in America;" Miss Margaret Slattery, author and teacher; Kirby Page, world traveler and writer on economic and peace problems; Professor Harrison Sacket Elliott, of Union Theological Seminary, New York, and the Rev. Dr. Ernest Freeman Tittle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston, Ill., selected by the Federal Council of Churches as one of the twenty-five most influential ministers in the United States.

New Motorized Patrol Wagon Remains Idle Through Chiefs Order

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind.—Although the city boasts of a brand-new motorized patrol wagon, it remains idle while the policemen march with their prisoners afoot to the station.

All because of an edict of John E. Cole, chief of police.

"Walk until you learn to drive," he ordered.

And the five cops on the force walk.

"I'm the only one on the force who can drive the car, and I'm going to walk, too, until I teach my men how to drive," Cole said.

BUCYRUS, June—Thirteen guns and three revolvers are included in the personal property of the late William Nelson, Jefferson township. His will provides each of his five sons shall receive two of these weapons and one each shall go to his three sons-in-law. The balance of the estate is bequeathed to the widow during her lifetime.

Flapper Traced to Age of Mechanics By College Professor

BERKELEY, Cal., June.—Washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric irons, the delicatessen, the cannery and the dairy are responsible for the development of the flapper and the jelly bean, according to Dr. Paul Cadman, dean of men and assistant professor of economics at the University of California.

Despite the general belief that the flapper and the jelly bean have no acquaintance with these labor-saving devices, Dr. Cadman declares that there is a scientific basis for blaming this mechanistic age for these types of youth.

"Young people have now no home responsibilities and seek thrills away from the home, which they consider merely as a place in which to eat and sleep," Dr. Cadman asserts.

"Children have too much leisure time and consequently get into trouble. I'm sorry for them because they are the victims of the mechanistic age."

As a remedy for this condition of things Dr. Cadman suggests that parents by precept and example interest their children in seeking truth and beauty.

JUNIORS HONOR SENIOR CLASS

Entertain at Annual Banquet and Dance.

Amid a moss and palm-tree setting that revealed in true-to-detail style all the splendor of a romantic tropical scene, students of the junior and senior classes of the high school danced and dined last night in the school gymnasium on the occasion of the annual Junior-Senior banquet on Friday night of 54 members of the senior class, and for charm, variety and decorative effects far surpassed other festivities of the closing month of school.

The elaborate Florida setting in the gymnasium represented the efforts of students over several days of work. The gymnasium ceiling was practically lost in the heavy covering of Florida moss, cleverly suspended by student workers to form a green tinted canopy under which the evening's program took place. Around the floor, a background of shrubbery, with imitation orange trees, furthered the Florida effect. Small water ponds dotted the indoor "landscape." And adding greatly to the general scheme were two live alligators, small ones, which disported in one of the "ponds."

Dinner was served by ladies of the First Christian church. Following dinner, a program of toasts was given by students. Miss Helen Vernia capably enacted the role of toastmistress.

Responses were made as follows:

"Salutations"—Helen Vernia.

"Excelsior"—Paul Hannahs.

"Now, Where"—George Bell.

"Ideals"—Charles Couts.

"Optimism"—Virginia Joyce.

"Recollections"—Superintendent S. E. Daw.

During the interval between the dinner and dance, students were entertained in the auditorium by a male quartet. The singers included Ralph Marriman, Don Miller, Paul Kessell and Harold Driggs, accompanied by Mrs. A. R. McCombs.

Stillwell's orchestra provided music for the dance.

Saving The Banking System

The efforts of the United States Chamber of Commerce to show the merits of the federal reserve banking system will be approved by nearly all the business interests, and by a majority of other interests.

It is well that the public should be enabled to realize exactly what this banking system has done for the country, and what its particular merits are as compared with previous systems. It is conceivable that adverse sentiment, if it continued and grew, might be ready to overthrow the system by the time the charter expires, in 1934. And that, as most of the leading bankers, merchants and industrialists believe, would be a calamity.

Whatever the faults of the system, they hold that events, especially the test of the big war and its aftermath of unsettlement, have proved the fundamental stability, adequacy and democracy of this system. They point out that it has shown itself equal to unexampled public and private burdens, handling vast loans, repayments and expenditures without disturbance of business or credit, decentralizing national finance and distributing money and credit throughout the country better than was ever done before, while keeping the dollar stable.

Opposition to the federal reserve system in some sections and among some classes is not unnatural. It comes mainly from farmers and farming sections. Rural critics charge this system with responsibility for most of their financial troubles in recent years, especially for their inability to borrow all they wanted and for the ruinous prices they had to accept for their products. Figures seem to show, however, that the rural sections have had their share of national cash and credit, as compared with their share of the national wealth and business, and often more than that.

The opposition is likely to melt away with the coming of more satisfactory rural conditions, already begun. General publicity of all the available facts should help along the process.

Air Adulteration

Complaint is made to the department of commerce that ice cream is adulterated with air. The secretary of one of the state departments of weights and measures says that, on an average, one-fifth of the stuff is air. The people of his state, he explains, pay $66,000,000 a year for ice cream, and so are losing a lot of money, even if they don't know it.

The question, therefore, arises whether air may properly be classed as an adulterant, in ice cream. And if so, whether the same principle should apply to other food stuffs.

Come to think of it, whipped cream has a lot of air in it, too. Also charlotte russe, and angel cake, and pop-overs, and the meringue on lemon pie. Somebody should start a crusade to squeeze the air out of all these things, along with ice cream, and sell everything by weight instead of volume.

Mobilization Day

The general staff of the army wanted to hold a defense day mobilization in connection with Armistice Day. It was a rather natural combination, as practical military men saw it. But it looked different to officials and private citizens concerned with sentiment and diplomacy. There was a public protest of considerable dimensions.

"It is all right to mobilize for national defense," people said, "but why mobilize on the day when the nations laid down their arms? That day means peace."

The president thought so, too, and accordingly directed that November 11 should be kept sacred to peace, and that if Mobilization Day is to be joined with any national holiday, it should be celebrated on the Fourth of July. Which seems a quite appropriate combination.

A Long-haired Court

A good many English women, and some American women, wish now that they hadn't bobbed their hair. Queen Mary says no bobbed heads are wanted at court. Women ambitious to appear at royal functions must cover their bobs or stay away.

As a result, switches are in demand. Every woman presented will manage, somehow, to present an apparently full head of hair.

Men, however, needn't laugh. There was a time when no man dared appear at court without a wig.

And the modern women may live in hope. If the Prince of Wales marries and ascends the throne, it's a safe bet that England will have a bobbed queen.

These fine spring days the thrifty home-owner is working and saving harder than ever, to get enough of the mortgage paid off so he can buy a new car.

"Labor—all labor is noble and holy." And spring fever is a generous willingness to let other people enjoy the blessedness of it.

Anybody who has never seen Niagara had better hurry. Scientists say it will have eaten its way back to Erie and disappeared in 20,000 years.

A listener wonders sometimes how the radio orchestras themselves can tell one jazz tune from another.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 3.—It is the hoary argument that the fault with small towns is that everybody knows your business. Yet I do not believe there is any place in the world where so much about your business is known as in New York.

The New Yorker must find a more secretive place than a mere closet to hide the family skeleton. People who have never met know all about each other—the good along with the bad. And I do not believe that anywhere can a few threads be woven into such a colorful fabric of fancy as here.

I have hailed so many of these fabrications that I have stopped my ears to gossip. A Wall Street capitalist dined with a strange lady in a restaurant off the beaten path down town. He saw no one he knew. The next day bridge and tea tables crackled with gossip.

Happily married for years, he was now permanently off the familiar reservation. It came to his ears and slimy anonymous letters reached his wife. The real story! The lady was his wife's sister. She met him down town because he was tied up at his office until late.

They were on their way to a hospital to visit his wife and her sister who were ill. "If my wife had happened at the time to be out-of-town and the circumstances were just as innocent," he said, "a serious rift in my domestic affairs might have resulted."

There are very few theatrical and motion picture stars to whom gossip has not pointed as drug addicts. The percentage is so small as to be negligible. To this day the story persists that two very rich men died in a New York hotel of wood alcohol poisoning. They really died of pneumonia.

The head of a big corporation was being fitted for reading glasses. Due to a lotion dropped in his eyes, he was asked to wear smoked glasses the next day. That night three reporters phoned him for confirmation of a ridiculous rumor that a scored woman had hurled acid in his face.

Perhaps the gruffest and yet beloved stage director on Broadway is Julian Mitchell, a veteran. He is almost stone deaf but he directs singing and dancing numbers. He receives the tempo through vibrations although he does not hear a note. One of Broadway's most accomplished young dancers cannot hear a note.

With the sale of the Astor mansion to a young immigrant it is predicted the ornate strip on upper Fifth avenue known as Millionaire's Row will be no more in five years. A number of de-luxe apartment houses now dot the district. Lower Fifth has two five and ten cent stores and two white tile restaurants. And slowly but surely the fashionable five o'clock parade is moving to Park avenue. Sic gloria mundi—and a stack of wheats!

In the Park Avenue promenade one often sees a clear cut cameo out of the 90's. He is as erect as the eagle and as precise as Thomas A. Edison's signature. A square topped derby tops the great shock of silver white hair and the walking stick has a gold knob. When I see him I somehow thing of the race of the Natchez and Mississippi. And for once I was right. He was the pilot of a Mississipi river steamer at one time.

I do not believe anything excites the New York curosity so much as the hoisting of a safe from the sidewalk to some floor of a building. It is usually almost necessary to ring for reserves. I was watching this sort of operation near the Belmont the other afternoon. A policeman kept prodding the crowd to move on. A blind accordian player strolled directly under the safe and began playing until led away. Coins were showered into his cup. And in the midst of the confusion I had my pocket picked again for the fourth time in this wicked city. I'm even going to stop running after fire wagons in the future.

Need for Half-Cent Coin.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3. — With wheat at $1.00 a bushel, taking into consideration freight and present operating costs in the baking industry, bread should wholesale at eight cents per pound loaf. With wheat at $1.55 per bushel, the wholesale price of bread should be nine cents per pound.

Or, to state the problem in another way, a barrel of flour yields on an average 290 one-pound loaves of bread. With an advance or a decrease in the price of flour of $2.90 per barrel, the baker can adjust his business by a corresponding advance or reduction of one cent in the price of a loaf of bread.

Smaller fluctuations in the cost of wheat or flour can not be offset by similar changes in the price of bread because the latter must be at least one cent, it being impossible to fix a price with a fraction of a cent. Should the bread price be increased or decreased a full cent the baker will get too much or too little.

Thus the arguments showing the need for a half-cent coin are summed up and the prospect is presented of another drive on congress for legis-

Reduce your ankles and legs with DR FOLTS soap

.....Dr. Folts soap is the up-to-date way to reduce arms, legs, hips, double chin.

Why should you turn to diets, exercise or drugs—now that a positive and ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS EXTERNAL way to melt excess fat from any part of the body without affecting other parts, is offered to you? To quickly get ideal slender lines all you need to do is to wash every night from five to ten minutes the parts you wish to reduce, with a good lather of DR. FOLTS' SOAP (but be sure to get the original reducing soap—DR. FOLTS'. Avoid imitations, "so-called just as good"). Dr. Folts' Soap, the original reducing soap, has for the last two years proven that it could really reduce fat people.

This soap, as soon as applied, is absorbed by the tissues, and suppresses excessive fat without any possible chance of harming the most delicate skin. It has been found ideal to get rid of double chins, because the skin is not left flabby or wrinkled after the reducing. Fat men and women are now using this wonderful soap with amazing results. Reductions of several inches in hips and bust are of common occurrence every day. Try it yourself. Go to any good drug or department store, get DR. FOLTS' SOAP (beware of imitations). If your druggist is out of it, he can get it for you from his wholesaler, or you can send a check or money order direct to the Scientific Research Laboratories, 350 W. 31st St., N. Y. C. DR. FOLTS' SOAP sells for 50 c. a cake, three for $1.20.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3, 1925.

Saving The Banking System

The efforts of the United States Chamber of Commerce to show the merits of the federal reserve banking system will be approved by nearly all the business interests, and by a majority of other interests.

It is well that the public should be enabled to realize exactly what this banking system has done for the country, and what its particular merits are as compared with previous systems. It is conceivable that adverse sentiment, if it continued and grew, might be ready to overthrow the system by the time the charter expires, in 1934. And that, as most of the leading bankers, merchants and industrialists believe, would be a calamity.

Whatever the faults of the system, they hold that events, especially the test of the big war and its aftermath of unsettlement, have proved the fundamental stability, adequacy and democracy of this system. They point out that it has shown itself equal to unexampled public and private burdens, handling vast loans, repayments and expenditures without disturbance of business or credit, decentralizing national finance and distributing money and credit throughout the country better than was ever done before, while keeping the dollar stable.

Opposition to the federal reserve system in some sections and among some classes is not unnatural. It comes mainly from farmers and farming sections. Rural critics charge this system with responsibility for most of their financial troubles in recent years, especially for their inability to borrow all they wanted and for the ruinous prices they had to accept for their products. Figures seem to show, however, that the rural sections have had their share of national cash and credit, as compared with their share of the national wealth and business, and often more than that.

The opposition is likely to melt away with the coming of more satisfactory rural conditions, already begun. General publicity of all the available facts should help along the process.

Air Adulteration

Complaint is made to the department of commerce that ice cream is adulterated with air. The secretary of one of the state departments of weights and measures says that, on an average, one-fifth of the stuff is air. The people of his state, he explains, pay $66,000,000 a year for ice cream, and so are losing a lot of money, even if they don't know it.

The question, therefore, arises whether air may properly be classed as an adulterant, in ice cream. And if so, whether the same principle should apply to other food stuffs.

Come to think of it, whipped cream has a lot of air in it, too. Also charlotte russe, and angel cake, and pop-overs, and the meringue on lemon pie. Somebody should start a crusade to squeeze the air out of all these things, along with ice cream, and sell everything by weight instead of volume.

Mobilization Day

The general staff of the army wanted to hold a defense day mobilization in connection with Armistice Day. It was a rather natural combination, as practical military men saw it. But it looked different to officials and private citizens concerned with sentiment and diplomacy. There was a public protest of considerable dimensions.

"It is all right to mobilize for national defense," people said, "but why mobilize on the day when the nations laid down their arms? That day means peace."

The president thought so, too, and accordingly directed that November 11 should be kept sacred to peace, and that if Mobilization Day is to be joined with any national holiday, it should be celebrated on the Fourth of July. Which seems a quite appropriate combination.

A Long-haired Court

A good many English women, and some American women, wish now that they hadn't bobbed their hair. Queen Mary says no bobbed heads are wanted at ecurt. Women ambitious to appear at royal functions must cover their bobs or stay away.

As a result, switches are in demand. Every woman presented will manage, somehow, to present an apparently full head of hair.

Men, however, needn't laugh. There was a time when no man dared appear at court without a wig.

And the modern women may live in hope. If the Prince of Wales marries and ascends the throne, it's a safe bet that England will have a bobbed queen.

These fine spring days the thrifty home-owner is working and saving harder than ever, to get enough of the mortgage paid off so he can buy a new car.

"Labor—all labor is noble and holy." And spring fever is a generous willingness to let other people enjoy the blessedness of it.

Anybody who has never seen Niagara had better hurry. Scientists say it will have eaten its way back to Erie and disappeared in 20,000 years.

A listener wonders sometimes how the radio orchestras themselves can tell one jazz tune from another.

College publications are charged with "mental measles." Their stuff is rash, anyway.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 3.—It is the hoary argument that the fault with small towns is that everybody knows your business. Yet I do not believe there is any place in the world where so much about your business is known as in New York.

The New Yorker must find a more secretive place than a mere closet to hide the family skeleton. People who have never met know all about each other—the good along with the bad. And I do not believe that anywhere can a few threads be woven into such a colorful fabric of fancy as here.

I have hailed so many of these fabrications that I have stopped my ears to gossip. A Wall Street capitalist dined with a strange lady in a restaurant off the beaten path down town. He saw no one he knew. The next day bridge and tea tables crackled with gossip.

Happily married for years, he was now permanently off the familiar reservation. It came to his ears and slimy anonymous letters reached his wife. The real story! The lady was his wife's sister. She met him down town because he was tied up at his office until late.

They were on their way to a hospital to visit his wife and her sister who were ill. "If my wife had happened at the time to be out-of-town and the circumstances were just as innocent," he said, "a serious rift in my domestic affairs might have resulted."

There are very few theatrical and motion picture stars to whom gossip has not pointed as drug addicts. The percentage is so small as to be negligible. To this day the story persists that two very rich men died in a New York hotel of wood alcohol poisoning. They really died of pneumonia.

The head of a big corporation was being fitted for reading glasses. Due to a lotion dropped in his eyes, he was asked to wear smoked glasses the next day. That night three reporters phoned him for confirmation of a ridiculous rumor that a scored woman had hurled acid in his face.

Perhaps the gruffest and yet beloved stage director on Broadway is Julian Mitchell, a veteran. He is almost stone deaf but he directs singing and dancing numbers. He receives the tempo through vibrations although he does not hear a note. One of Broadway's most accomplished young dancers cannot hear a note.

Three Local Girls In 1925 Class at Ohio University

Marking the close of the one hundred and twenty-first year of Ohio University, Athens, 433 young men and women will be given college degrees and diplomas June 9. Of this class, Miss Elsie Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall of Wyoming Place, Pleasant Heights, will receive her diploma in kindergarten, while Misses Bertha and Mary Bennett, daughters of E. K. Bennett of Jackson street, will graduate in elementary education.

A commencement picnic will be served under the famous McGuffey elks on Alumni day, June 8, when alumni, seniors and their parents will be guests of the university. Other events on the three-day program include: Senior class farewell breakfast, alumni golf tournament, senior-alumni convocation on the campus, dedication of the new beech tree by the senior alumni-varsity baseball game, college play, campus illumination and serenade, alumni luncheon and the president's reception.

Dr. Fosdick will be guest of honor at the alumni reception, at which the address will be given by Mrs. Helen Reinherr Copeland of '05.

Birthday Anniversary Observed.

Celebrating the eleventh birthday anniversary of her daughter, Martha McKee, Mrs. Charles McKee delightfully entertained a group of young folks recently in her home in St. Clair avenue. Music and games were the pastimes. A luncheon was served by Mrs. McKee, assisted by her daughter, Miss Evelyn, and her mother, Mrs. J. T. Smith. Covers were arranged for 20 guests.

The honor guest was the recipient of many gifts.

C. D. of A. Card Party.

One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the card party given last evening in St. Aloysius school auditorium, West Fifth street, under the auspices of the Catholic Daughters of America. Euchre and five hundred were the diversions. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Celia Flesch, Miss Margaret Betts, Mrs. Bertha Garner, Miss Juaniata Harris, Mrs. Alice Capwell, Joseph Keuper, Joseph McKenna, John Hughes, John Scully and M. F. McKeever.

Luncheon was served by the social committee, of which Miss Rose McCarron was chairman.

Seattle Club Meeting.

Mrs. Sarah Kinsey will be hostess to the members of the Seattle club in her home in Almont street, Thursday evening.

Missionary Society Program.

Auxiliary No. 2, of the Young Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church, met last evening in the social rooms of the church. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Maud C. Bean. Mrs. Mary Faulk led the devotionals, and Miss Jessie White offered prayer. Mrs. S. E. Fisher was in charge of the foreign topic, "South America. Miss Edna Simms discussed the home topic, "Our Colored Neighbors in America." Mrs. William Baker gave a vocal solo, "Leave It With Him," by Ellis, accompanied by Miss Adda McLane. Mrs. W. T. Wilson reviewed the Mission study. A report from the recent convention was given by Mrs. Howard Blake.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Carl Faulk invited the society to attend a picnic at her summer home. The date will be announced later. Refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Mrs. Norman Pilgrim was chairman.

Meeting of Ladies of Eagles.

Ladies of the Eagles will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Eagles' temple, Broadway.

Pollyanna Club Session.

Members of the Pollyanna club will be entertained tonight in the home of Mrs. Edward Aley, of Alton street.

Mrs. Isaac Fryman Hostess.

A group of friends was entertained recently at the home of Mrs. Isaac Fryman, of Kountz avenue. The informal social hours were spent with music, dancing and games, after which a two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

Special guests included Miss Nina and Agnes Peterson, of Highland avenue.

Mrs. James Miles Entertains.

Members of the Heeneekis club were entertained recently by Mrs. James Miles in the home of Mrs. J. J. Grafton of Fourteenth street, Wellsville. A short business session was held, during which colors and pins for the club were selected. Music and games were the social diversions, after which a three-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Grafton. Miniature American flags were given as favors.

A special guest was Mrs. Nellie Moore.

The next meeting of the club will be held June 11, in the home of Mrs. William Croxall of Shadyside avenue.

Mission Society to Meet.

The Mission society of St. John's Lutheran church will meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the lecture room of the church.

Robinson Family Reunion.

The Robinson family reunion was held last evening at Tuscarawas park, Barberton. Sixty-eight members were present from East Liverpool, New Castle, Sebring, New England, W. Va.; Canton, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Chicago.

John Robinson, of Kenmore, was elected president of the reunion association; Mrs. Roxie Garland, of Barberton, secretary, and Mrs. Alva Nicholson, treasurer.

Among the guests from East Liverpool were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Robinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson and Miss Gladys Robinson, all of Sophia street, and Mr. and Mrs. William Frankhouser, of Pleasant Heights.

SOCIETY

Three Local Girls In 1925 Class at Ohio University

Marking the close of the one hundred and twenty-first year of Ohio University, Athens, 433 young men and women will be given college degrees and diplomas June 9. Of this class, Miss Elsie Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall of Wyoming Place, Pleasant Heights, will receive her diploma in kindergarten, while Misses Bertha and Mary Bennett, daughters of E. K. Bennett of Jackson street, will graduate in elementary education.

A commencement picnic will be served under the famous McGuffey elks on Alumni day, June 8, when alumni, seniors and their parents will be guests of the university. Other events on the three-day program include: Senior class farewell breakfast, alumni golf tournament, senior-alumni convocation on the campus, dedication of the new beech tree by the senior alumni-varsity baseball game, college play, campus illumination and serenade, alumni luncheon and the president's reception.

Dr. Fosdick will be guest of honor at the alumni reception, at which the address will be given by Mrs. Helen Reinherr Copeland of '05.

Birthday Anniversary Observed.

Celebrating the eleventh birthday anniversary of her daughter, Martha McKee, Mrs. Charles McKee delightfully entertained a group of young folks recently in her home in St. Clair avenue. Music and games were the pastimes. A luncheon was served by Mrs. McKee, assisted by her daughter, Miss Evelyn, and her mother, Mrs. J. T. Smith. Covers were arranged for 20 guests.

The honor guest was the recipient of many gifts.

C. D. of A. Card Party.

One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the card party given last evening in St. Aloysius school auditorium, West Fifth street, under the auspices of the Catholic Daughters of America. Euchre and five hundred were the diversions. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Celia Flesch, Miss Margaret Betts, Mrs. Bertha Garner, Miss Juaniata Harris, Mrs. Alice Capwell, Joseph Keuper, Joseph McKenna, John Hughes, John Scully and M. F. McKeever.

Luncheon was served by the social committee, of which Miss Rose McCarron was chairman.

Seattle Club Meeting.

Mrs. Sarah Kinsey will be hostess to the members of the Seattle club in her home in Almont street, Thursday evening.

Missionary Society Program.

Auxiliary No. 2, of the Young Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church, met last evening in the social rooms of the church. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Maud C. Bean. Mrs. Mary Faulk led the devotionals, and Miss Jessie White offered prayer. Mrs. S. E. Fisher was in charge of the foreign topic, "South America. Miss Edna Simms discussed the home topic, "Our Colored Neighbors in America." Mrs. William Baker gave a vocal solo, "Leave It With Him," by Ellis, accompanied by Miss Adda McLane. Mrs. W. T. Wilson reviewed the Mission study. A report from the recent convention was given by Mrs. Howard Blake.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Carl Faulk invited the society to attend a picnic at her summer home. The date will be announced later. Refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Mrs. Norman Pilgrim was chairman.

Meeting of Ladies of Eagles.

Ladies of the Eagles will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Eagles' temple, Broadway.

Pollyanna Club Session.

Members of the Pollyanna club will be entertained tonight in the home of Mrs. Edward Aley, of Alton street.

Mrs. Isaac Fryman Hostess.

A group of friends was entertained recently at the home of Mrs. Isaac Fryman, of Kountz avenue. The informal social hours were spent with music, dancing and games, after which a two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

Special guests included Miss Nina and Agnes Peterson, of Highland avenue.

Mrs. James Miles Entertains.

Members of the Heeneekis club were entertained recently by Mrs. James Miles in the home of Mrs. J. J. Grafton of Fourteenth street, Wellsville. A short business session was held, during which colors and pins for the club were selected. Music and games were the social diversions, after which a three-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Grafton. Miniature American flags were given as favors.

A special guest was Mrs. Nellie Moore.

The next meeting of the club will be held June 11, in the home of Mrs. William Croxall of Shadyside avenue.

Mission Society to Meet.

The Mission society of St. John's Lutheran church will meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the lecture room of the church.

Robinson Family Reunion.

The Robinson family reunion was held last evening at Tuscarawas park, Barberton. Sixty-eight members were present from East Liverpool, New Castle, Sebring, New England, W. Va.; Canton, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Chicago.

John Robinson, of Kenmore, was elected president of the reunion association; Mrs. Roxie Garland, of Barberton, secretary, and Mrs. Alva Nicholson, treasurer.

Among the guests from East Liverpool were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Robinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson and Miss Gladys Robinson, all of Sophia street, and Mr. and Mrs. William Frankhouser, of Pleasant Heights.

Plumber Thought he Needed New Pipes

"My stomach and intestines were always full of gas and I often had severe colic attacks. The pain and soreness caused me to think I neded a new set of pipes. Since taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy all this has disappeared and my only trouble now is to make enough dough to buy all the food I'd like to eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal muscus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including apppenditicis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Crime Increase Fills Japan's Jails; Business Depression is Blamed

TOKYO, June.—Japan's jails are full. The rapid increase in business depression, has resulted in an unprecedented number of prison sentences, and the result is that jail authorities are having a hard time trying to accommodate all the offenders the courts send to them. There are fifty-four prisons in the country, nad at the end of April there were 39,978 prisoners confined in them.

A million articles are lost annually on railroad trains in America.

State Soldiers Bonus Bureau Pays Claims Of World War Vets

ALBANY—Upward of 10,000 claims have been held up by the state soldiers' bonus bureau because of defective affidavits, no proof of residence and submission of more than one applicaiton, Captain Frank S. Harris, director, announced today.

An inventory to clean up all of these delayed claims has been ordered by Captain Harris. It is expected all of them will be settled within the next two months.

The bonus bureau has been functioning for nearly a year, and all claims except those held up because of defects have been paid.

Women

Who Have Found Driving a Tiring, Joyless Task—

now are turning to the car which makes driving a delightful, thrilling, healthful pastime.

Hundreds of women who find driving ordinary cars an unpleasant task, have turned or are turning to the Chrysler Six.

Hundreds of others who had actually given up driving because they found it too difficult, too nerve straining, have discovered that driving a Chrysler Six is a delightful pastime.

Hundreds of young women and girls—those whose pride is smartness, beauty, and alertness—are preferring the Chrysler to all other cars. In the most exclusive private schools, in the Junior League, in the smartest social groups, one Chrysler sells another—a growing preference that makes the youthful and red-blooded everywhere, aspire to Chrysler ownership.

Because of its ease of control—which women everywhere assure us is entirely unequaled—women have, in a special sense, made the Chrysler Six their car.

Never, say women who have driven it, has there been a car so easy to handle as the Chrysler Six.

It is extraordinarily convenient to manipulate into the average city parking space.

Of course, the unique delight which comes to a Chrysler Six owner every time she or he takes the wheel, is due not to a few features—but to every feature of this remarkably engineered car.

Every woman who loves driving but finds it a task should be delighted to learn the vast difference of driving the Chrysler Six. We are eager to send a car to your door for a demonstration, yourself at the wheel if you wish to experience the newest thrill in motoring.

Riding ease and roadability based on gross tonnage, extreme wheel base and generous springs, are costly and inconvenient luxuries.

The Chrysler Six is comparatively light in weight for economy and easy handling.

It combines roominess with compactness to afford easy parking. It rides as solidly as a two-ton car; it takes the bumps as easily as the ordinary Leviathans of the road.

And wherever the Chrysler goes all women admire its grace and beauty, and envy the delighted possessor of so smart a vehicle.

Women

Who Have Found Driving a Tiring, Joyless Task—

now are turning to the car which makes driving a delightful, thrilling, healthful pastime.

Hundreds of women who find driving ordinary cars an unpleasant task, have turned or are turning to the Chrysler Six.

Hundreds of others who had actually given up driving because they found it too difficult, too nerve straining, have discovered that driving a Chrysler Six is a delightful pastime.

Hundreds of young women and girls—those whose pride is smartness, beauty, and alertness—are preferring the Chrysler to all other cars. In the most exclusive private schools, in the Junior League, in the smartest social groups, one Chrysler sells another—a growing preference that makes the youthful and red-blooded everywhere, aspire to Chrysler ownership.

Because of its ease of control—which women everywhere assure us is entirely unequaled—women have, in a special sense, made the Chrysler Six their car.

Never, say women who have driven it, has there been a car so easy to handle as the Chrysler Six.

It is extraordinarily convenient to manipulate into the average city parking space.

Of course, the unique delight which comes to a Chrysler Six owner every time she or he takes the wheel, is due not to a few features—but to every feature of this remarkably engineered car.

Every woman who loves driving but finds it a task should be delighted to learn the vast difference of driving the Chrysler Six. We are eager to send a car to your door for a demonstration, yourself at the wheel if you wish to experience the newest thrill in motoring.

Riding ease and roadability based on gross tonnage, extreme wheel base and generous springs, are costly and inconvenient luxuries.

The Chrysler Six is comparatively light in weight for economy and easy handling.

It combines roominess with compactness to afford easy parking. It rides as solidly as a two-ton car; it takes the bumps as easily as the ordinary Leviathans of the road.

And wherever the Chrysler goes all women admire its grace and beauty, and envy the delighted possessor of so smart a vehicle.

BROOKE COUNTY MAN IS KILLED

Campbell Duvall, Farmer, Meets Death in Trolley Crash

Campbell Duvall, 61, farmer residing at Putnam's Ridge, Cross Creek, Brooke county, was killed almost instantly and his companion, James Cronin, 26, Wellsburg, sustained a broken arm and internal injuries last evening when an interurban car on the Wellsburg Steubenville division of the Wheeling Traction company crashed into a stalled truck being driven by the latter in the north end of Wellsburg. Cronin was removed to the Ohio Valley General hospital in Steubenville, where it is said he has a fighting chance for recovery.

Cronin and Duvall, it is said, were driving north towards Follansbee when they encountered an obstruction along the road placed there while repairs are being made. In attempting to turn the truck he was driving, Cronin, it is said, backed onto the car tracks. The street car coming from Steubenville turned the bend and crashed into the vehicle before it could be brought under control. Coroner J. B. Wilkinson of Brooke county, was called to the scene and after a brief examination of the victim's body and hearing the testimony of witnesses returned a verdict of accidental death.

Duvall is survived by his wife, two daughters and three brothers, including Attorney Marshall Duvall of Steubenville.

HOUSE DEFEATS GAS TAX BILL

A four-cent gasoline tax was defeated by the house of delegates yesterday, although by a margin so close that with two members who favored the bill changing their votes to put them in a position where they could move reconsideration it was possible the question might be reviewed.

The bill was lost on a vote of 44 to 38 after having weathered a series of moves to amend it. The first of these was made by Delegate Beard who proposed that 20 per cent of the tax paid within the limits of a city or town be returned to the city or town for street maintenance. This was defeated and another motion by the same delegate to make the provision for 15 per cent was ruled out on a point of order. An amendment offered by Delegate Hawkins to refund the tax paid on gasoline used for boats, airplanes, tractors, dyeing establishments and uses except for automobiles was defeated.

INSTALL PASTOR HERE TONIGHT

Plans have been perfected for the ordination and installation of Rev. W. J. H. McKnight as pastor of the First United Presbyterian church here this evening. Rev. J. O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, of East Liverpool, and clerk of the Steubenville presbytery, will preside. Rev. G. M. McKnight, father of the candidate and pastor of the South Park United Presbyterian church of Buffalo, N. Y., will preach the ordination sermon and lead in the ordination prayer.

Rev. L. J. Davison, pastor of the Fidst United Presbyterian church of East Liverpool, will address the pastor and Rev. J. B. Brown, pastor of the Toronto United Presbyterian church, will address the people. George C. Holliday, an elder of the Chester congregation, will read the edict. A reception will be tendered Rev. and Mrs. McKnight at the close of the services.

PISTOL LICENSING BILL IS PASSED

By a vote of 20 to 5 the senate yesterday afternoon passed the new fire arms bill which would give the governor and the superintendent of the department of public safety, with the approval of the governor, power to revoke licenses for carrying weapons without notice. The bill also provides that permits, after applicants have fully complied with the law, may be granted by circuit courts while in vacation.

Another provision in the bill is that permits may be issued only to American citizens who have been residents of the state for at least one year.

BROOKE COUNTY MEN INDICTED

Premier Mussolini Italy's Savior, Believes Otto Kahn

Noted Banker Characterizes Dictator as Greatest Statesman in Europe.

PARIS—After a whirlwind European tour which carried him to thirty-one different places in sity-three days, Otto Kahn has just arrived in Paris still under the spell of the man he characterizes as "the greatest statesman in Europe, Benito Mussolini."

"Contrary to all that has been written against him, Mussolini is not an enemy to liberty," said the American financier in an interview with International News Service. "He is, however, a man that realizes that liberty can, like every good thing, be abused and that likewise it must fit itself into the structure and welfare of the nation.

Restores Order

"The Roman premier is one of the very few statesmen who has had the courage not to bend the knee before the eighteenth century conceptions of government, conceptions which were resolutely rejected by the wise men who framed the American Constitution.

"As a devoted friend of Italy, profoundly appreciative of its genius and convinced of its great destiny, I congratulate the Italian people upon their splendid and fearless leader, who, supported by the masses, has restored order and tranquility, has brought efficiency, reform and progress into the administration of government.

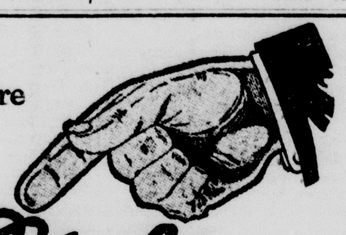

"America's ambassador of art," as one Paris newspaper has called him, finds it difficult to understand how well-meaning Italians can fail to admire Mussolini as a great man and a patriot, whatever their political sympathies be. They should be grateful to him for the incalculable services which he has rendered to Italy. Mr. Kahn concedes that extraordinary ways of government were necessary to carry out these extraordinary achievements.

"But," he added, "revolutions do not run in normal ways, nor can they restore normal functionings until the principal aims which they seek to secure have been consolidated and reasonably secured."

Italy's return to a normally functioning system of government in appropriate form is only a matter of time, prophesies the American banker.

FRESH AIR CAMP TO OPEN JULY 6

Will be Maintained by County Public Health League.

The Columbiana county fresh air camp will open on the W. K. George farm, Madison township, Lincoln highway, July 6, and close August 31, it was announced today. Final arrangements for the opening of the camp are now being made.

It is through the offices of the Columbiana Public Health league that the summer camp is financed, this being a voluntary organization of persons interested in child health. Funds for this purpose were raised through the sale of Christmas seals.

Any undernourished child from the county, outside of East Liverpool, is eligible to be admitted at the summer camp. The object of the camp is purely nutritional and educational, and children who have been exposed to tuberculosis will be given first choice. No child now suffering with tuberculosis or any other communicable disease will be admitted in the camp.

No charge is made for the keep of children at the summer camp, but parents who desire are permitted to make voluntary contributions to the Public Health league. Twenty-five children will be admitted to the camp this year, and they will be permitted to remain during the eight weeks of camp.

The camp will be directed by Miss Louise Steel, a graduate nurse, who will be assisted by two dietitians, a play director and an assistant.

Selection of the children who will be permitted to enter the camp is under the jurisdiction of the county board of health, and applications for entrance are now being filed with County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church at his office in Lisbon.

WOOL GROWERS CALLED TO MEET

A meeting of the Columbiana County Wool Growers' association has been called to convene in the offices of the County Farm Bureau at 1:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, at which time it will be decided when wool will be shipped to the warehouses of the Ohio Sheep & Wool Growers' association.

Wool stacks are now obtainable at either the office of the farm bureau or at the warehouse of the Kensington Supply Co.

Shearing of sheep has been finished on many farms. It is likely that the Columbiana county growers this year will follow the custom of the past in shipping to the Horkeimer warehouse at Wheeling, which is the selling agent for the Ohio association for all wool shipped from this district of the state. Between 30 and 40 tons of wool are expected to be shipped out of this county this season.

Ladies' night of the Kiwanis club was enjoyed Tuesday evening when a splendid program of stunts, music and readings were provided by the wives of members of the club under the chairman ship of Mrs. A. W. Moreland. Those who conducted the several stunts and acted as judges were Mrs. Edward G. Casey, Mrs. E. B. Goodlin, Mrs. Harry Irons, Mrs. O. S. Williams, Mrs. A. R. Evans and Mrs. Forrest Richmon. Strange telephone calls from all points received by Mrs. Edward Casey during the entire evening brought forth much merriment, as did the races and other stunts. Vocal solos by Mrs. Dohrmann Stratton, and readings, two-in-one style, by Miss Elda Cusick and Miss Dorothy Irons, were features of the program. President R. C. Cassidy paid a tribute on behalf of the club and those present to the eight members of the G. A. R. present, and group singing filled the balance of the evening. The ladies of the Methodist Protestant church furnished the luncheon, the tables being decorated with a color scheme of red, white and blue. Aside from the members, 54 guests were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodgers, Follansbee, W. Va.

Your Home Deserves a Fine Roof!

To-day you can have a colorful, artistic roof at surprisingly moderate cost.

Barrett Giant Shingles are extra large (12 by 14 inches). They are durable, beautiful and economical — can be laid right over the old roof. They're surfaced with natural colored slate in soft red, moss green or blue-black. Moreover they're fire-safe — won't rot or rust — and never need painting or staining.

Barrett ROOFINGS

We stand squarely back of Barrett Giant Shingles. They're matchless in rugged strength—will far outlast ordinary shingles.

You can get Barrett quality in your roof no matter what kind of building you are planning to cover.

FRESH AIR CAMP TO OPEN JULY 6

Will be Maintained by County Public Health League.

The Columbiana county fresh air camp will open on the W. K. George farm, Madison township, Lincoln highway, July 6, and close August 31, it was announced today. Final arrangements for the opening of the camp are now being made.

It is through the offices of the Columbiana Public Health league that the summer camp is financed, this being a voluntary organization of persons interested in child health. Funds for this purpose were raised through the sale of Christmas seals.

Any undernourished child from the county, outside of East Liverpool, is eligible to be admitted at the summer camp. The object of the camp is purely nutritional and educational, and children who have been exposed to tuberculosis will be given first choice. No child now suffering with tuberculosis or any other communicable disease will be admitted in the camp.

No charge is made for the keep of children at the summer camp, but parents who desire are permitted to make voluntary contributions to the Public Health league. Twenty-five children will be admitted to the camp this year, and they will be permitted to remain during the eight weeks of camp.

The camp will be directed by Miss Louise Steel, a graduate nurse, who will be assisted by two dietitians, a play director and an assistant.

Selection of the children who will be permitted to enter the camp is under the jurisdiction of the county board of health, and applications for entrance are now being filed with County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church at his office in Lisbon.

WOOL GROWERS CALLED TO MEET

A meeting of the Columbiana County Wool Growers' association has been called to convene in the offices of the County Farm Bureau at 1:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, at which time it will be decided when wool will be shipped to the warehouses of the Ohio Sheep & Wool Growers' association.

Wool stacks are now obtainable at either the office of the farm bureau or at the warehouse of the Kensington Supply Co.

Shearing of sheep has been finished on many farms. It is likely that the Columbiana county growers this year will follow the custom of the past in shipping to the Horkeimer warehouse at Wheeling, which is the selling agent for the Ohio association for all wool shipped from this district of the state. Between 30 and 40 tons of wool are expected to be shipped out of this county this season.

Toronto

Ladies' night of the Kiwanis club was enjoyed Tuesday evening when a splendid program of stunts, music and readings were provided by the wives of members of the club under the chairman ship of Mrs. A. W. Moreland. Those who conducted the several stunts and acted as judges were Mrs. Edward G. Casey, Mrs. E. B. Goodlin, Mrs. Harry Irons, Mrs. O. S. Williams, Mrs. A. R. Evans and Mrs. Forrest Richmon. Strange telephone calls from all points received by Mrs. Edward Casey during the entire evening brought forth much merriment, as did the races and other stunts. Vocal solos by Mrs. Dohrmann Stratton, and readings, two-in-one style, by Miss Elda Cusick and Miss Dorothy Irons, were features of the program. President R. C. Cassidy paid a tribute on behalf of the club and those present to the eight members of the G. A. R. present, and group singing filled the balance of the evening. The ladies of the Methodist Protestant church furnished the luncheon, the tables being decorated with a color scheme of red, white and blue. Aside from the members, 54 guests were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodgers, Follansbee, W. Va.

Rev. W. H. McKinney, Mrs. W. E. Allison and Mrs. Harrison Benedict, representing the local Church of Christ, attended a convention of the churches of this denomination last week in Newark, O.

Miss Lucille MacMillian, North Fourth street, spent the week-end with relatives in Parkersburg, W. Va.

Mrs. R. A. Warren, of Knoxville, has returned home from a visit with Mrs. Grant Wilkinson, North Third street.

Mrs. Amanda Evans and Mrs. Turner are visiting friends in Canton.

Mrs. A. B. Fulmer, of Franklin street, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Henry George, in Steubenville.

Mrs. Frank Culp, North Third street, attended the annual convention of the Woman's Home Missionary society of Steubenville district of the Methodist Episcopal church at Canton. Mrs. Culp is the district treasurer.

Mrs. Andrew Boyle, North Fourth street, who has been ill, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Vincent Whitten and children and Mrs. Frank Cain, of Beaver, Pa., are guests of Mrs. Charles Clendenning and family, Market street.

Your Home Deserves a Fine Roof!

To-day you can have a colorful, artistic roof at surprisingly moderate cost.

Barrett Giant Shingles are extra large (12 by 14 inches). They are durable, beautiful and economical — can be laid right over the old roof. They're surfaced with natural colored slate in soft red, moss green or blue-black. Moreover they're fire-safe — won't rot or rust — and never need painting or staining.

Barrett ROOFINGS

We stand squarely back of Barrett Giant Shingles. They're matchless in rugged strength—will far outlast ordinary shingles.

You can get Barrett quality in your roof no matter what kind of building you are planning to cover.

TO WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Dutch Settlers Plan Invasion of Canada During Present Year

MONTREAL, P. Q., June.—Shortage of farm land in Holland will result in a heavy influx of Dutch settlers to Canada this year, according to immigration officials here.

"Agents of the Dominion government in The Hague and Rotterdam are preparing for the movement of thousands of farmers from the Netherlands this Summer, said an official. "There is not enough land available in the Netherlands for agricultural expansion of the present population.

"These farmers are turning to Canada for their opportunity. In 1924 several thousand Dutch settlers arrived in Canada, most of whom were farmers, and went on the land.

"The new Dutach settlers will to a large extent be placed on farms in the prairie provinces."

More men than women are left-handed.

Makes Remarkable Recovery
Mrs. Harry Ashcroft Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Severe Illness and Pain

MRS. HARRY ASHCROFT
632 BEECH AVENUE, COVINGTON, KY.

Covington, Ky.—"I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my housework as I could not stand because of the bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen. I sat down most of the time and did what I could do in that way—as washing dishes, etc. One day a book describing Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines was put in my mail box. I saw how the Vegetable Compound had helped others so I gave it a trial. I had to take about a dozen bottles before I gained my strength, but I certainly praise this medicine. Then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine for poor blood. I was cold all the time. I would be so cold I could hardly sit still and in the palms of my hands there would be drops of sweat. I also used the Sanative Wash and I recommend it also. You may publish this letter and I will gladly answer letters from women and advise my neighbors about these medicines." —Mrs. HARRY ASHCROFT, 632 Beech Avenue, Covington, Kentucky.

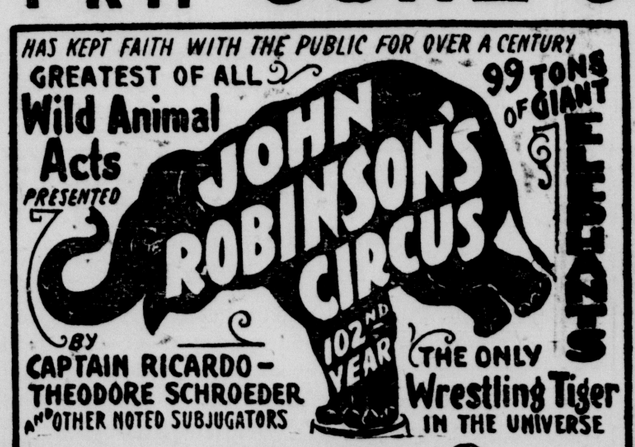

Mrs. Boyer Also Found Help

Gilman City, Missouri.—"I was in such a condition that I could not eat nor sleep to do me any good and I felt draggy all the time. My head ached, my right side and back would almost kill me at times, and I could be on my feet only a short while at a time. I was irregular and so nervous, irritable and despondent that I thought I could not stand the strain much longer. I had been this way more or less for ten years, but the last two years was just terrible. I took medicines, but got little relief until I began to take the Vegetable Compound. I took three bottles before I could see any change at all. I have taken seven in all and am improving right along. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and take the Liver Pills. I can do most of my work now, and I live on a farm and there is lots of it to do. I wash, iron, hoe the garden, raise chickens and tend to the milk."—Mrs. T. M. BOYER, Gilman City, Missouri.

Haskin's Letter

lation re-establishing the coins of smaller value which have not been minted for almost three-quarters of a century. This drive, if it materializes, will be lead by the baking industry.

S. S. Langendorf, a prominent San Francisco baker, has taken the lead in the movement and is sounding out his associates in the basic food business to ascertain whether they believe it worth while to bring their troubles to Washington.

Under existing conditions, he says, the baker is forced to be either a profiteer, a speculator, a philanthropist or a goat. His average net profit on large volume production is one-half cent per ret pound. An advance in flour prices of about $1.35 over his basic flour cost practically wipes out the baker's profit. He may add a full cent to the bread price, thus getting too much and laying himself open to charges of extortion, or he may do business without a profit for a time, gambling on the chance that there will come a drop in the cost of flour that will enable him to recoup his losses or make up the profit he has foregone.

Fear of Public Censure.

"We are of the opinion," continues Mr. Langendorf, "that the introduction of a half-cent denomination of coin would be an aid in adjusting bread prices whenever conditions warrant a change and so work to the better satisfaction of the public as well as the baker.

"Under the present coinage, retail bread prices can only be increased or decreased in units of a cent. Flour may fluctuate as much as $2.00 a barrel and bakers are often prevented from raising the price of bread because of the fear of being accused of profiteering. Few commodities are so cheap now that it is necessary to split pennies in fixing their value. The price of butter or of eggs blithely jumps a nickel at a time and the housewife is so used to the changing scale that she never bothers to check up in her grocery slips. But let there be an advance of a single cent in the cost of a loaf of bread and everybody is ready to go gunning for profiteers. That is why, with an advance in the price of flour of from 50 cents to $1.75, the baker usually absorbs this increase at a great disadvantage to himself.

"With a half-cent coin the baker could adjust his price of bread one-half cent per pound with an advance or a decrease of $1.00 to $1.50 per barrel in flour prices, which would offset the prevailing increase or decrease in the cost of flour and reflect itself to an equivalent amount in the retail or consumer price."

It is declared that under present conditions, in order to protect himself in a fair profit, the baker must be a flour speculator. He can not adjust his bread prices as frequently as can other industries such as flour milling, sugar refining, coffee, and the like. Flour mills can adjust their prices daily in accordance with the increase or decrease in the price of wheat. For every cent advance in wheat, flour is advanced five cents. With a certain number of points advance in the raw sugar market the price of refined sugar is altered, daily, if necessary, to conform with the price of raw sugar.

Very frequently inharmonious relations existing between bakers in a given community are due to the fact that one group of bakers has been fortunate in making flour purchases on a low market while another group was purchasing on the current higher market. The successful speculators are thus sitting pretty, as the slang of the day puts it.

What It Means To Consumers.

The difference to consumers in a change of one cent in the retail price of bread, it is pointed out, amounts to only $2.00 per year to the individual. On the basis of the average family, which economists have decided to consist of 3.3 adults, this would mean less than $7.00 annually, and the bakers think that, comparatively speaking this is nothing to get greatly excited over, so far as the public is concerned while it spells prosperity or ruin to their industry.

The government ceased the coinage of half-cent pieces in 1857. The coins continued in circulation for many years after that date, however, and many of them are still out, although it has been fully half a century since their existence was reflected in commodity prices. Most of the half-cent pieces now out are in the hands of coin collectors and are heard of only in their transactions.

Periodically there comes a revival of the demand that congress direct the mint to resume the production of the fractional coin. There was no bill to that end introduced at the last session of congress and no measure is now in the hands of committees of either house or senate, but with the bakers bestirring themselves it is regarded as probable that the fight will be on next winter. Whether there is a real need or a formidable public demand for the coin of small value is always a debatable question.

Opposition to the proposal always come from the manufacturers and users of slot machines of various kinds, for none of these machines has a slot that will receive a new coin. This opposition is of the most vigorous kind.

Other objectors to the innovation—and the half-cent piece has been out so long that to restore it is the equivalent of an innovation — include the manufacturers and users of cash registers. These machines, as they are constructed today, have no keys to record fractional cent sales.

In some lines of merchandise where bargain sales are featured the half-cent coin is viewed with favor by a few dealers. For the most part, however, it is claimed that those who like to advertise articles with fractional cent prices prefer to use that as a bait to effect sales in multiples rather than of the single article—two for 25 cents, rather than one for 12½ cents, and so on.

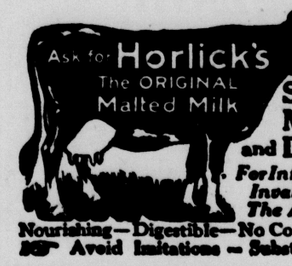

Interestingly enough, one source of opposition to a coin of smaller value comes from people who have to look after the business affairs of churches. Too many pennies now are dropped into collection plates, it is said, and to have half-cent coins would mean a material shrinkage in church receipts. Thus is the price of worship linked with the cost of bread.

Subway Planned.

CHILLICOTHE, June.—In compliance with the request of city officials engineers of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western railroads have submitted tentative plans and estimates for a subway at the main street crossings. The railroad engineers' estimate of the cost of this improvement is $416,000, compared with City Engineer Richards' estimate of $275,000. Accepting higher units of cost on labor and material accounts for the railroad engineers' higher estimate.

WHO IS AT FAULT?
Why the Carpenters' Strike?

The Building Construction Employers Association and its members have been, are and will be ready to submit their case to arbitration. It is their contention that $10 a day for carpenters is fair and reasonable, and that to increase this wage will cripple building, increase rents—already too high for men in other lines who have taken a wage cut and who perhaps are not working regularly—and benefit neither the carpenters themselves, their employers or the public.

The Carpenters Union will not arbitrate. It says "Eleven dollars a day," and prefers to keep its members out of work rather than have them steadily employed at the $10 a day wage they have been receiving.

Which of the participants in this dispute has the public welfare at heart—the contractors who are willing to submit their case to arbitration, or the carpenters who won't?

lation re-establishing the coins of smaller value which have not been minted for almost three-quarters of a century. This drive, if it materializes, will be lead by the baking industry.

S. S. Langendorf, a prominent San Francisco baker, has taken the lead in the movement and is sounding out his associates in the basic food business to ascertain whether they believe it worth while to bring their troubles to Washington.

Under existing conditions, he says, the baker is forced to be either a profiteer, a speculator, a philanthropist or a goat. His average net profit on large volume production is one-half cent per net pound. An advance in flour prices of about $1.35 over his basic flour cost practically wipes out the baker's profit. City Industrial League Clubs Submit Their Final Player Lists

Riley Swaps DeLong For Pitcher Digman of Laughlin Outfit

Both Newell and Chester Clubs Benefit by Trade; C. & P. Shops Take Over Wellsville Nine; Eddie Davis at Helm of Trotters Entry; Series With Midland League Winner is Planned.

One trade, in which Catcher DeLong, of the Chester club, goes to Laughlin for Digman, pitcher and first baseman, was consummated at a meeting of the City Industrial league Tuesday evening in the chamber of commerce rooms.

The deal will give Manager Barney Bricelin of Laughlin a catcher which he has been needing badly since the return of Smith to Clarksburg, W. Va., and the inability of Robinson to play regularly.

Manager Riley, of Chester, with three backstops, Potts, W. McMath and DeLong, could well afford to let go the brilliant young backstop, who can also infield as well, for a man to replace Jackson, who temporarily is working out of the city.

Digman is a smart pitcher and when not on the hilltop can play first or right field with equal ability.

Both players can hit, so the two teams are regarded as having been greatly strengthened by the trade.

All the league club managers, according to their before-season agreement, turned in their list of players, 15 for each club beside the pilots, for the balance of the season.

In Wellsville the club has been taken over by the C. & P. railway shops with the veteran player and director, W. A. Brooks, as manager and John Dugan as secretary. Dewey Morgan, who until now has been the club's director, will continue playing on third base.

The other members of the team are John and Carl Morgan, catchers; William Rager, Harry Shipley, Bert Vance and Denver Manning, outfielders; Dewey Morgan, Delmer Manning, Clarece Runyon and Harry Dustman, infielders; George Kunzler, George Leatherberry, John Calhoun, Percy Wyant and Emmett Patterson, pitchers.

Manager Bricelin, of Laughlin, has the following men: De Long, Reese, Riser, Babb, Sayers, Watson, Myers, V. Bailey, McConnell, Tisher, H. Stroble, L. Davis, Briggle, A. Smith and Werkheiser.

Eddie Davis will direct the Trotter team on the field from now on while J. W. Fowler will continue as business manager. D. Hester, the veteran catcher, will be the third member of the club's board of startegy.

The Trotter-Chevrolet aggregation is as follows: Roy Pollock, H. Herbert, A. and E. Bayley, C. Parsons, "Becky" Barr, "Sonny" Deshler, Charles Kinsay, Catchers Hunselman, C. Brooks and D. Hester, Pitcher Kiddar; Infielders Heckathorne and J. Strobel, and Outfielder Aufderheide.

Pitcher McGeehan has taken over the managership of the B. & W. team. With himself the team will have the following players: "Bill" and E. Mundy, A. and B. Gerthenslagen, C. Kinney, G. Sharp, Ray Buzzard, C. Howell, B. Childs, E. Sprague, E. Lisko, C. Wagner, M. Quinn W. McGonigal and Audrey Morris.

John Godwin, the former Boston Red Sox third bagman, will direct the K. T. K. team for the entire remaining schedule. His players now loom as follows: P. Pollock, Henry Schneidemiller, Harry Shaw, J. Bucher, B. Sanor, D. Stoffel, B. Merchant, C. Coleman, C. Finley, Harry Simcox, R. Ardin, Ralph McShane, C. Strobel, H. Allison and S. Coleman.

Manager Frank Riley's official list at Chester is as follows: Digman, Potts, M. and P. Cebula, Hoy, Powell, L. and W. McMath, C. and F. Marshall, S. Seevers, P. Cochrane, P. and E. Bennett and "Hap" Jackson.

Following the close of the season the winner of the "baby world series" will, it is now planned, clash with the champions of the fast Midland, Pa., baseball league.

The sensational performance of the youthful Peter de Paolo in winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race in record time, is the talk of the auto world. He drove all but a few miles of the gruelling contest, and averaged slightly more than 100 miles an hour. Below, he is seen crossing the finish line in his Duesenberg Special. 'We'll Have to Lick Macks,' Says Harris

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 3.—After staking himself to a six weeks' survey of the American league in action, Stanley Harris, the young manager with an old head, frankly conceded today that the Philadelphia Athletics were the team he had to beat if his Washington Senators are to repeat their 1924 victory. He made the statement with due consideration for the fact that the Athletics this morning are three full games in front of the champions and stepping like a drum major.

"Of course, the club immediately in front of you is always the club you have to beat," Harris said. "Some of them last, some of them don't. However, I'm convinced that the Athletics are a permanent contender. They are a crowd of young, ambitious ball players with a lot of ability and that is always a hard combination to down."

Pressed for answer on the rest of the league, Harris intimated that, given his choice of bets, he would play the field. He added that there were six clubs that looked like first division material and named the Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox as possibly the weakest entries in the race.

"But they are not very weak," he hastened to add. "I wish I could be sure of knocking them off, three out of four, every time we play them. I have no such assurance because the Sox and Indians, like most of the league have improved between seasons.

"It is too early yet to make definite predictions. The race seems upside down because clubs like the Yankees and Tigers were off to a bad start. The Yanks haven't started to win yet but they will come back. When they do, it will make our job just that much harder. The Tigers already are giving signs of their real ability.

"The more I look at it, the more I am convinced that the real test is yet before us. We've only been feeling each other out but from now on all friendship ceases."

Harris seemed more interested in the two-day performance of our Mr. Ruth, who came out of the hospital to hit .333 in his first two games and make a dazzling catch in right field.

"It was one of the greatest things I ever saw on a ball field," he said. "I don't mean the fact that he hit well. A great hitter like Ruth always will be able to sock them. What I mean is the stark nerve of the man. He got by those two games on his nerve alone and that proves to me he is a greater player than even the public concedes. When a man of his wonderful ability has the nerve of a bulldog, I don't think it is possible to improve upon the combination."

SPORTSMEN'S MEET JULY 22

July 22 has been selected as the date for the annual field meet of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association.

A special meeting of the field meet committee will be held in two weeks for the purpose of arranging the program for the day.

The state highway department has notified State Representative Ralph W. Emmons, of East Rochester, to have abstracts of all properties the state proposes to acquire for state park purposes in that office before July 9th, the date when the law authorizing the establishing of a state park in this county becomes effective. The survey of the land is about finished.

The association field meet, commencing this year, will be held annually at Guilford.

95 Golfers In Race For Walker's Title; Finals Start Today

Majority of Entries Displaying High Grade Golf; Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones Take Gallery on This Morning's Round.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 3.—With Cyril Walker defending his title, the finals of the United States open tournament started at the Worcester Country club today. Undoubtedly the recent heavy rains have robbed the course of any long rolls, but the layout is in wonderful shape, despite the unseasonable weather.

A good warm sun looked down, speeding up the course and making startling scores possible.

Of the 500 odd golfers throughout the country who attempted to qualify for this open there are 95 left to battle for the title. There are any number in this field who have a chance of coming through.

The majority of the players are displaying a high grade of golf and some of the scores turned in during the practice rounds and the Metropolitan versus all other teams match were very low.

Mike Brady, former Massachusetts open champion, led the field with a 67.

Walter Hagen, Willie Hunter, MacDonald Smith, Johnny Farrell, Willie MacFarlane, Tommy Armour, Larry Nabholtz and Leo Diegel were all in championship form in the final warm-up rounds.

But today is another day. The gallery left with Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones this morning.

Matches likely to attract a large gallery today were:

DAVIS TURNS IN FIRST VICTORY

Pilots Trotters in 8 to 2 Conquest Over Laughlin.

Trotters defeated Laughlin on the Newell diamond in a City Industrial league contest, 8 to 2, on Tuesday evening.

With one run each, the outcome was in doubt until the fourth inning, when the bunching of three hits and an error by Myers gave the visitors three runs and the game. Though they scored four more tallies in subsequent periods at the bat the victory was already theirs.

McConnell pitched for Laughlin, and barring two innings held the opposing men easily.

Deshler went in to pitch for Trotter and blanked his opponents in all but the first and fifth innings, when one run was made in each. He kept the eight hits he allowed well scattered and one of these would have been an easy out had Herbert and E. Bayley not Alphonso-Gastoned each other and let the ball drop safely at their feet. Deshler was a bit wild, as he passed five and hit one man, but except in the fifth, when a walk moved up the subsequent scoring runner, they did no damage.

Deshler, too, swatted .500 for the day, he having singled twice in four times up and reached first in all his appearances.

Tisher in the first inning forced H. Strobel, who had singled, Herbert to E. Bayley. He scored on Babb's single.

Herbert, tripling to right in the second, scored on J. Strobel's rap to McConnell, beating out the throw to the plate.

Myers' wide throw to first put Heckathorne on first. He stole second and scored on Deshler's single to left, V. Bailey fumbling the ball and the pitcher reaching second, from which point he counted on Parson's double to right. The latter scored on A. Bayley's single.

Babb, singling in the fifth, scored on V. Bailey's single, after Sayers had walked.

Deshler singled in the sixth. Parsons walked. Both counted on E. Bayley's single to right, and the latter counted on R. Pollock's single to middle.

Eddie Davis, the old local star, appeared as field manager of Trotters, and directed the team from the bench. The score:

Heckathorne forced J. Strobel who had walked in the seventh at second. He reached second as Myers threw out Kinsey at first and scored as Watson threw wild to first on Deshler's rap.

Install the new Rusco Transmission Bands in your Ford

With the lug removed, the two hinges allow the band to be slipped in or out easily with no danger of bending.

No bending out of shape
Insure longer wear and velvet action
Relining done in thirty minutes

IT USED to take a half day to install Ford Transmission Bands. Then a removable lug was designed which reduced the time to thirty minutes. But the bands were almost always bent out of shape and never gave as good service afterwards.

Then Rusco designed and exclusively uses two hinges in each band in addition to the removable lug. The result is that both the original installation of the bands and the job of relining them at any time afterwards is done in thirty minutes easily, and there is no danger of bending the bands out of shape. They grip the drums evenly all around. The lining wears three times as long. You get no chatter. The hinges are of heat-treated steel tested for twice the strength they need.

City Industrial League Clubs Submit Their Final Player Lists

Riley Swaps DeLong For Pitcher Digman of Laughlin Outfit

Both Newell and Chester Clubs Benefit by Trade; C. & P. Shops Take Over Wellsville Nine; Eddie Davis at Helm of Trotters Entry; Series With Midland League Winner is Planned.

One trade, in which Catcher DeLong, of the Chester club, goes to Laughlin for Digman, pitcher and first baseman, was consummated at a meeting of the City Industrial league Tuesday evening in the chamber of commerce rooms.

The deal will give Manager Barney Bricelin of Laughlin a catcher which he has been needing badly since the return of Smith to Clarksburg, W. Va., and the inability of Robinson to play regularly.

Manager Riley, of Chester, with three backstops, Potts, W. McMath and DeLong, could well afford to let go the brilliant young backstop, who can also infield as well, for a man to replace Jackson, who temporarily is working out of the city.

Digman is a smart pitcher and when not on the hilltop can play first or right field with equal ability.

Both players can hit, so the two teams are regarded as having been greatly strengthened by the trade.

All the league club managers, according to their before-season agreement, turned in their list of players, 15 for each club beside the pilots, for the balance of the season.

In Wellsville the club has been taken over by the C. & P. railway shops with the veteran player and director, W. A. Brooks, as manager and John Dugan as secretary. Dewey Morgan, who until now has been the club's director, will continue playing on third base.

The other members of the team are John and Carl Morgan, catchers; William Rager, Harry Shipley, Bert Vance and Denver Manning, outfielders; Dewey Morgan, Delmer Manning, Clarece Runyon and Harry Dustman, infielders; George Kunzler, George Leatherberry, John Calhoun, Percy Wyant and Emmett Patterson, pitchers.

Manager Bricelin, of Laughlin, has the following men: De Long, Reese, Riser, Babb, Sayers, Watson, Myers, V. Bailey, McConnell, Tisher, H. Stroble, L. Davis, Briggle, A. Smith and Werkheiser.

Eddie Davis will direct the Trotter team on the field from now on while J. W. Fowler will continue as business manager. D. Hester, the veteran catcher, will be the third member of the club's board of startegy.

The Trotter-Chevrolet aggregation is as follows: Roy Pollock,, H. Herbert, A. and E. Bayley, C. Parsons, "Becky" Barr, "Sonny" Deshler, Charles Kinsay, Catchers Hunselman, C. Brooks and D. Hester, Pitcher Kiddar; Infielders Heckathorne and J. Strobel, and Outfielder Aufderheide.

Pitcher McGeehan has taken over the managership of the B. & W. team. With himself the team will have the following players: "Bill" and E. Mundy, A. and B. Gerthenslagen, C. Kinney, G. Sharp, Ray Buzzard, C. Howell, B. Childs, E. Sprague, E. Lisko, C. Wagner, M. Quinn W. McGonigal and Audrey Morris.

John Godwin, the former Boston Red Sox third bagman, will direct the K. T. K. team for the entire remaining schedule. His players now loom as follows: P. Pollock, Henry Schneidemiller, Harry Shaw, J. Bucher, B. Sanor, D. Stoffel, B. Merchant, C. Coleman, C. Finley, Harry Simcox, R. Rardin, Ralph McShane, C. Strobel, H. Allison and S. Coleman.

Manager Frank Riley's official list at Chester is as follows: Digman, Potts, M. and P. Cebula, Hoy, Powell, L. and W. McMath, C. and F. Marshall, S. Seevers, P. Cochrane, P. and E. Bennett and "Hap" Jackson.

Following the close of the season the winner of the "baby world series" will, it is now planned, clash with the champions of the fast Midland, Pa., baseball league.

De Paolo's Indianapolis Victory Auto Sensation

The sensational performance of the youthful Peter de Paolo in winning the Indianapolis 500-mile race in record time, is the talk of the auto world. He drove all but a few miles of the gruelling contest, and averaged slightly more than 100 miles an hour. Below, he is seen crossing the finish line in his Duesenberg Special. 'We'll Have to Lick Macks,' Says Harris

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 3.—After staking himself to a six weeks' survey of the American league in action, Stanley Harris, the young manager with an old head, frankly conceded today that the Philadelphia Athletics were the team he had to beat if his Washington Senators are to repeat their 1924 victory. He made the statement with due consideration for the fact that the Athletics this morning are three full games in front of the champions and stepping like a drum major.

"Of course, the club immediately in front of you is always the club you have to beat," Harris said. "Some of them last, some of them don't. However, I'm convinced that the Athletics are a permanent contender. They are a crowd of young, ambitious ball players with a lot of ability and that is always a hard combination to down."

Pressed for answer on the rest of the league, Harris intimated that, given his choice of bets, he would play the field. He added that there were six clubs that looked like first division material and named the Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox as possibly the weakest entries in the race.

"But they are not very weak," he hastened to add. "I wish I could be sure of knocking them off, three out of four, every time we play them. I have no such assurance because the Sox and Indians, like most of the league have improved between seasons.

"It is too early yet to make definite predictions. The race seems upside down because clubs like the Yankees and Tigers were off to a bad start. The Yanks haven't started to win yet but they will come back. When they do, it will make our job just that much harder. The Tigers already are giving signs of their real ability.

"The more I look at it, the more I am convinced that the real test is yet before us. We've only been feeling each other out but from now on all friendship ceases."

Harris seemed more interested in the two-day performance of our Mr. Ruth, who came out of the hospital to hit .333 in his first two games and make a dazzling catch in right field.

"It was one of the greatest things I ever saw on a ball field," he said. "I don't mean the fact that he hit well. A great hitter like Ruth always will be able to sock them. What I mean is the stark nerve of the man. He got by those two games on his nerve alone and that proves to me he is a greater player than even the public concedes. When a man of his wonderful ability has the nerve of a bulldog, I don't think it is possible to improve upon the combination."

pose that Lincoln had not had the courage of his convictions, where would our nation be today? Suppose that Washington had sheathed his sword at the first opposition and said, "Go slow, don't doubt the wisdom of king or parliament and above all don't draw your sword against the Lord's anointed." Suppose that Columbus had said, "I know the people are right and my ships would drop off the sides of the world and had sailed his ships only in sight of the shore." Suppose that Cyrus W. Field had said, "I guess that my friends are right, 'a submarine cable is impossible.'" Suppose the Wright brothers had said, "Well, I guess our friends are right, we are crazy," and had quit experimenting with flying machines. Why of course birds were made to fly, not men! Suppose Henry Ford had listened to his neighbor who said he was a crank. How did we overcome yellow fever, typhus fever, diphtheria, leprosy and many other diseases heretofore uncurable? Why through the persistency of men who had wheels in their heads and knew that they had wheels and were satisfied to let them turn.

Keep Channel Open.

You will not only have to be content to walk much alone but to be persecuted. They gave Socrates his hemlock Jesus His cross, John Huss the stake and fagot. Epithets and oaths were sped at Lincoln and Washington like poisoned arrows. No one has ever done a great work without being villified and lied upon unmercifully. It always has been so. It always will be so till the heart of man has been redeemed. "Count me o'er life's chosen hurled contumelious stone, stood alone, while the men they agonized for hurled (contumelous) stone, stood serene and down the future saw the beam incline to the side of perfect justice, mastered by their faith, divine, by one man's plain truth to manhood and to God's supreme design."

Now to keep the channel of life open many things we have learned to love must be sacrificed. Along little Stillwater were many trees, but we had to cut many of them down for their roots were obstructing the flow of the stream and their branches were gathering driftwood and holding back the current. Once in awhile if these trees were left alone they would fall over into the stream. The stream is the thing to be kept in mind and not the thing that grows on its banks. They may be beautiful, but sometimes the most beautiful things are the most evil. In theology we have had to discard many of the old dogmas to permit the stream to flow vigorously on. Politics has had to lop off a lot of its crudities. Business has had to throw away many of its methods based on selfishness. We must pursue and capture truth at all expense, and anything that stands in the way must be cast aside. Hero worship has kept many people from advancing. We have worshipped great warriors and have put up costly statues in their memory, and so kept alive barbaric war. The Chinese emperor once said to one of the famous scholars of his realm, "Hung, ninety years of philosophy must have taught you a great deal. Tell me what is the chief danger to government." "Well, sir," replied Hung, "it is the rat in the statue." "The rat in the statue!" exclaimed the emperor, "why, what on earth is that?" "Well, your majesty," said Hung, "you see it is like this; we build statues to the memory of our ancestors. They are all of wood; they are hollow and they are painted yellow. Now, sir, if a rat gets into the center of one these wooden statues you can't plunge it into the water for it would wash off the face of your ancestor. You can't smoke it out for that would defile the sacred image. Therefore, sire, the rat is safe because the image is holy.". There is a great danger of allowing fraud, deceit, graft to flourish in high places, for to expose it would destroy some idol. Some men would smother all investigation that would expose their own political party. None of the human weaknesses must ever be spoken in the men whom we have haloized. We would rather worship them than know them. The thing that has been wrong with religion for many centuries is that we have been content to worship God rather than to know Him.

The highest type of worship is to know the one true and living God and Him whom He hath sent. Now, in the beginning, I said there is ot much I know and that I was not geing to outline an itemized plan of procedure. What I meant was, we are not to progress by sense but we are to follow the Invisible. We are to proceed by faith. Ask the average man of success why he has done certain things and he will not be able to tell you. He just did them and he knows not why, and the things that brought the greatest success are the things he least knows how to explain. The scientific test applied for efficiency is not the best test. The great geniuses defy all scientific tests. And the geniuses are usually those who the fools will dare to follow this same inexplainable thing, like the Wright brothers and Henry Ford and Steinmetz and Edison and many others. The scientific test for metality was applied to a number of business men meeting recently in a city of Massachusetts and it was discovered they were usually low in mentality; and the four men who were rated the lowest were presidents of their concerns. You cannot establish things by machine tests, life is not built that way. Eugenics will never establish the perfect family. Selection is not made on this cold calculating basis. Ask your mother why she selected your father as her husband. Perhaps you need not go that far. Ask yourself while you are selecting a certain young man, are you contemplating having him sent to a labratory to find out about his temperament, his mentality, his heart beat, chest expansion and all that.

Know God.

What I want you to do is to see the invisible, hear the inaudible, and feel the intangible. I want you to know God, who cannot be seen, who cannot be heard and who cannot be felt, yet who is more real than the landscape or the thunder or the table you place your hand upon. There is a harmony between the eternal and every man. I want you to strike that harmonious chord. I want you to accomplish more, ventional fay. I want that you to get out of the common drudgery of doing things in the ordinary, conventional way. I? want thata you shall dream dreams and be moved by high ideals. I do not want you to look on life as something that can be explained and analyzed and dissected in the laboratory. I want you to think of life as a thing which can never be reduced in the test tube to its component parts, which can never be measured by rule, or evoluted by the greatest economist. I want you to think of life as something elusive, something that has a thrill in it, something that has adventure in it. Something which when you start, its distance wou may find stretches where human foot has never trod. I want you to think of human life as something that comprehends God; something which searches you out while you search for it, so that you can say with animation, "Whither shall I go from Thy spirit! or whither shall I flee from Thy precence?—Life! If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there. If I make my bed in hell, behold—Life, thou are there. If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the seas, even there shall thy hand lead and thy right hand shall hold me."

Let no one discourage you. Let no one speak in your presence the word failure. Believe all things are possible to them that love truth. Turn a deaf ear to all who would say that men are born to die or that the world was created to end in chaos. Laugh him to scorn, who says that God's kingdom cannot be established in the earth. It may be impossible but no one but a pessimist will think so. I am going to believe that it is possible. For if I do not believe that, I will do less than I ought. Life is rich, young people. It bubbles over with energy and the surge of it is upward. The other day, I passed through a section of country where strip mining had been going on. What a hideous form of industry that is! But I saw indefatigable nature had begun to cover up this terrible work man had done. Those works of stone and clay were covering themselves with a form of vegetation and little trees were shooting up. There is many a scar on the face of humanity but a benevolent God by the help of a wise race of men, is rubbing them out.

Work Hard, Is Advice.

One of the commandments of Moses is, "Thou shalt not covet." I dare to break that commandment tonight. At this very moment I am covetous. I covet your youth. I know I cannot appropriate it but maybe I can lead you to appreciate it more and apply it better. We have had dreams we were never able to realize. It remains to you to make them real. We have made a pretty bad mess of affairs but you can correct conditions. The great future lies before you. You have strong bodies, good minds, noble souls. You can do anything you set out to do. We believe in you not withstanding so many say you are the most trifling, foolish and disrespectful bunch ever. I doubt not but what you are bad enough but I know there is more good in you than bad. I will bank on you more quickly than any other bunch of people in this city. Your latest possibilities are legion. The world waits on you. We have done a lot of things to advance civilization. Our fathers dreamed of a slaveless world and they broke the shackles and set men free. We dreamed of a saloonless America and we padlocked the doors. We have dreamed of a warless world but I question our courage to bring it to pass. But you who have already broken so many precedents will rush headlong where angles fear to trod. I doubt not but what you will make a great record. But to make the greatest will require a close application to truth and an earnest industry. Therefore, be studious, work hard and trust in Jehovah and He will bring it to pass.

Now in closing, I congratulate you on your accomplishments. So far, you have run well. It is no mean thing to have accomplished at your age what you have. But in reality you have only begun. Be a student all your days. Work hard, be industrious. Be honest and keep yourself clean, and the years will increase in joy and the past will be a blessed memory. Cut loose from everything that will bind you to the past, live out yonder in the future. Tomorrow will be the greatest.

pose that Lincoln had not had the courage of his convictions, where would our nation be today? Suppose that Washington had sheathed his sword at the first opposition and said, "Go slow, don't doubt the wisdom of king or parliament and above all don't draw your sword against the Lord's anointed." Suppose that Columbus had said, "I know the people are right and my ships would drop off the sides of the world and had sailed his ships only in sight of the shore." Suppose that Cyrus W. Field had said, "I guess that my friends are right, 'a submarine cable is impossible.'" Suppose the Wright brothers had said, "Well, I guess our friends are right, we are crazy," and had quit experimenting with flying machines. Why of course birds were made to fly, not men! Suppose Henry Ford had listened to his neighbor who said he was a crank. How did we overcome yellow fever, typhus fever, diphtheria, leprosy and many other diseases heretofore uncurable? Why through the persistency of men who had wheels in their heads and knew that they had wheels and were satisfied to let them turn.

Keep Channel Open.

You will not only have to be content to walk much alone but to be persecuted. They gave Socrates his hemlock Jesus His cross, John Huss the stake and fagot. Epithets and oaths were sped at Lincoln and Washington like poisoned arrows. No one has ever done a great work without being villified and lied upon unmercifully. It always has been so. It always will be so till the heart of man has been redeemed. "Count me o'er life's chosen hurled contumelious stone, stood alone, while the men they agonized for hurled (contumelous) stone, stood serene and down the future saw the beam incline to the side of perfect justice, mastered by their faith, divine, by one man's plain truth to manhood and to God's supreme design."

Now to keep the channel of life open many things we have learned to love must be sacrificed. Along little Stillwater were many trees, but we had to cut many of them down for their roots were obstructing the flow of the stream and their branches were gathering driftwood and holding back the current. Once in awhile if these trees were left alone they would fall over into the stream. The stream is the thing to be kept in mind and not the thing that grows on its banks. They may be beautiful, but sometimes the most beautiful things are the most evil. In theology we have had to discard many of the old dogmas to permit the stream to flow vigorously on. Politics has had to lop off a lot of its crudities. Business has had to throw away many of its methods based on selfishness. We must pursue and capture truth at all expense, and anything that stands in the way must be cast aside. Hero worship has kept many people from advancing. We have worshipped great warriors and have put up costly statues in their memory, and so kept alive barbaric war. The Chinese emperor once said to one of the famous scholars of his realm, "Hung, ninety years of philosophy must have taught you a great deal. Tell me what is the chief danger to government." "Well, sir," replied Hung, "it is the rat in the statue." "The rat in the statue!" exclaimed the emperor, "why, what on earth is that?" "Well, your majesty," said Hung, "you see it is like this; we build statues to the memory of our ancestors. They are all of wood; they are hollow and they are painted yellow. Now, sir, if a rat gets into the center of one these wooden statues you can't plunge it into the water for it would wash off the face of your ancestor. You can't smoke it out for that would defile the sacred image. Therefore, sire, the rat is safe because the image is holy.". There is a great danger of allowing fraud, deceit, graft to flourish in high places, for to expose it would destroy some idol. Some men would smother all investigation that would expose their own political party. None of the human weaknesses must ever be spoken in the men whom we have haloized. We would rather worship them than know them. The thing that has been wrong with religion for many centuries is that we have been content to worship God rather than to know Him.

The highest type of worship is to know the one true and living God and Him whom He hath sent. Now, in the beginning, I said there is ot much I know and that I was not geing to outline an itemized plan of procedure. What I meant was, we are not to progress by sense but we are to follow the Invisible. We are to proceed by faith. Ask the average man of success why he has done certain things and he will not be able to tell you. He just did them and he knows not why, and the things that brought the greatest success are the things he least knows how to explain. The scientific test applied for efficiency is not the best test. The great geniuses defy all scientific tests. And the geniuses are usually those who like fools will dare to follow this same inexplainable thing, like the Wright brothers and Henry Ford and Steinmetz and Edison and many others. The scientific test for metality was applied to a number of business men meeting recently in a city of Massachusetts and it was discovered they were usually low in mentality; and the four men who were rated the lowest were presidents of their concerns. You cannot establish things by machine tests, life is not built that way. Eugenics will never establish the perfect family. Selection is not made on this cold calculating basis. Ask your mother why she selected your father as her husband. Perhaps you need not go that far. Ask yourself while you are selecting a certain young man, are you contemplating having him sent to a labratory to find out about his temperament, his mentality, his heart beat, chest expansion and all that.

Know God.

What I want you to do is to see the invisible, hear the inaudible, and feel the intangible. I want you to know God, who cannot be seen, who cannot be heard and who cannot be felt, yet who is more real than the landscape or the thunder or the table you place your hand upon. There is a harmony between the eternal and every man. I want you to strike that harmonious chord. I want you to accomplish more ventional fay. I want that you to get out of the common drudgery of doing things in the ordinary, conventional way. I? want thata you shall dream dreams and be moved by high ideals. I do not want you to look on life as something that can be explained and analyzed and dissected in the laboratory. I want you to think of life as a thing which can never be reduced in the test tube to its component parts, which can never be measured by rule, or evoluted by the greatest economist. I want you to think of life as something elusive, something that has a thrill in it, something that has adventure in it. Something which when you start, its distance wou may find stretches where human foot has never trod. I want you to think of human life as something that comprehends God; something which searches you out while you search for it, so that you can say with animation, "Whither shall I go from Thy spirit! or whither shall I flee from Thy precence?—Life! If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there. If I make my bed in hell, behold—Life, thou are there. If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the seas, even there shall thy hand lead and thy right hand shall hold me."

Let no one discourage you. Let no one speak in your presence the word failure. Believe all things are possible to them that love truth. Turn a deaf ear to all who would say that men are born to die or that the world was created to end in chaos. Laugh him to scorn, who says that God's kingdom cannot be established in the earth. It may be impossible but no one but a pessimist will think so. I am going to believe that it is possible. For if I do not believe that, I will do less than I ought. Life is rich, young people. It bubbles over with energy and the surge of it is upward. The other day, I passed through a section of country where strip mining had been going on. What a hideous form of industry that is! But I saw indefatigable nature had begun to cover up this terrible work man had done. Those works of stone and clay were covering themselves with a form of vegetation and little trees were shooting up. There is many a scar on the face of humanity but a benevolent God by the help of a wise race of men, is rubbing them out.

Work Hard, Is Advice.

One of the commandments of Moses is, "Thou shalt not covet." I dare to break that commandment tonight. At this very moment I am covetous. I covet your youth. I know I cannot appropriate it but maybe I can lead you to appreciate it more and apply it better. We have had dreams we were never able to realize. It remains to you to make them real. We have made a pretty bad mess of affairs but you can correct conditions. The great future lies before you. You have strong bodies, good minds, noble souls. You can do anything you set out to do. We believe in you not withstanding so many say you are the most trifling, foolish and disrespectful bunch ever. I doubt not but what you are bad enough but I know there is more good in you than bad. I will bank on you more quickly than any other bunch of people in this city. Your latest possibilities are legion. The world waits on you. We have done a lot of things to advance civilization. Our fathers dreamed of a slaveless world and they broke the shackles and set men free. We dreamed of a saloonless America and we padlocked the doors. We have dreamed of a warless world but I question our courage to bring it to pass. But you who have already broken so many precedents will rush headlong where angles fear to trod. I doubt not but what you will make a great record. But to make the greatest will require a close application to truth and an earnest industry. Therefore, be studious, work hard and trust in Jehovah and He will bring it to pass.

Now in closing, I congratulate you on your accomplishments. So far, you have run well. It is no mean thing to have accomplished at your age what you have. But in reality you have only begun. Be a student all your days. Work hard, be industrious. Be honest and keep yourself clean, and the years will increase in joy and the past will be a blessed memory. Cut loose from everything that will bind you to the past, live out yonder in the future. Tomorrow will be the greatest.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

The supreme court decides that "the trade association" method of co-operating within great industries is not a violation of the anti-trust law.

That's a most important, and very wise decision, but it will cause roars and heart pains in certain circles.

It means that the heads of great industries can agree on prices to be paid by the public, and it will save much trouble to cement makers, steel men and others.

It will be said that the decision will open the door to extortionate price fixing, and there is no doubt that it will facilitate excesses, if manufacturers are foolish enough to indulge in them.

But that can be attended to when the time comes. Meanwhile, prices will be stable, wages can be made fair, without giving the mean employer an unfair advantage.

And the business should go to the best goods and the best salesmen.

A condition of anarchy and price cutting is not desirable in modern business. Stability is the great thing. The government establishes it in post-office rates, the interstate commerce commission enforces it in railroad rates.

Another supreme court decision rendered yesterday, will meet with general approval. It declares void the Oregon law compelling all children to attend the public schools, thus preventing attendance at private schools or parochial and other schools that include religious teaching.

Fathers and mothers should have something to say about their own children, especially. And, the "something" should include children's schooling, the right to include in it as much religion, any kind of religion, as they choose.

Provided the parents themselves pay for any special schooling desired for their children, and provided such teaching includes the fundamentals of sound, practical education, there should be no meddling interference.

Public school advocates should concentrate on improving the schools with public funds, and let other methods alone. And the other lines of education should, and must be careful to let the public schools alone.

Thomas R. Marshall, once vice president, and always a good American citizen, is dead. He knew how to

BIG ORCHESTRA AT PARK DANCE

Bennie Krueger Closes Engagement at Rock Springs Tonight.

Bennie Krueger's famous 10-piece orchestra, of New York, will colse a three-day dance engagement at Rock Springs park tonight.

The orchestra is directed by Krueger in person. He is regarded as being the greatest of all saxophone players, despite the fact that he never took a lesson with the instrument. He has been appearing before the public for about 18 years, his first appearance being when he was eight years of age.

While playing in Columbus last year, Governor Donahey issued a proclamation referring to Bennie as the "dean of syncopation." More than 8,000 persons attended the opening dance of the season at Danceland, Cleveland, this spring, at which Krueger and his orchestra furnished the music. Krueger's orchestra was one of approximately 40 applicants seeking the contract to open the Cleveland dance hall.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE PLEDGES PREPAREDNESS IN ANNAPOLIS SPEECH

Addressing 1925 Graduating Class of United States Naval Academy, Executive Gives Support to Army and Navy and Reserve Qualified in Every Way to Guarantee National Security.

EACH CITIZEN SHOULD BE POTENTIALLY SOLDIER, HE TELLS NAVAL OFFICERS

By GEORGE E. DURNO.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 3.—President Coolidge, speaking as commander-in-chief of the American military establishment, today pledged himself finally and absolutely to adequate national preparedness.

Addressing the 1925 graduating class of the United States naval academy here, the executive gave his unqualified support to an army and a navy and a reserve qualified in every way to guarantee national security. He urged only that maintenance of the national defense be governed in such fashion as to make it an "instrument of righteousness," rather than a "display of mere naked force."

"The true spirit of American institutions requires that each citizen should be potentially a soldier. Ready to take his place in the ranks in time of peril, either in the field or in the necessary productive activity," he told the young naval officers.

Hits Suspicion and Hatred.

The president admonished all men of the service, however, against preaching the gospel of preparedness on the plea that other world powers are arming against the United States. Declaring that the suggestion that "any other people are harboring a hostile intent toward us is a very serious charge," he said:

"It seems to me perfectly proper for anyone upon any suitable occasion to advocate the maintenance of a navy in keeping with the greatness and dignity of our country. But as one who is responsible not only for our national defense, but likewise our friendly relations with other peoples and our title to the good opinion of the world, I felt that the occasion will very seldom arise, and I know it does not now exist, when those connected with our navy are justified, either directly or by inference, in asserting that other specified powers are arming against us, and by arousing national suspicion and hatred attempting to cause us to arm against them."

Duty of National Defense.

The duty of national defense, Mr. Coolidge said, is analogous to the general duty of citizenship and "should be broadly extended and borne by all the people." He declared that a proper display of military force was "the background of secur-

425 Naval Academy Graduates Given Their Diplomas

ANNAPOLIS, June 3.—President Coolidge today distributed the diplomas to the graduating class of the United States naval academy. There were 425 members of the class.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge motored here from Washington, unaccompanied except for the White House military aides.

After addressing the graduating class, and lunching with Admiral Nulton, commandant of the naval academy, the presidential party returned to Washington.

Y. & S. RAILROAD PROPERTY SOLD

Property of the Youngstown & Suburban railroad, connecting Youngstown and Leetonia via Columbiana and North Lima, has been taken over by the National Public Service Corporation of New York.

The company's trackage is about 20 miles in length. Cars connect at Leetonia with the Youngstown & Ohio River railroad, between East Liverpool and Salem.

In addition to the electrified system, the company also operates two bus lines, one between Youngstown and Canton and the other between Youngstown and East Palestine. The sale also includes the motor bus rights and properties.

Accept Frenchman's Offer to Search For Polar Flyers

LONDON, June 3.—The Norwegian government has accepted the offer of the French explorer, Dr. Charcot, to use his exploration ship to search for the missing Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole flyers, according to dispatches received here today from Olso.

HEAR ADDRESS

Police Chief Discusses Efforts to Enforce Law

Rev. B. R. Johnson, pastor of the First Church of Christ, was elected president of the Ministerial association at the pre-summer meeting today in the banquet room of the Y. M. C. A. He succeeds Rev. Frederic A. Dean, of the Second Presbyterian church.

Rev. W. C. Stokes, pastor of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, was chosen vice president, while Rev. E. E. Lashley, of the Newell Presbyterian church, was named secretary-treasurer, succeeding Rev. A. H. O'Brien.

Chief of Police Hugh McDermott, accepting an invitation to discuss the efforts of the police department to enforce the laws, talked for more than half an hour, answering questions of the ministers. A vote of thanks was extended for his courtesy in attending the meeting.

The pastors also discussed the proposed course in religious instruction in the public schools, which they have asked the board of education to permit, but deferred arrangements pending action by the board at the meeting Thursday evening. Should the board act favorably upon the request, a called session of the ministers will likely be held to complete plans for the course.

Explain Religious Instruction.

Explaining the proposed plan of religious education in the public schools, the Ministerial Association issued the following statement:

"In view of the many misunderstandings that have gotten abroad in regard to the proposed plan of religious education which the Ministerial association has asked the board of education to approve, the association has considered it wise to make certain clarifying statements to the local press.

"The proposed plan, in a general way, is as follows: A council of re-

George H. Koch, 62, New Waterford Bank Officer, is Dead

George H. Koch, 62, vice president of the New Waterford National bank, and who for 35 years was engaged in the buggy and wagon manufacturing business there, is dead today following an illness of several months. He was brought to his home about six weeks ago from a Pittsburgh hospital where he had been a patient since last November.

At one time he was a candidate for county commissioner on the Democratic ticket.

He leaves two sons, John H. Jr. and Robert Koch, both of New Waterford; two brothers, Jacob Koch, trustee of Unity township, and John Koch of New Waterford.

Funeral services will be held at New Waterford at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Bankers' Convention Opens.

COLUMBUS, June 3. — More than 1,000 are expected to attend the 35th annual convention of the Bankers' association, which will be convened here this afternoon for a three-day meeting. B. G. Huntington, Columbus, is president; S. A. Roach, Columbus, secretary, and W. R. Myers, Canton, treasurer.

CARL GRUBER'S AUTO IS STOLEN

Carl Gruber, of the Keystone Printing Company, St. Clair avenue, reported to the police early today that his Ford sedan was stolen while parked near his home on lower Broadway, near Third street, sometime after 1 o'clock this morning. Gruber parked the car on the street opposite the Thompson house when he returned home after midnight. The machine carried license number 241-102.

Marshall Funeral Party Passes Thru Ohio; Train Undraped

COLUMBUS, June 3.—The funeral train bearing the body of former Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall to Indianapolis, Ind., passed through here today at 8:02 a. m., stopping only for change of engines. The train was undraped.

OHIO GOVERNOR'S DAUGHTER BRIDE IN STATEHOUSE-NURTURED ROMANCE

COLUMBUS, June 3.—Miss Margaret Donahey, daughter of Governor and Mrs. Donahey, will be married here at 4 o'clock this afternoon to James Wythe Rankin Jr. of Chandlersville, executive secretary to the governor, at the first wedding ceremony to be performed at the executive mansion. A public reception will be held following the ceremony.

The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Frank H. Huffman, Baltimore, Md., a brother of Mr. Huffman. Miss Donahey will be given away by her father. Miss Margaret Foster, Washington, D. C., as maid of honor; Mrs. Clark G. Ogden, Miss Donahey's sister, as matron of honor, and [illegible] Thornburg, as bridesmaid, will attend the bride. Little June Keener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keener, Zanesville, niece of Mr. Huffman, will be ring bearer. Willamina Huffman, of Baltimore, niece of Mr. Huffman, and Marion Donahey, youngest sister of the bride, will lead the wedding procession.

Shanghai Situation "Worse;" Strikers Fire On U. S. Troops

American Women Organize Defense Battalion in Movement to Quell Rebellion of Chinese Laborers and Students.

PEKING, China, June 3.—Additional foreign warships were ordered to Shanghai today as the menace of anti-foreign sentiment grew in proportions. The American and other foreign legations authorized the movement of warships at the same time as preparations were made against any outbreak here.

LONDON, June 3.—The situation in Shanghai, where Chinese have gone on a general strike, was described as "worse" in dispatches from Shanghai today to the Evening News.

Communist agents were blamed for the strike of 3,000 Chinese. Public service was reported to be greatly interrupted, with a shortage of meat and other food impending. Sniping was continuing and 2,000 troops were reported enroute to quell the strikers.

Rioting strikers yesterday opened fire on American troops marching in Burkill Road, killing two horses and wounding an American doctor, Thomas G. McMartin. The rioters were dispersed with machine gun fire.

225 Boys Enroll In Y. M. C. A. "Learn To Swim" Campaign

More than 225 youths are enrolled in the "Learn to Swim" campaign being conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. this week. Yesterday was the final day for enrollment.

One hundred and sixty lads received instruction in the art Monday, the lessons requiring both morning and afternoon sessions in the bathing pool. Tuesday, 198 youths were instructed. Lessons were given again this morning and will continue Thursday and Friday.

Boys, who have been taking the course, will be examined on Friday morning. Those who swim 50 feet or more at this time will be awarded a "Y" button. The "Learn to Swim" campaign is open to all boys 10 years of age and over, membership in the association not being necessary.

The classes are under the leadership of Physical Director T. F. Scheffer and Boys' Work Director Harvey J. Price.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, June 3. —A death list estimated at 20 persons, and all in marine disasters, was the toll today of violent storms that have been sweeping Sweden.

TORNADOES HIT THREE WESTERN STATES; HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS

Trail of Death in Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota.

HOUSES WRECKED

Terrific Wind Causes Havoc in Twin Cities.

OMAHA, Neb., June 3. — A trail of death and property destruction today marked the paths of three tornadoes that swept over eastern Nebraska and western Iowa last night.

Four were known to have been killed in Nebraska and three in Iowa. More than a score of persons were injured.

Great property damage was wrought.

Toll of Dead May Mount.

ADAIR, Iowa, June 3.—Three persons were killed and three badly hurt by a tornado which swept east of Adair last night.

The dead: John Harris, 75, and his two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Elgin and an 8-year old son were badly injured.

The storm demolished houses and uprooted trees between Adair and Casey.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 3.—With two known dead, 24 injured and great property damage as the result of last night's terrific wind and rain storm that struck the Twin Cities and surrounding territory, the toll of dead and injured is expected to mount when communication with the storm swept area is restored.

All communication with the territory west of here for a distance of 100 miles was still cut off early today.

AUTO UPSETS; CHILD INJURED

H. A. Cronin's Car Plunges Over Cemetery Embankment.

Harold A. Cronin, 32, kiln-placer, of Columbia avenue, and his two-year-old son, Hunter, narrowly escaped serious injury when his automobile, a Ford sedan, went over a steep embankment in Riverview cemetery at 5:30 o'clock last evening. The child sustained a deep cut above the right eye and was lacerated about the face, but Cronin was unhurt.

Cronin was making a sharp turn in one of the driveways in the lower part of the cemetery, when, he claims, the steering geer on the car buckled. An instant later the machine went over the side of the hill and overturned twice before it came to a stop against a tree.

The father and son were in the car when it came to a stop. Cronin kicked one of the doors open and with his child crawled out of the machine. The boy was removed to his home in Columbia avenue where his injuries were dressed by Dr. J. A. Metz.

The sedan, badly wrecked, was pulled to the roadway by the McElravy Brothers' wreck car and hauled to a gaage.

DO YOUR OWN THINKING; STAND BY YOUR CONVICTIONS, DR. FRANK G. FOWLER'S ADVICE AS 88 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Do your own thinking, form your own opinions and then have the courage to stand by your convictions, regardless of what the world may say, was the advice to 88 young people—50 girls and 38 boys—members of the graduating class of 1925 of the high school, given by Rev. Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, at the commencement exercises in the high school auditorium last evening. His subject was "Clean Channels."

Friends of the graduates and patrons of the school filled the spacious auditorium for the exercises. The graduates marched into the auditorium before the program started, occupying the first three rows of seats, the boys on one side and girls on the other.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra under the direction of Prof. Ralph Johnson. Chorus numbers by girl and boy members of the class were given under auspices of Prof. H. F. Laughlin.

Eleven Honor Pupils

Dr. Fowler was introduced by Superintendent of Schools F. P. Geiger. Mr. Geiger, who becomes superintendent of schools at New Philadelphia next September, bade farewell to the people of the city in a few remarks at the conclusion of the commencement address and then introduced Attorney Jason H. Brookes, president of the board of education, who, assisted by Miss Florence Updegraff, high school principal, presented the diplomas.

Mr. Brookes discussed the proposed night classes and the course in ceramics. He paid a high tribute to the leadership of Miss Updegraff as principal of the high school. As the names of the graduates were called, they walked to the stage and received their diplomas.

Special certificates were awarded 11 members of the class—ten who received the highest averages during the four-year course and the "greatest effort student." The ten honor pupils, Miss Updegraff stated, had earned averages of 90 or more during the entire four-year study.

First honors went to Miss Marie Howard, whose average was 94 percent; second honors to Miss Hannah Wilson, whose average was 92.60 percent. But 05 percent separated the second and third honor pupils, Jennings Horger, third honor student, obtaining an average of 92.55 percent. The other students were: Pauline McElravy, Grace Ramsey, Linden Barnes, Dale Leibschner, Evelyn Carmen, Louis Toban and John O'Connell. The "greatest effort student" was Charles McConville, this honor having been voted by the unanimous decision of the faculty.

Dr. Fowler's Address.

Dr. Fowler, in his address to the graduates, said:

When a young fellow, it was my lot, after harvest, when there was more or less leisure, to take an ax or a mattock and go along the streams that ran through the meadows and bottom land and cut away the willow bushes from the banks. If these were left grow they would soon obstruct the channel and stop the flow of the stream, and during freshets cause the stream to overflow. To keep the stream straight and enable it to function well the channel must be kept clean. That is my subject for this evening—"Clean Channels."

Down through the valley where we lived there went winding lazily along a little creek. That creek had tadpoles, water snakes, bull frogs, turtles, catfish, bullheads, suckers and sunfish in it. I know, for I have caught them all. It had a famous swimming pool! I know, for I have caught more than one cold in it. You travel up that valley and that creek grew narrower and narrower, till it became a mere brook. Go on, and after you had traveled 10 miles, you would come to a bubbling, sparkling spring, leaping out from the side of a great hill. That was where the little Still Water began. If you could travel farther, you would go on between shale rocks, through limestone cliffs, following little veins and capillaries, gathering up seeping waters from the heart of that great hill. Then if you want to go farther you may climb your way up through rock and clay and pebbles to the rain falling on muddy road and green field, then up, up to the clouds that float against the serene blue. There is where little Still Water began.

Then turn your face the other way, yonder it goes like a great winding serpent between the silent hills, growing larger and larger all the way. Presently merges out into Big Still Water, then into the Tuscarawas river, then into the Muskingdom, then into the Ohio, then into the Mississippi, and yonder its waters go shooting out into the Mexican gulf. Kissed by the warm sunshine of the tropics, it carries its warmth to far off England, transforming a frigid island into fields and gardens of beauty. It gives fight to the Irish, music to the Welsh, thrift to the Scotch, and bull-doggedness to the English.

So "Little Stillwater" flows on by the British Isles beneath the ice-bound coasts of Siberia, it finds the beautiful Pacific, and so on and on about the great sphere. It is a part of the great Souvenir Day Will be Observed Here Friday.

"Let's give the kiddies a safe place to play."

This will be the slogan of club women and high school girls on Friday, when Souvenir day will be observed as a means of raising funds to maintain the city playground this summer, it was announced today by Mrs. John T. Bowers, chairman of the recreation committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Announcement also was made of the appointment of Frank Manton and Miss Ruth Johnsen as playground supervisors. Miss Johnson has been supervisor of the recreation center for the last two years.

Prizes of $5, $3 and $2 and five of $1 each will be awarded workers in the sale of souvenirs.

mean what he said, and to make others know he meant it.

When he was governor, certain sports, not taking the law seriously, decided to have horse races and betting, in the good old way. Indiana's laws forbade it.

Governor Marshall, assured there would be no betting, said he would believe it, and even help to make it true.

"I'll send the militia to the track with instructions to arrest every man making or taking a bet, and I'll send enough militia to do the job well."

The track did not open.

Woman, especially as she grows older, is among the most determined of created beings, and slowly, through the ages, she has been educating man, and making him, if necessary by violence.

Two recent cases:

Mrs. Alexander Norbert, aged 51, of Illinois, confessed she killed her husband, and said she would not go to state's prison. She set fire to her bed in prison and burned herself to death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Storaci, of New Jersey, mother of eight, decided that her husband deserved punishment, and killed him by pouring boiling olive oil over him as he lay in bed.

Women of refinement, rarely do such things, but all women, according to their development, find means to make men better, or make them sorry they are so bad. And, to woman's determination may be attributed practically all of men's reluctant moral betterment.

Thoughtful financiers "managing" railroads, with the ticker paper slipping through their fingers, complain. They say "workers on railroads lack the old-time loyalty and enthusiasm."

That's sad, but how do the financiers know? They never meet the men.

Yesterday the Pennsylvania railroad retired 99 men on pensions. Five had served the road faithfully for 50 years or more, and 45 for 40 years, or longer.

If railroads were loyal to their men as the men are to roads there would be less trouble.

The Laura Spelman memorial, established by Mr. Rockefeller, in memory of his wife, spent last year, in useful public work, $6,580,000.

In old days the money might have been spent in an effort to placate divine justice. Now it's used to help the living.

And that's an improvement.

The Rockefeller gift of books to German universities is especially intelligent and gratifying. Those books, helping earenst students in their work will add to man's knowledge and happiness.

ity." Enumerating the progressive stages of the advance of civilization, including freedom in religion and expression, the installation of popular education, and increasing production and a broader culture generally, he told the graduating class.

"In all this progress and all this advance it has never been possible to maintain that first essential of security without a background of military force. It is that background, that support, that service which your profession helps to provide, that is your contribution, one of the first things, one of the essentials to the civilian life of our country. You may not be actually employed in production, but you are helping to increase the value of production and maintain the public peace without which there could be no production."

While making clear his belief that ultimately, through the application of "reason," universal peace would prevail, the president indicated plainly that, in his belief, the time had not yet come to abandon the principle of protective armament.

"Though ultimately I believe peace will prevail," he said, "I have too much knowledge of the history of mankind and too much experience with the traits of human nature to dare assert that we shall never again be engaged in war."

East Will Sizzle Through Friday, is Weather Man's Tip

WASHINGTON, June 3.—High temperatures will continue, at least through Friday, in the eastern states, the United States weather bureau stated today.

Fair weather will prevail generally, but there will be local thundershowers in the lower lake region, northern New York and northern New England.

While the eastern states sweltered, frosts were reported from Washington and Oregon.

School Orchestra Members to Attend Kiwanis Luncheon

Members of the high school orchestra and Ralph Johnson, director, will be guests of the Kiwanis club at the noon luncheon meeting in the Larkins annex Thursday.

A program of musical numbers will be given by the orchestra following the luncheon. The attendance prize will be furnished by Robert Parker, Chester real estate and insurance dealer.

An inter-city meeting of the Wellsville and East Liverpool clubs will be held here Thursday evening, June 11. The program will be under the direction of the Wellsville Kiwanians.

CIRCUS' 24-HOUR MAN IS IN CITY

The "twenty-four hour man" for the John Robinson circus arrived in the city this morning to complete arrangements for the show which will exhibit here Friday.

Afternoon and evening exhibitions will be given at the Columbian park, East End. Because of the lack of railroad trackage in East End, the circus train, consisting of 30 cars, will be unloaded at the foot of Walnut street.

The circus comes to this city from Latrobe, Pa., where it will exhibit Thursday.

AUTO DRIVER IS ARRESTED

Hubert Chambers, of East End, will face Mayor Charles Brown tonight upon a charge of passing a street car while it was discharging passengers. Chambers, who was arrested by Patrolman McFarland, is alleged to have driven past a Pleasant Heights car, while it was stopped on Dresden avenue at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was released on his own recognizance.

GEORGE CHANCEY IS FINED $500

George Chancey, fireman for the American Vitrified Products company, was arrested at his home near Kountz avenue, east of Wellsville, by Turnkey William Cline and Special Officer Walter Torrence last night upon a warrant sworn to by Chief of Police Hugh McDermott, charging him with selling intoxicating liquors.

Chancey was fined $500 and costs by Mayor Brown. He made arrangements to pay.

FACES TWO COUNTS, ONE DISMISSED

Justice P. V. Mackall dismissed a charge of carrying concealed weapons, filed against Roy Justice, of Klondyke by Mrs. Jennie Eckert, a neighbor at a hearing last night. Insufficient evidence was produced to warrant a conviction, the court ruled.

Justice was fined $5 and costs upon a charge of assault and battery to which he pleaded guilty. Mrs. Eckert charged that he had struck her son, John Mills.

Masonic Lodgemen Plan Beaver Visit Thursday, June 11

Members of East Liverpool lodge No. 681, F. & A. M., will make a return visit to St. James lodge No. 457, F. & A. M., of Beaver, Thursday evening, June 11.

The trip probably will be made in a special car leaving the Broadway terminal at 6:30 o'clock. A large delegation of the Beaver lodgemen came here last fall to attend a meeting of the local Masons.

Former Grid Star Killed, Six Injured In Auto Wreck

DETROIT, June 3. — Herbert C. York, 24, former football star at Fordham University, was killed and six other men were injured, five probably fatally, today when their speeding automobile crashed into an enclosed safety zone at Grand River and West Warren avenue, and overturned.

HUSBAND DENIES MURDER CHARGE

CINCINNATI, June 3—William Davis 40, an itinerant preacher, today waived extradition and will go back to Nashville, where he is wanted in connection with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Ada Davis, who was found in the Cumberland river Saturday with her throat cut. Davis declares his innocence. Nashville detectives are now on their way here.

Police Ban Riding On Running Boards Of Motor Cars Here

Riding the running boards of automobiles is tabooed here.

As the result of the fatal automobile accident on Harvey avenue, East End, last Thursday, in which Harold Purdy was the victim, Chief of Police Hugh McDermott announced today that persons riding on the running boards of automobiles would be arrested.

Purdy, alleged to have been riding on the running board of an automobile, stepped off in front of another car driven by Charles Van Meter.

"It's a dangerous practice and must be stopped or arrests will be made," said McDermott. "Better walk along the sidewalk in safety than ride on a running board endangering your life."

Women Offer Services.

SHANGHAI, China, June 3.—Two hundred members of the American Woman's club, headed by Irene Corbally Kuhn, formerly a New York newspaper woman, and Viola Smith, formerly of San Francisco and now assistant to the United States trade commissioner, today organized a women's auxiliary and defense battalion to take an active part in the military movement to quell the rebellion of Chinese laborers and students.

The women tendered their services to the military authorities for emergency duty as chauffeurs of lorries and dispatch cars and as nurses, telephone operators, clerks and cooks.

The club has started a census of its membership with a view to placing every available American woman at work, thus relieving men for the defense patrols.

ligious education, known as the East Liverpool Council of Religious Education, is to be formed. All religious education of the city, which would be carried on in a co-operative way, will be placed in the hands of this council—such as institutes, teachers' training classes, Daily Vacation Bible schools, etc. A director of religious education will be hired to give his or her full time to this work. It is proposed to secure the best director possible—one who has been thoroughly trained in the pedagogy of religious instruction.

"The biggest and most outstanding ambition of the council will be to give religious instruction to the children in the public schools. A curriculum will be worked out by a committee of which the superintendent of the public schools will be a member. It is proposed to begin in a modest way. The director of religious education to go from building to building, giving one period of instruction each week to as many grades as can be reached. The director is to be selected by a committee appointed by the council of which the superintendent of the public schools shall also be a member.

"The entire expense of the work will be taken care of by the East Liverpool Council of Religious Education, so that not one cent of the taxpayers' money will be appropriated to this work. Mr. Geiger, the retiring superintendent, has assured the association that the plan will not create embarrassment on the part of the schools in providing time and room for the work.

"It is further proposed that no child will be permitted to enroll in any of the classes for religious instruction without presenting a signed request of the parents. A complete constitution and a code of by-laws are being formulated of which this clause will be a part, so it will be clearly seen no particular type of instruction is to be forced on the pupils of the city. It might be said at this point that this movement is an attempt on the part of the Ministerial association to meet a long felt need in giving week-day religious instruction in a way that will compare favorably with the best methods of secular education.

"The public is, of course, acquainted with the fact that several of the churches have been giving religious instruction during the present school year once a week to the children who elected to come to the churches. This method has worked quite well. But the Ministerial association feels that the proposed new method will be far in advance for several reasons. First, the children will not lose valuable time in going to and from the churches. Second, it will be much easier to adopt a unified plan of instruction. Third, the children will be provided the most modern and approved method of instruction given by a thoroughly trained teacher.

"The Ministerial association is earnest in its desire to be fair and liberal to all concerned and to bring to the children of the city such a class and quality of instruction as shall make them good citizens—having high respect and regard for the splendid tradition and laws of our country. This plan is already in vogue in many Ohio cities where it is working splendidly. The Ministerial association agrees with the last issue of the Literary Digest which prints the following:

"'All creeds are agreed in desiring to bring up their children in the knowledge and love of God, but they have been too much hedged about with doctrinal fears to agree on any one method of providing religious training for the young. The Constitution provides free a public counter at which all children, of any creed or none, may sit for their secular instruction, but for their general and inclusive religious training no means upon which all can agree has yet been devised. And here, it is pointed out, is the paradox—that the jails are filling with juveniles while their elders are disputing as to the best method of giving their children such religious training as will at least keep them out of jail. It is generally agreed that the home is failing in its chief function, and the few millions of children reached by the Protestant Sunday schools receive religious instruction on the average only half an hour a week. Catholic and Jewish children fare better in this respect. Dogmas remain intact, but, we are told, children go to the devil.

"'Some recent horrible examples, which have received their full measure of publicity, and the alarming figures on juvenile delinquency have focused the attention of observers on the fact that the moral side of education is completely overshadowed by the secular. It is true that in some states, notably Ohio, Indiana and Kansas, the method of setting aside a part of the secular school day for religious instruction by the several denominational organizations is being tried with success. All told, 1,000 cities are now using this plan, in Grand Rapids, Mich., it is provided that the educational equipment of the church schools must be approved by the superintendent of schools. Against this is the fact that in several other states school officials have held that taking time out of public school hours for religious instruction is illegal.

"'Rabbi Samuel Schulman, addressing his own congregation in a New York synagog, expresses his belief, as he is quoted in the press, "that curtailing the public-school schedule for week-day religious instruction is the solution of the problem of the relation of religious education to our public-school system. But before this can be brought about, there must be a more comprehensive discussion, and there must be a better and more thorough organization of all the religious bodies in the city." Commenting on all this disagreement over the plan to give week-day religious instruction to children outside of school, the Washington Post declares, "it is for those who are raging against the plan to propose a practical alternative that will check the rising tide of juvenile crime—if they can. Thus far they have proposed nothing.'

"There has been much discussion in New York city, both pro and con, in regard to the week-day religious education. 'However,' says the Literary Digest, 'Protestant, Catholic and Jewish teachers at a meeting presided over by Cardinal Hayes, agreed that there should be week-day religious instruction in time taken from the school.'

"The above in a general way is the plan which the Ministerial association has asked the board of education to approve, and the association believes that its fairness and constructiveness cannot be questioned."

ocean out yonder but it is "Little Stillwater" just the same.

One Sunday afternoon, two friends and myself were sitting on the bank of "little stillwater" and we conceived the idea of putting our names and addresses in a corked up bottle and throwing it into the stream, asking whoever found the botle to write us. We did this. After a few weeks I received a letter from a young lady who lived about four miles below us. I took the letter to my friends in great delight. They had not yet received an answer to their letters. Well, I wrote to the young lady. Then I received one from her saying she had never been fishing, as the letter had stated, and had found the bottle. Then I began to get wise. The two fellows had double-crossed me, one of them had written the letter. I told the young lady about it and we corresponded for some time. My two friends wondered about it all and were disappointed that they did not get the chance to give me the razz.

Keep Channel Clean.

Well, life is like "Little Stillwater." It begins back yonger in God's great hills; it reaches up to the sky; it comes out from God. "Trailing lights of glory do we come from God who is our home." It flows on through country hamlets, villages and town, where folk live. Children sit upon the bank of the stream. They bait their hooks and thrown them into the stream to see what they can catch. They write messages and cork them up in bottles and thrown them into the stream to see what answers they will bet back. That stream widens out. It emerges into greater streams. It shoots out into the great gulf. It becomes a part of the ocean, either to carry icebergs or the flowers and warm-kiss of the tropics. It flows through places where man has never gone and "by faith we see afar." That stream only cuts its way once, that is all. If I can help you to keep that channel clean, I will have done much.

I congratulate you that you are. I do not know why you are. do not know much of anything. Neither do you. When you see a man discoursing on what he knows, write him down as a man who does not know much of anything. When you find a man with a panacea for all human ills, pass him up. He is not safe to follow. Some philosophers have told us there is no reality in anything. we just think we are. The whole thing is an hallucination. Well, of course I do not believe that. If we are deceived, then there must be something to deceive, there must be something to halucinate. Then I will have to revise what I have said. I do know something. I know that I am. I know that this which is standing before you tonight is no dream; it is no joke. It may be to you but it is not to me. But that is about all I do know. Oh, of course we have a lot of theories, many of which I think are right. But who has the last word concerning these? Where is the last Court of Appeals? It is not around here anywhere. Then why do I congratulate you that you are alive? Because it is glorious to be. This is a great game. We have a great riddle to solve and that is always interesting. There is something within us that is restless, something seeking to express itself. This is something that is reaching out after something that is bigger and holier. I do not know what this something is but I know that it is there. We call it an ego; a life, a soul. I do not know what it is but I do know that it is wonderful to be in the surge of it. I also know that it is worth while. There is a great purpose back of it. There is a great destiny ahead. There is a great Mind and Heart over it all. That great Mind and Heart can be sensed. Its thoughts and powers can be appropriated. So that does not leave much of my first statement, does it? I guess I know a good deal. But after all I do not know much of anything, in the sense that it can be demonstrated. That is what I mean.

So I am not going to come to you tonight with an itemized program to be followed. I am not going to tell you to go to the drug-store to buy your beauty. I am not going to tell you to practice Walter Camp's daily dozen and you will be strong. I am not going to tell you that you have to improve your memory so as to have self confidence, nor to instruct you in so-called ethics of business to insure success. There are a lot of theories, which if practiced, would be much like a man trying to lift himself by his bootstraps. In none of these am I interested now. There are certain great fundamentals which if taken seriously lead to success. These I want to point out.

Don't Be a Parrot.

Some one has said one wholesome vigorous thought would put the average person to sleep. That is, it would be such an unusual thing, the individual would be so exhausted he would fall asleep. The first thing I want to do by way of keeping the channel clear, so the stream of life will not be obstructed is "Learn to think and think for yourselves." Not many people do that. This is an age of hand-me-down clothes. I do not suppose there are many tailor-made suits in this room. Well this is a day of hand-me-down thoughts, too. Hand-me-down suits are not bad. I wear them frequently. But hand-me-down thoughts are a tragedy. Hand-me down thoughts will kill. They will soon reduce people to the mediocrity of nominalism. God has put a brain in the uppermost place of our being, and the most important thing of that brain is to think. God has ordained us to think and when we let some one else do it for us, we are defeating the purpose of God. Some people cannot render a judgment on religion until their religious paper has spoken, or on politics until their favorite politician has announced himself. Some people wait for the Literary Digest to come before they know what they believe. Mr. Emerson, in one of his essays, gives the advice, "If you think a thing, speak out and say it before anyone else does." It does not do one much good to say a thing after some one else has said it. When a man has a thought and expresses it before any one else has said it, he feels like a free man, otherwise he is a parrot or a slave.

A great deal of the attempted effort of our day is based either on exclamatory suppression or exclamatory acceleration. The politician talks about vested interests on one hand and the spirit of the dangerous red on the other. Talk about vested interests on the one hand and there is a class that go wild in their approval and they cry, "Down with the autocrats." Talk about the reds and there is another class that goes just as wild and they cry, "Down with the agitator." But the point is, what are our vested interests? Are the men who have built our railroads, and tunnelled our hills and spanned our streams, built our mills and sailed our lakes and oceans, invested interests? If so, are we against them because they have done these things? If so would we be content to do without these things? Then the "red agitator," who is he anyway? Maybe the agitator of today will be the statesman of tomorrow. The man who advocated the recall and referendum a few years ago was an agitator; today he is a statesman. The man who a few years ago advocated government control of public utilities was an agitator, today he is a statesman.

Who are the great men of the past? Well, there is a long list of them. But we could answer the question by saying the men who have taken time to think. The popular man may be the man of the masses, but the leader, the discoverer of the new day is the man of individuality. We may say this is the day of group movement and group action. That may be but the day of individual leadership has not passed and it never will. There is an old saying in Latin, "Vox Populi, Vox Dei," the voice of the people is the voice of God. There is a big sense in which that is true. There is a bigger sense in which it is not true. The people proclaimed Jesus as King and gave Him a royal welcome to the city, and then in a few days they cried, "Crucify Him." They were creatures of circumstances. You cannot trust the masses to usher in a new day. They are interested too much in the ribald. It is said that Diogenes, the Greek cynic philosopher, was once discoursing on the streets of Athens with great eloquence on the "Beauties of Virtue," when one by one his auditors began to leave him. He suddenly broke out in a ribald drinking song, then the people began to flock back. Which will draw the larger crowd, some of the old orations or modern jazz? "Yes, we have no Bananas" is better than "Handel's Messiah." An Englishman came to this country and when he went back home he was asked about American prosperity. He said, "Everything seems to be very prosperous in America, except they do not seem to have any banas over there." Which is the more attractive, paintings of the old masters or the modern, nude sensual art of the Police Gazette or the cover page of Physical Culture? Go to the movie operators and ask them what kind of films make them the most money. The old story of Diogenes I rather think would be true today.

Masses Do Not Think.

Now, I suppose if you want to enjoy life, probably you had better not learn to think. That is if you want to enjoy life in the popular sense. If you do much thinking, you will probably have much trouble, because the masses do not think, and a thinker usually finds himself going counter to the masses. The masses drift with the stream, the thinker crooses the course of the stream. The masses have stood back of every delusion and have tried to block every movement of progress. The masses strenuously objected to the discovery that the world was round. When Jesus said "God is love" and not arrogant hatred, and that turning the other cheek by going the second mile would defeat your enemy, and then proceeded to do it, the masses said 'Crucify Him." It was the masses that kept liberty back from the slaves. It was the masses that burned the Salem witches. Galileo had to pay the price for saying that the world was round. They dragged Wendell Phillips through the streets of Boston for championing the cause of the Negro. They silenced more than one man's voice who believed in temperance, and some they silenced forever. Read of the French Revolution and see how after the mob had overthrown the foundations of human government, they turned their guns on high heaven and cried, "We must have no monarch in heaven if we would have none on earth." So they clothed a common prostitute in the vestments of a priestess and worshipped her as the goddess of Reason. Now in the midst of these things, if a man dares to think he must face the mob. Some one has said, "A popular idol is a popular mirror." What people really admire in their favorites is that they see themselves reflected. The reason that there are so many mirrors is that folks enjoy looking at themselves. Every woman has her vanity case and I am told that some men are beginning to carry them. Ye gods, folks who live in glass houses ought not to throw stones. We all like to stand before the mirror. But a mirror never threw back to a man anything but what the man wants to see. He shuts his eyes to all the rest. But a great leader, a great patriot throws back the reality; the thing we do not want. Then we take up stones and break the mirror.

So to think you must have courage; the courage of your convictions. Sup-

JUNIORS HONOR SENIOR CLASS

Entertain at Annual Banquet and Dance.

Amid a moss and palm-tree setting that revealed in true-to-detail style all the splendor of a romantic tropical scene, students of the junior and senior classes of the high school danced and dined last night in the school gymnasium on the occasion of the annual Junior-Senior banquet on Friday night of 54 members of the senior class, and for charm, variety and decorative effects far surpassed other festivities of the closing month of school.

The elaborate Florida setting in the gymnasium represented the efforts of students over several days of work. The gymnasium ceiling was practically lost in the heavy covering of Florida moss, cleverly suspended by student workers to form a green tinted canopy under which the evening's program took place. Around the floor, a background of shrubbery, with imitation orange trees, furthered the Florida effect. Small water ponds dotted the indoor "landscape." And adding greatly to the general scheme were two live alligators, small ones, which disported in one of the "ponds."

Dinner was served by ladies of the First Christian church. Following dinner, a program of toasts was given by students. Miss Helen Vernia capably enacted the role of toastmistress.

Responses were made as follows:
"Salutations"—Helen Vernia.
"Excelsior"—Paul Hannahs.
"Now, Where"—George Bell.
"Ideals"—Charles Couts.
"Optimism"—Virginia Joyce.
"Recollections"—Superintendent S. E. Daw.

During the interval between the dinner and dance, students were entertained in the auditorium by a male quartet. The singers included Ralph Marriman, Don Miller, Paul Kessell and Harold Driggs, accompanied by Mrs. A. R. McCombs.

Stillwell's orchestra provided music for the dance.

Will Visit in Jamestown.

Miss Pauline Berg, Tenth street, will leave Friday for a visit with relatives in Jamestown, N. Y.

AUDITOR FACES SALARY PROBLEM

Meeting the payroll of the safety department is a problem confronting City Auditor Fred Eckfeld.

Announcing to council members at their semi-monthly session last night that the safety fund is at low ebb and that the prospect of obtaining money with which to bolster the treasury is excedingly dark at the present time, Auditor Eckfeld asserted that far the time being at least, he is at a loss to know where the pay roll funds are coming from.

Approximately $225 was collected from fines and other sources by the police department last month, it was shown by the report of Mayor James S. Barnes.

Two petitions asking the city to relocate as many alleys were read to council. Residents in the vicinity of Riverside avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, seek a regulation allayway through from Eleventh to Twelfth street, between Riverside avenue and Main. Properties, it was said, were encroaching on the city's right of way.

Property owners in Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets are asking similar action on the part of the city on an alley between those two streets.

The alley problems were referred to the street and light committee. Service-Safety Director A. P. Dennis, Solicitor George Ingram, and this committee was given power to employ an engineer to assist them.

A communication from residents in the Central park district, who assert that recent heavy explosions which have been occurring shortly after 6 o'clock for the past several days have been annoying an invalid boy, was read to council. Mayor James S. Barnes was asked to investigate.

LADIES OF ELKS CLOSE PROGRAM

Officers of the Ladies of the Elks today announced that the lodge organization has concluded its socials for the present season.

An afternoon party originally had been scheduled for tomorrow, but as a result of the torrid weather of the past few days, the meeting has been cancelled.

ALUMNI-HIGH DANCE TOMORROW

Arrangements have been completed for the Alumni-High school dance which will be held tomorrow night in the high school auditorium, under auspices of the school athletic association.

The dance program will start at 8:30 o'clock. The Harmony Kings orchestra will provide the music. The dance is for the benefit of school athletics.

FIFTY CLOWNS WITH ROBINSON CIRCUS WHICH COMES HERE JUNE 5

Clowns, exactly 50 of them, are one of the big features of the John Robinson Circus, which will exhibit in East Liverpool on Friday, June 5. They will be active in the rings, on the stages, and also the hippodrome track throughout the afternoon and night performances.

Circuses might dispense with daring and nerve-racking aerial acts, unique and difficult balancing acts, stirring races and some animal acts, but they could not possibly endure without the clown. The clown is one cog in the circus organization that defies all efforts to prune out the unnecessary, because the clown has been a part of the circus since the early days of the wagon show. And he will remain in his niche, regardless of what the future holds in store for the circus.

Clowns interest every class of circus patrons. True, they tickle, the "kiddies" first and impress them lastingly, but the grown-ups are unable to suppress a smile when the "funny crew" in chalk white and fancy weird dress, parade around the arena, stopping only long enough to stage a comic bit of business..

The John Robinson management claims that its young regiment of clowns offer all that is good in the old method of clowning, and also have not overlooked the new features, that are to be seen nowhere else in the circus world.

Y. M. C. A. Will Take Stock At International Conclave

600 Delegates From United States and Abroad Will Discuss Work of Organization at June Meeting.

NEW YORK, June.—Closer co-operation the churches, more extended Christian work and higher standards of leadership are given as some of the principal objectives of the Young Men's Christian association, which will hold its third international conference on boys' work at Estes park, Colo., June 4 to 12, inclusive. The last conference was in 1920.

Six hundred lay and employed workers will attend the assembly in the mountains, seventy miles from Denver, it was announced by the National council headquarters here.

Meanwhile, through an elaborate survey in thirty-one of the forty-eight states, the Hawaiian islands and Canada, the association has been taking stock of itself, with a view to increasing its usefulness.

Thus, according to Albert R. Kilmer, of Brooklyn, chairman of the program committee, the association has discovered within its ranks a present tendency to do "the easier, short-time types of service on behalf of the churches."

In view of the oft-repeated statement that the Y. M. C. A. is the "right arm of the Church," the association will inquire whether it is co-operating adequately with religious bodies, and whether it is receiving due co-operation from the churches in return. A feeling prevails that there is room for improvement on both sides.

More effort needs to be made in the interest of poor boys, said Mr. Kilmer, basing his statement on the discovery, through the recent questionnaire, that 60 per cent of the boys holding memberships come from the better class of homes.

The question of whether the Y. M. C. A. is achieving its avowed objective—the spread of Chirstianity—is likely to occupy a considerable portion of the time of the assembly, because there are many within the association who wish to abandon the policy of requiring all who desire to use the building priviliges to "buy" membership.

These feel that the Y. M. C. A. would came nearer to achieving its spiritual goal if membership were divided into two classes—the "pay" membership, entitling the holder to use of the "Y" building and its equipment, and the volunteer membership, entitling him to what is known in the association as "the privilege of service."

The Y. M. C. A. workers, including secretaries both in the field and at national headquarters, and many of the 100,000 lay officers are insistent in urging higher standards for secretarial work, and are likely to make this a leading issue at the assembly.

At the conference the association hopes to lay the foundation for an extensive, if gradual, advance in standards, organization and effort.

A list of prominent secretarial and lay delegates to the assembly, made public today, includes: Dr. Basil Mathews, of Geneva, Switzerland, noted author and member of the World's committee of the "Y"; Professor William Heard Kilpatrick, of the Teachers' College, Columbia University, sometimes called "the greatest classroom teacher in America;" Miss Margaret Slattery, author and teacher; Kirby Page, world traveler and writer on economic and peace problems; Professor Harrison Sacket Elliott, of Union Theological Seminary, New York, and the Rev. Dr. Ernest Freeman Tittle, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston, Ill., selected by the Federal Council of Churches as one of the twenty-five most influential ministers in the United States.

New Motorized Patrol Wagon Remains Idle Through Chiefs Order

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind.—Although the city boasts of a brand-new motorized patrol wagon, it remains idle while the policemen march with their prisoners afoot to the station.

All because of an edict of John E. Cole, chief of police.

"Walk until you learn to drive," he ordered.

And the five cops on the force walk.

"I'm the only one on the force who can drive the car, and I'm going to walk, too, until I teach my men how to drive," Cole said.

Flapper Traced to Age of Mechanics By College Professor

BERKELEY, Cal., June.—Washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric irons, the delicatessen, the cannery and the dairy are responsible for the development of the flapper and the jelly bean, according to Dr. Paul Cadman, dean of men and assistant professor of economics at the University of California.

Despite the general belief that the flapper and the jelly bean have no acquaintance with these labor-saving devices, Dr. Cadman declares that there is a scientific basis for blaming this mechanistic age for these types of youth.

"Young people have now no home responsibilities and seek thrills away from the home, which they consider merely as a place in which to eat and sleep," Dr. Cadman asserts.

"Children have too much leisure time and consequently get into trouble. I'm sorry for them because they are the victims of the mechanistic age."

As a remedy for this condition of things Dr. Cadman suggests that parents by precept and example interest their children in seeking truth and beauty.

Saving The Banking System

The efforts of the United States Chamber of Commerce to show the merits of the federal reserve banking system will be approved by nearly all the business interests, and by a majority of other interests.

It is well that the public should be enabled to realize exactly what this banking system has done for the country, and what its particular merits are as compared with previous systems. It is conceivable that adverse sentiment, if it continued and grew, might be ready to overthrow the system by the time the charter expires, in 1934. And that, as most of the leading bankers, merchants and industrialists believe, would be a calamity.

Whatever the faults of the system, they hold that events, especially the test of the big war and its aftermath of unsettlement, have proved the fundamental stability, adequacy and democracy of this system. They point out that it has shown itself equal to unexampled public and private burdens, handling vast loans, repayments and expenditures without disturbance of business or credit, decentralizing national finance and distributing money and credit throughout the country better than was ever done before, while keeping the dollar stable.

Opposition to the federal reserve system in some sections and among some classes is not unnatural. It comes mainly from farmers and farming sections. Rural critics charge this system with responsibility for most of their financial troubles in recent years, especially for their inability to borrow all they wanted and for the ruinous prices they had to accept for their products. Figures seem to show, however, that the rural sections have had their share of national cash and credit, as compared with their share of the national wealth and business, and often more than that.

The opposition is likely to melt away with the coming of more satisfactory rural conditions, already begun. General publicity of all the available facts should help along the process.

Air Adulteration

Complaint is made to the department of commerce that ice cream is adulterated with air. The secretary of one of the state departments of weights and measures says that, on an average, one-fifth of the stuff is air. The people of his state, he explains, pay $66,000,000 a year for ice cream, and so are losing a lot of money, even if they don't know it.

The question, therefore, arises whether air may properly be classed as an adulterant, in ice cream. And if so, whether the same principle should apply to other food stuffs.

Come to think of it, whipped cream has a lot of air in it, too. Also charlotte russe, and angel cake, and pop-overs, and the meringue on lemon pie. Somebody should start a crusade to squeeze the air out of all these things, along with ice cream, and sell everything by weight instead of volume.

Mobilization Day

The general staff of the army wanted to hold a defense day mobilization in connection with Armistice Day. It was a rather natural combination, as practical military men saw it. But it looked different to officials and private citizens concerned with sentiment and diplomacy. There was a public protest of considerable dimensions.

"It is all right to mobilize for national defense," people said, "but why mobilize on the day when the nations laid down their arms? That day means peace."

The president thought so, too, and accordingly directed that November 11 should be kept sacred to peace, and that if Mobilization Day is to be joined with any national holiday, it should be celebrated on the Fourth of July. Which seems a quite appropriate combination.

A Long-haired Court

A good many English women, and some American women, wish now that they hadn't bobbed their hair. Queen Mary says no bobbed heads are wanted at ecurt. Women ambitious to appear at royal functions must cover their bobs or stay away.

As a result, switches are in demand. Every woman presented will manage, somehow, to present an apparently full head of hair.

Men, however, needn't laugh. There was a time when no man dared appear at court without a wig.

And the modern women may live in hope. If the Prince of Wales marries and ascends the throne, it's a safe bet that England will have a bobbed queen.

These fine spring days the thrifty home-owner is working and saving harder than ever, to get enough of the mortgage paid off so he can buy a new car.

"Labor—all labor is noble and holy." And spring fever is a generous willingness to let other people enjoy the blessedness of it.

Anybody who has never seen Niagara had better hurry. Scientists say it will have eaten its way back to Erie and disappeared in 20,000 years.

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All The Trains— By Fontaine Fox

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 3.—It is the hoary argument that the fault with small towns is that everybody knows your business. Yet I do not believe there is any place in the world where so much about your business is known as in New York.

The New Yorker must find a more secretive place than a mere closet to hide the family skeleton. People who have never met know all about each other—the good along with the bad. And I do not believe that anywhere can a few threads be woven into such a colorful fabric of fancy as here.

I have hailed so many of these fabrications that I have stopped my ears to gossip. A Wall Street capitalist dined with a strange lady in a restaurant off the beaten path down town. He saw no one he knew. The next day bridge and tea tables crackled with gossip.

Happily married for years, he was now permanently off the familiar reservation. It came to his ears and slimy anonymous letters reached his wife. The real story! The lady was his wife's sister. She met him down town because he was tied up at his office until late.

They were on their way to a hospital to visit his wife and her sister who were ill. "If my wife had happened at the time to be out-of-town and the circumstances were just as innocent," he said, "a serious rift in my domestic affairs might have resulted."

There are very few theatrical and motion picture stars to whom gossip has not pointed as drug addicts. The percentage is so small as to be negligible. To this day the story persists that two very rich men died in a New York hotel of wood alcohol poisoning. They really died of pneumonia.

The head of a big corporation was being fitted for reading glasses. Due to a lotion dropped in his eyes, he was asked to wear smoked glasses the next day. That night three reporters phoned him for confirmation of a ridiculous rumor that a scored woman had hurled acid in his face.

Perhaps the gruffest and yet beloved stage director on Broadway is Julian Mitchell, a veteran. He is almost stone deaf but he directs singing and dancing numbers. He receives the tempo through vibrations although he does not hear a note. One of Broadway's most accomplished young dancers cannot hear a note.

With the sale of the Astor mansion to a young immigrant it is predicted the ornate strip on upper Fifth avenue known as Millionaire's Row will be no more in five years. A number of de-luxe apartment houses now dot the district. Lower Fifth has two five and ten cent stores and two white tile restaurants. And slowly but surely the fashionable five o'clock parade is moving to Park avenue. Sic gloria mundi—and a stack of wheats!

In the Park Avenue promenade one often sees a clear cut cameo out of the 90's. He is as erect as the eagle and as precise as Thomas A. Edison's signature. A square topped derby tops the great shock of silver white hair and the walking stick has a gold knob. When I see him I somehow thing of the race of the Natchez and Mississippi. And for once I was right. He was the pilot of a Mississipi river steamer at one time.

I do not believe anything excites the New York curosity so much as the hoisting of a safe from the sidewalk to some floor of a building. It is usually almost necessary to ring for reserves. I was watching this sort of operation near the Belmont the other afternoon. A policeman kept prodding the crowd to move on. A blind accordian player strolled directly under the safe and began playing until led away. Coins were showered into his cup. And in the midst of the confusion I had my pocket picked again for the fourth time in this wicked city. I'm even going to stop running after fire wagons in the future.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Need for Half-Cent Coin.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3. — With wheat at $1.00 a bushel, taking into consideration freight and present operating costs in the baking industry, bread should wholesale at eight cents per pound loaf. With wheat at $1.55 per bushel, the wholesale price of bread should be nine cents per pound.

Or, to state the problem in another way, a barrel of flour yields on an average 290 one-pound loaves of bread. With an advance or a decrease in the price of flour of $2.90 per barrel, the baker can adjust his business by a corresponding advance or reduction of one cent in the price of a loaf of bread.

Smaller fluctuations in the cost of wheat or flour can not be offset by similar changes in the price of bread because the latter must be at least one cent, it being impossible to fix a price with a fraction of a cent. Should the bread price be increased or decreased a full cent the baker will get too much or too little.

Thus the arguments showing the need for a half-cent coin are summed up and the prospect is presented of another drive on congress for legis-

The Slender Woman Wins!
REDUCE Your Figure To Ideal Proportions with DR. FOLTS' SOAP.

"I have had such wonderful results from using one cake of Dr. Folts' Soap that I felt it my duty to write and tell you about it. Just a little over a week ago I received it, and having used it every day since, I find that I have lost 12 pounds."—C. L., of Youngstown, Ohio.

"I AM A MASSEUSE, AND HAVE used Dr. Folts' Soap for several fat people with very good results."—Mrs. Turvill, Chicago.

"I HAVE USED TWO CAKES of Dr. Folts' Soap, and already lost 5 pounds. It is the ideal external way to take off fat. I tried them all."—Mrs. Fisher.

"Dr. Folts' Soap has wonderfully helped me. I was unusually fat on my arms and shoulders, which it has removed. I certainly will recommend Dr. Folts' Soap."—T. Chils, Springfield.

"I FIND DR. FOLTS' SOAP DOES all you claim it to do."—Mrs. Mahon, Baltimore.

"I HAVE PURCHASED A BOX OF Dr. Folts' Soap, and find it is excellent—better than anything I have ever used to reduce."—Mrs. Forsythe, Orlando.

"I FIND THAT TO USE DR. FOLTS' SOAP three times a week is also wonderful for stiff, sore joints."—Mrs. Black, of Decatur.

Reduce your ankles and legs with DR FOLT'S soap

.....Dr. Folts soap is the up-to-date way to reduce arms, legs, hips, double chin.

Why should you turn to diets, exercise or drugs—now that a positive and ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS EXTERNAL way to melt excess fat from any part of the body without affecting other parts, is offered to you? To quickly get ideal slender lines all you need to do is to wash every night from five to ten minutes the parts you wish to reduce, with a good lather of DR. FOLTS' SOAP (but be sure to get the original reducing soap—DR. FOLTS'. Avoid imitations, "so-called just as good"). Dr. Folts' Soap, the original reducing soap, has for the last two years proven that it could really reduce fat people.

This soap, as soon as applied, is absorbed by the tissues, and suppresses excessive fat without any possible chance of harming the most delicate skin. It has been found ideal to get rid of double chins, because the skin is not left flabby or wrinkled after the reducing. Fat men and women are now using this wonderful soap with amazing results. Reductions of several inches in hips and bust are of common occurrence every day. Try it yourself. Go to any good drug or department store, get DR. FOLTS' SOAP (beware of imitations). If your druggist is out of it, he can get it for you from his wholesaler, or you can send a check or money order direct to the Scientific Research Laboratories, 350 W. 31st St., N. Y. C. DR. FOLTS' SOAP sells for 50 c. a cake, three for $1.20.

Take off that double Chin!

Dr. Folts Soap takes off fat.

SOCIETY

Three Local Girls In 1925 Class at Ohio University

Marking the close of the one hundred and twenty-first year of Ohio University, Athens, 433 young men and women will be given college degrees and diplomas June 9. Of this class, Miss Elsie Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall of Wyoming Place, Pleasant Heights, will receive her diploma in kindergarten, while Misses Bertha and Mary Bennett, daughters of E. K. Bennett of Jackson street, will graduate in elementary education.

A commencement picnic will be served under the famous McGuffey elks on Alumni day, June 8, when alumni, seniors and their parents will be guests of the university. Other events on the three-day program include: Senior class farewell breakfast, alumni golf tournament, senior-alumni convocation on the campus, dedication of the new beech tree by the senior alumni-varsity baseball game, college play, campus illumination and serenade, alumni luncheon and the president's reception.

Dr. Fosdick will be guest of honor at the alumni reception, at which the address will be given by Mrs. Helen Reinherr Copeland of '05.

Birthday Anniversary Observed.

Celebrating the eleventh birthday anniversary of her daughter, Martha McKee, Mrs. Charles McKee delightfully entertained a group of young folks recently in her home in St. Clair avenue. Music and games were the pastimes. A luncheon was served by Mrs. McKee, assisted by her daughter, Miss Evelyn, and her mother, Mrs. J. T. Smith. Covers were arranged for 20 guests.

The honor guest was the recipient of many gifts.

C. D. of A. Card Party.

One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the card party given last evening in St. Aloysius school auditorium, West Fifth street, under the auspices of the Catholic Daughters of America. Euchre and five hundred were the diversions. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Celia Flesch, Miss Margaret Betts, Mrs. Bertha Garner, Miss Juaniata Harris, Mrs. Alice Capwell, Joseph Keuper, Joseph McKenna, John Hughes, John Scully and M. F. McKeever.

Luncheon was served by the social committee, of which Miss Rose McCarron was chairman.

Seattle Club Meeting.

Mrs. Sarah Kinsey will be hostess to the members of the Seattle club in her home in Almont street, Thursday evening.

Missionary Society Program.

Auxiliary No. 2, of the Young Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church, met last evening in the social rooms of the church. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Maud C. Bean. Mrs. Mary Faulk led the devotionals, and Miss Jessie White offered prayer. Mrs. S. E. Fisher was in charge of the foreign topic, "South America. Miss Edna Simms discussed the home topic, "Our Colored Neighbors in America." Mrs. William Baker gave a vocal solo, "Leave It With Him," by Ellis, accompanied by Miss Adda McLane. Mrs. W. T. Wilson reviewed the Mission study. A report from the recent convention was given by Mrs. Howard Blake.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Carl Faulk invited the society to attend a picnic at her summer home. The date will be announced later. Refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Mrs. Norman Pilgrim was chairman.

Meeting of Ladies of Eagles.

Ladies of the Eagles will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Eagles' temple, Broadway.

Pollyanna Club Session.

Members of the Pollyanna club will be entertained tonight in the home of Mrs. Edward Aley, of Alton street.

Mrs. Isaac Fryman Hostess.

A group of friends was entertained recently at the home of Mrs. Isaac Fryman, of Kountz avenue. The informal social hours were spent with music, dancing and games, after which a two-course luncheon was served by the hostess.

Special guests included Miss Nina and Agnes Peterson, of Highland avenue.

Mrs. James Miles Entertains.

Members of the Heeneekis club were entertained recently by Mrs. James Miles in the home of Mrs. J. J. Grafton of Fourteenth street, Wellsville. A short business session was held, during which colors and pins for the club were selected. Music and games were the social diversions, after which a three-course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. J. Grafton. Miniature American flags were given as favors.

A special guest was Mrs. Nellie Moore.

The next meeting of the club will be held June 11, in the home of Mrs. William Croxall of Shadyside avenue.

Mission Society to Meet.

The Mission society of St. John's Lutheran church will meet tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the lecture room of the church.

Robinson Family Reunion.

The Robinson family reunion was held last evening at Tuscarawas park, Barberton. Sixty-eight members were present from East Liverpool, New Castle, Sebring, New England, W. Va.; Canton, Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Chicago.

John Robinson, of Kenmore, was elected president of the reunion association; Mrs. Roxie Garland, of Barberton, secretary, and Mrs. Alva Nicholson, treasurer.

Among the guests from East Liverpool were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Robinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson and Miss Gladys Robinson, all of Sophia street, and Mr. and Mrs. William Frankhouser, of Pleasant Heights.

Plumber Thought he Needed New Pipes

"My stomach and intestines were always full of gas and I often had severe colic attacks. The pain and soreness caused me to think I neded a new set of pipes. Since taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy all this has disappeared and my only trouble now is to make enough dough to buy all the food I'd like to eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal muscus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including apppenditicis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

How to Solve Puzzle.

The best way to solve this cross-word puzzle is to run over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms in search of evident or "easy" words. If horizontal, the word you are looking for must extend crosswise from the number to the first shaded stop on the right; if vertical, it must extend downward from the number to the first shaded stop below. When finished, the words should read equally well crosswise and downward.

Crime Increase Fills Japan's Jails; Business Depression is Blamed

TOKYO, June.—Japan's jails are full. The rapid increase in business depression, has resulted in an unprecedented number of prison sentences, and the result is that jail authorities are having a hard time trying to accommodate all the offenders the courts send to them. There are fifty-four prisons in the country, nad at the end of April there were 39,978 prisoners confined in them.

Women

Who Have Found Driving a Tiring, Joyless Task—

now are turning to the car which makes driving a delightful, thrilling, healthful pastime.

Hundreds of women who find driving ordinary cars an unpleasant task, have turned or are turning to the Chrysler Six.

Hundreds of others who had actually given up driving because they found it too difficult, too nerve straining, have discovered that driving a Chrysler Six is a delightful pastime.

Hundreds of young women and girls—those whose pride is smartness, beauty, and alertness—are preferring the Chrysler to all other cars. In the most exclusive private schools, in the Junior League, in the smartest social groups, one Chrysler sells another—a growing preference that makes the youthful and red-blooded everywhere, aspire to Chrysler ownership.

Because of its ease of control—which women everywhere assure us is entirely unequaled—women have, in a special sense, made the Chrysler Six their car.

Never, say women who have driven it, has there been a car so easy to handle as the Chrysler Six.

It is extraordinarily convenient to manipulate into the average city parking space.

Of course, the unique delight which comes to a Chrysler Six owner every time she or he takes the wheel, is due not to a few features—but to every feature of this remarkably engineered car.

Every woman who loves driving but finds it a task should be delighted to learn the vast difference of driving the Chrysler Six. We are eager to send a car to your door for a demonstration, yourself at the wheel if you wish to experience the newest thrill in motoring.

Riding ease and roadability based on gross tonnage, extreme wheel base and generous springs, are costly and inconvenient luxuries.

The Chrysler Six is comparatively light in weight for economy and easy handling.

It combines roominess with compactness to afford easy parking. It rides as solidly as a two-ton car; it takes the bumps as easily as the ordinary Leviathans of the road.

And wherever the Chrysler goes all women admire its grace and beauty, and envy the delighted possessor of so smart a vehicle.

Campbell Duvall, Farmer, Meets Death in Trolley Crash

Campbell Duvall, 61, farmer residing at Putnam's Ridge, Cross Creek, Brooke county, was killed almost instantly and his companion, James Cronin, 26, Wellsburg, sustained a broken arm and internal injuries last evening when an interurban car on the Wellsburg Steubenville division of the Wheeling Traction company crashed into a stalled truck being driven by the latter in the north end of Wellsburg. Cronin was removed to the Ohio Valley General hospital in Steubenville, where it is said he has a fighting chance for recovery.

Cronin and Duvall, it is said, were driving north towards Follansbee when they encountered an obstruction along the road placed there while repairs are being made. In attempting to turn the truck he was driving, Cronin, it is said, backed onto the car tracks. The street car coming from Steubenville turned the bend and crashed into the vehicle before it could be brought under control. Coroner J. B. Wilkinson of Brooke county, was called to the scene and after a brief examination of the victim's body and hearing the testimony of witnesses returned a verdict of accidental death.

Duvall is survived by his wife, two daughters and three brothers, including Attorney Marshall Duvall of Steubenville.

HOUSE DEFEATS GAS TAX BILL

A four-cent gasoline tax was defeated by the house of delegates yesterday, although by a margin so close that with two members who favored the bill changing their votes to put them in a position where they could move reconsideration it was possible the question might be reviewed.

The bill was lost on a vote of 44 to 38 after having weathered a series of moves to amend it. The first of these was made by Delegate Beard who proposed that 20 per cent of the tax paid within the limits of a city or town be returned to the city or town for street maintenance. This was defeated and another motion by the same delegate to make the provision for 15 per cent was ruled out on a point of order. An amendment offered by Delegate Hawkins to refund the tax paid on gasoline used for boats, airplanes, tractors, dyeing establishments and uses except for automobiles was defeated.

INSTALL PASTOR HERE TONIGHT

Plans have been perfected for the ordination and installation of Rev. W. J. H. McKnight as pastor of the First United Presbyterian church here this evening. Rev. J. O. Campbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, of East Liverpool, and clerk of the Steubenville presbytery, will preside. Rev. G. M. McKnight, father of the candidate and pastor of the South Park United Presbyterian church of Buffalo, N. Y., will preach the ordination sermon and lead in the ordination prayer.

Rev. L. J. Davison, pastor of the Fidst United Presbyterian church of East Liverpool, will address the pastor and Rev. J. B. Brown, pastor of the Toronto United Presbyterian church, will address the people. George C. Holliday, an elder of the Chester congregation, will read the edict. A reception will be tendered Rev. and Mrs. McKnight at the close of the services.

PISTOL LICENSING BILL IS PASSED

By a vote of 20 to 5 the senate yesterday afternoon passed the new fire arms bill which would give the governor and the superintendent of the department of public safety, with the approval of the governor, power to revoke licenses for carrying weapons without notice. The bill also provides that permits, after applicants have fully complied with the law, may be granted by circuit courts while in vacation.

Another provision in the bill is that permits may be issued only to American citizens who have been residents of the state for at least one year.

BROOKE COUNTY MEN INDICTED

The Brooke county grand jury yesterday reported 28 true bills, 19 of which were felony indictments, in Brooke county circuit with Judge J. B. Sommerville presiding. The felony indictments were as follows:

Louis Tarcino, possessing still.

John Celeravassa, possessing still.

Arthur Thompson and Wilbur Gillette, three indictments, highway robbery, theft of mony and felonious assault.

Charles Fugit, dry lay charge.

Steve Kendrick nad Guy Stewart, two indictments, auto accessories theft, grand larceny.

Elwood Molloy, two indictments grand larceny and burglary.

Tom Clark and Bob Jackson, two indictments, highway robbery, burglary.

Tom Clark and Bob Jackson, two indictments, highway robbery, burglary.

Oscar Maryland, disposing of stolen goods.

MIDDLE RUN MAN HELD TO COURT

Tony Lazika, Middle Run, was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond when arraigned last evening before Mayor Frank Riley charged with violating the liquor laws.

He was arrested in his home Monday evening by Chief of Police Brady Seevers and Officer Arch Dalrymple who found a complete still in the house. He pleaded guilty when he faced the mayor.

Games Scheduled Here.

Knowles, Taylor & Knowles team will be the attraction here tomorrow evening when they meet Manager Frank Riley's fast stepping league leaders in what is expected to be one of the hardest fought battles of the season. The visitors will be accompanied by a large delegation of rooters.

Prayer Services.

Prayer services will be conducted this evening in the various local churches with pastors in charge of the devoticnals.

Ball Team Organized.

Chester A. C. baseball team composed mostly of former high school players has organized for the season and are anxious to book games with all teams in this section either at home or abroad. Games can be arranged by addressing Max Tuttle.

Guild Members to Meet.

Members of the Women's Guild of St. Mathew's Episcopal church will meet this evening with Mrs. A. Hulse at her home in California avenue.

Premier Mussolini Italy's Savior, Believes Otto Kahn

Noted Banker Characterizes Dictator as Greatest Statesman in Europe.

PARIS—After a whirlwind European tour which carried him to thirty-one different places in sity-three days, Otto Kahn has just arrived in Paris still under the spell of the man he characterizes as "the greatest statesman in Europe, Benito Mussolini."

"Contrary to all that has been written against him, Mussolini is not an enemy to liberty," said the American financier in an interview with International News Service. "He is, however, a man that realizes that liberty can, like every good thing, be abused and that likewise it must fit itself into the structure and welfare of the nation.

Restores Order

"The Roman premier is one of the very few statesmen who has had the courage not to bend the knee before the eighteenth century conceptions of government, conceptions which were resolutely rejected by the wise men who framed the American Constitution.

"As a devoted friend of Italy, profoundly appreciative of its genius and convinced of its great destiny, I congratulate the Italian people upon their splendid and fearless leader, who, supported by the masses, has restored order and tranquility, has brought efficiency, reform and progress into the administration of government.'

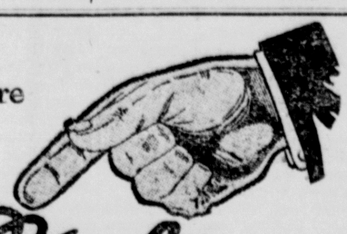

"America's ambassador of art," as one Paris newspaper has called him, finds it difficult to understand how well-meaning Italians can fail to admire Mussolini as a great man and a patriot, whatever their political sympathies be. They should be grateful to him for the incalculable services which he has rendered to Italy. Mr. Kahn concedes that extraordinary ways of government were necessary to carry out these extraordinary achievements.

"But," he added, "revolutions do not run in normal ways, nor can they restore normal functionings until the principal aims which they seek to cure have been consolidated and reasonably secured."

Italy's return to a normally functioning system of government in the appropriate form is only a matter of time, prophesies the American banker.

FRESH AIR CAMP TO OPEN JULY 6

Will be Maintained by County Public Health League.

The Columbiana county fresh air camp will open on the W. K. George farm, Madison township, Lincoln highway, July 6, and close August 31, it was announced today. Final arrangements for the opening of the camp are now being made.

It is through the offices of the Columbiana Public Health league that the summer camp is financed, this being a voluntary organization of persons interested in child health. Funds for this purpose were raised through the sale of Christmas seals.

Any undernourished child from the county, outside of East Liverpool, is eligible to be admitted at the summer camp. The object of the camp is purely nutritional and educational, and children who have been exposed to tuberculosis will be given first choice. No child now suffering with tuberculosis or any other communicable disease will be admitted in the camp.

No charge is made for the keep of children at the summer camp, but parents who desire are permitted to make voluntary contributions to the Public Health league. Twenty-five children will be admitted to the camp this year, and they will be permitted to remain during the eight weeks of camp.

The camp will be directed by Miss Louise Steel, a graduate nurse, who will be assisted by two dietitians, a play director and an assistant.

Selection of the children who will be permitted to enter the camp is under the jurisdiction of the county board of health, and applications for entrance are now being filed with County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church at his office in Lisbon.

WOOL GROWERS CALLED TO MEET

A meeting of the Columbiana County Wool Growers' association has been called to convene in the offices of the County Farm Bureau at 1:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon, at which time it will be decided when wool will be shipped to the warehouses of the Ohio Sheep & Wool Growers' association.

Wool stacks are now obtainable at either the office of the farm bureau or at the warehouse of the Kensington Supply Co.

Shearing of sheep has been finished on many farms. It is likely that the Columbiana county growers this year will follow the custom of the past in shipping to the Horkeimer warehouse at Wheeling, which is the selling agent for the Ohio association for all wool shipped from this district of the state. Between 30 and 40 tons of wool are expected to be shipped out of this county this season.

Toronto

Ladies' night of the Kiwanis club was enjoyed Tuesday evening when a splendid program of stunts, music and readings were provided by the wives of members of the club under the chairman ship of Mrs. A. W. Moreland. Those who conducted the several stunts and acted as judges were Mrs. Edward G. Casey, Mrs. E. B. Goodlin, Mrs. Harry Irons, Mrs. O. S. Williams, Mrs. A. R. Evans and Mrs. Forrest Richmon. Strange telephone calls from all points received by Mrs. Edward Casey during the entire evening brought forth much merriment, as did the races and other stunts. Vocal solos by Mrs. Dohrmann Stratton, and readings, two-in-one style, by Miss Elda Cusick and Miss Dorothy Irons, were features of the program. President R. C. Cassidy paid a tribute on behalf of the club and those present to the eight members of the G. A. R. present, and group singing filled the balance of the evening. The ladies of the Methodist Protestant church furnished the luncheon, the tables being decorated with a color scheme of red, white and blue. Aside from the members, 54 guests were present, including Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rodgers, Follansbee, W. Va.

Running Across.

Word 1. The book of books. In the picture.

Word 4. To make into an act or law.

Word 5. A little cat.

Running Down.

Word 1. What dishes do when they fall on the floor.

Word 2. Any large four-footed animal.

Word 3. What the item written in a ledger or diary is called.

Yesterday's Puzzle Answered

TO WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

Dutch Settlers Plan Invasion of Canada During Present Year

MONTREAL, P. Q., June.—Shortage of farm land in Holland will result in a heavy influx of Dutch settlers to Canada this year, according to immigration officials here.

"Agents of the Dominion government in The Hague and Rotterdam are preparing for the movement of thousands of farmers from the Netherlands this Summer, said an official. "There is not enough land available in the Netherlands for agricultural expansion of the present population.

"These farmers are turning to Canada for their opportunity. In 1924 several thousand Dutch settlers arrived in Canada, most of whom were farmers, and went on the land.

"The new Dutch settlers will to a large extent be placed on farms in the prairie provinces."

A COVINGTON, KY., WOMAN

Makes Remarkable Recovery

Mrs. Harry Ashcroft Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Severe Illness and Pain

MRS. HARRY ASHCROFT
632 BEECH AVENUE, COVINGTON, KY.

Covington, Ky.—"I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my housework as I could not stand because of the bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen. I sat down most of the time and did what I could do in that way—as washing dishes, etc. One day a book describing Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines was put in my mail box. I saw how the Vegetable Compound had helped others so I gave it a trial. I had to take about a dozen bottles before I gained my strength, but I certainly praise this medicine. Then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine for poor blood. I was cold all the time. I would be so cold I could hardly sit still and in the palms of my hands there would be drops of sweat. I also used the Sanative Wash and I recommend it also. You may publish this letter and I will gladly answer letters from women and advise my neighbors about these medicines." —Mrs. HARRY ASHCROFT, 632 Beech Avenue, Covington, Kentucky.

Mrs. Boyer Also Found Help

Gilman City, Missouri.—"I was in such a condition that I could not eat nor sleep to do me any good and I felt draggy all the time. My head ached, my right side and back would almost kill me at times, and I could be on my feet only a short while at a time. I was irregular and so nervous, irritable and despondent that I thought I could not stand the strain much longer. I had been this way more or less for ten years, but the last two years was just terrible. I took medicines, but got little relief until I began to take the Vegetable Compound. I took three bottles before I could see any change at all. I have taken seven in all and am improving right along. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and take the Liver Pills. I can do most of my work now, and I live on a farm and there is lots of it to do. I wash, iron, hoe the garden, raise chickens and tend to the milk." —Mrs. T. M. BOYER, Gilman City, Missouri.

lation re-establishing the coins of smaller value which have not been minted for almost three-quarters of a century. This drive, if it materializes, will be lead by the baking industry.

S. S. Langendorf, a prominent San Francisco baker, has taken the lead in the movement and is sounding out his associates in the basic food business to ascertain whether they believe it worth while to bring their troubles to Washington.

Under existing conditions, he says, the baker is forced to be either a profiteer, a speculator, a philanthropist or a goat. His average net profit on large volume production is one-half cent per net pound. An advance in flour prices of about $1.35 over his basic flour cost practically wipes out the baker's profit. He may add a full cent to the bread price, thus getting too much and laying himself open to charges of extortion, or he may do business without a profit for a time, gambling on the chance that there will come a drop in the cost of flour that will enable him to recoup his losses or make up the profit he has foregone.

Fear of Public Censure.

"We are of the opinion," continues Mr. Langendorf, "that the introduction of a half-cent denomination of coin would be an aid in adjusting bread prices whenever conditions warrant a change and so work to the better satisfaction of the public as well as the baker.

"Under the present coinage, retail bread prices can only be increased or decreased in units of a cent. Flour may fluctuate as much as $2.00 a barrel and bakers are often prevented from raising the price of bread because of the fear of being accused of profiteering. Few commodities are so cheap now that it is necessary to split pennies in fixing their value. The price of butter or of eggs blithely jumps a nickel at a time and the housewife is so used to the changing scale that she never bothers to check up in her grocery slips. But let there be an advance of a single cent in the cost of a loaf of bread and everybody is ready to go gunning for profiteers. That is why, with an advance in the price of flour of from 50 cents to $1.75, the baker usually absorbs this increase at a great disadvantage to himself.

"With a half-cent coin the baker could adjust his price of bread one-half cent per pound with an advance or a decrease of $1.00 to $1.50 per barrel in flour prices, which would offset the prevailing increase or decrease in the cost of flour and reflect itself to an equivalent amount in the retail or consumer price."

It is declared that under present conditions, in order to protect himself in a fair profit, the baker must be a flour speculator. He can not adjust his bread prices as frequently as can other industries such as flour milling, sugar refining, coffee, and the like. Flour mills can adjust their prices daily in accordance with the increase or decrease in the price of wheat. For every cent advance in wheat, flour is advanced five cents. With a certain number of points advance in the raw sugar market the price of refined sugar is altered, daily, if necessary, to conform with the price of raw sugar.

Very frequently inharmonious relations existing between bakers in a given community are due to the fact that one group of bakers has been fortunate in making flour purchases on a low market while another group was purchasing on the current higher market. The successful speculators are thus sitting pretty, as the slang of the day puts it.

What It Means To Consumers.

The difference to consumers in a change of one cent in the retail price of bread, it is pointed out, amounts to only $2.00 per year to the individual. On the basis of the average family, which economists have decided to consist of 3.3 adults, this would mean less than $7.00 annually, and the bakers think that, comparatively speaking this is nothing to get greatly excited over, so far as the public is concerned while it spells prosperity or ruin to their industry.

The government ceased the coinage of half-cent pieces in 1857. The coins continued in circulation for many years after that date, however, and many of them are still out, although it has been fully half a century since their existence was reflected in commodity prices. Most of the half-cent pieces now out are in the hands of coin collectors and are heard of only in their transactions.

Periodically there comes a revival of the demand that congress direct the mint to resume the production of the fractional coin. There was no bill to that end introduced at the last session of congress and no measure is now in the hands of committees of either house or senate, but with the bakers bestirring themselves it is regarded as probable that the fight will be on next winter. Whether there is a real need or a formidable public demand for the coin of small value is always a debatable question.

Opposition to the proposal always come from the manufacturers and users of slot machines of various kinds, for none of these machines has a slot that will receive a new coin. This opposition is of the most vigorous kind.

Other objectors to the innovation—and the half-cent piece has been out so long that to restore it is the equivalent of an innovation — include the manufacturers and users of cash registers. These machines, as they are constructed today, have no keys to record fractional cent sales.

In some lines of merchandise where bargain sales are featured the half-cent coin is viewed with favor by a few dealers. For the most part, however, it is claimed that those who like to advertise articles with fractional cent prices prefer to use that as a bait to effect sales in multiples rather than of the single article—two for 25 cents, rather than one for 12½ cents, and so on.

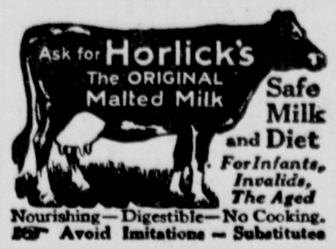

Interestingly enough, one source of opposition to a coin of smaller value comes from people who have to look after the business affairs of churches. Too many pennies now are dropped into collection plates, it is said, and to have half-cent coins would mean a material shrinkage in church receipts. Thus is the price of worship linked with the cost of bread.

Subway Planned.

CHILLICOTHE, June.—In compliance with the request of city officials engineers of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Norfolk & Western railroads have submitted tentative plans and estimates for a subway at the main street crossings. The railroad engineers' estimate of the cost of this improvement is $416,000, compared with City Engineer Richards' estimate of $276,000. Accepting higher units of cost on labor and material accounts for the railroad engineers' higher estimate.

WHO IS AT FAULT?
Why the Carpenters' Strike?
The Building Construction Employers Association and its members have been, are and will be ready to submit their case to arbitration. It is their contention that $10 a day for carpenters is fair and reasonable, and that to increase this wage will cripple building, increase rents—already too high for men in other lines who have taken a wage cut and who perhaps are not working regularly—and benefit neither the carpenters themselves, their employers or the public.
The Carpenters Union will not arbitrate. It says "Eleven dollars a day," and prefers to keep its members out of work rather than have them steadily employed at the $10 a day wage they have been receiving.
Which of the participants in this dispute has the public welfare at heart—the contractors who are willing to submit their case to arbitration, or the carpenters who won't?

City Industrial League Clubs Submit Their Final Player Lists

Riley Swaps DeLong For Pitcher Digman of Laughlin Outfit

Both Newell and Chester Clubs Benefit by Trade; C. & P. Shops Take Over Wellsville Nine; Eddie Davis at Helm of Trotters Entry; Series With Midland League Winner is Planned.

One trade, in which Catcher DeLong, of the Chester club, goes to Laughlin for Digman, pitcher and first baseman, was consummated at a meeting of the City Industrial league Tuesday evening in the chamber of commerce rooms.

The deal will give Manager Barney Bricelin of Laughlin a catcher which he has been needing badly since the return of Smith to Clarksburg, W. Va., and the inability of Robinson to play regularly.

Manager Riley, of Chester, with three backstops, Potts, W. McMath and DeLong, could well afford to let go the brilliant young backstop, who can also infield as well, for a man to replace Jackson, who temporarily is working out of the city.

Digman is a smart pitcher and when not on the hilltop can play first or right field with equal ability.

Both players can hit, so the two teams are regarded as having been greatly strengthened by the trade.

All the league club managers, according to their before-season agreement, turned in their list of players, 15 for each club beside the pilots, for the balance of the season.

In Wellsville the club has been taken over by the C. & P. railway shops with the veteran player and director, W. A. Brooks, as manager and John Dugan as secretary. Dewey Morgan, who until now has been the club's director, will continue playing on third base.

The other members of the team are John and Carl Morgan, catchers; William Rager, Harry Shipley, Bert Vance and Denver Manning, outfielders; Dewey Morgan, Delmer Manning, Clarece Runyon and Harry Dustman, infielders; George Kunzler, George Leatherberry, John Calhoun, Percy Wyant and Emmett Patterson, pitchers.

Manager Bricelin, of Laughlin, has the following men: De Long, Reese, Riser, Babb, Sayers, Watson, Myers, V. Bailey, McConnell, Tisher, H. Stroble, L. Davis, Briggle, A. Smith and Werkheiser.

Eddie Davis will direct the Trotter team on the field from now on while J. W. Fowler will continue as business manager. D. Hester, the veteran catcher, will be the third member of the club's board of startegy.

The Trotter-Chevrolet aggregation is as follows: Roy Pollock, H. Herbert, A. and E. Bayley, C. Parsons, "Becky" Barr, "Sonny" Deshler, Charles Kinsay, Catchers Hunselman, C. Brooks and D. Hester, Pitcher Kiddar; Infielders Heckathorne and J. Strobel, and Outfielder Aufderheide.

Pitcher McGeehan has taken over the managership of the B. & W. team. With himself the team will have the following players: "Bill" and E. Mundy, A. and B. Gerthenslagen, C. Kinney, G. Sharp, Ray Buzzard, C. Howell, B. Childs, E. Sprague, E. Liske, C. Wagner, M. Quinn W. McGonigal and Audrey Morris.

John Godwin, the former Boston Red Sox third bagman, will direct the K. T. K. team for the entire remaining schedule. His players now loom as follows: P. Pollock, Henry Schneidemiller, Harry Shaw, J. Bucher, B. Sanor, D. Stoffel, B. Merchant, C. Coleman, C. Finley, Harry Simcox, R. Rardin, Ralph McShane, C. Strobel, H. Allison and S. Coleman.

Manager Frank Riley's official list at Chester is as follows: Digman, Potts, M. and P. Cebula, Hoy, Powell, L. and W. McMath, C. and F. Marshall, S. Seevers, P. Cochrane, P. and E. Bennett and "Hap" Jackson.

Following the close of the season the winner of the "baby world series" will, it is now planned, clash with the champions of the fast Midland, Pa., baseball league.

'We'll Have to Lick Macks,' Says Harris

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, June 3.—After staking himself to a six weeks' survey of the American league in action, Stanley Harris, the young manager with an old head, frankly conceded today that the Philadelphia Athletics were the team he had to beat if his Washington Senators are to repeat their 1924 victory. He made the statement with due consideration for the fact that the Athletics this morning are three full games in front of the champions and stepping like a drum major.

"Of course, the club immediately in front of you is always the club you have to beat," Harris said. "Some of them last, some of them don't. However, I'm convinced that the Athletics are a permanent contender. They are a crowd of young, ambitious ball players with a lot of ability and that is always a hard combination to down."

Pressed for answer on the rest of the league, Harris intimated that, given his choice of bets, he would play the field. He added that there were six clubs that looked like first division material and named the Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox as possibly the weakest entries in the race.

"But they are not very weak," he hastened to add. "I wish I could be sure of knocking them off, three out of four, every time we play them. I have no such assurance because the Sox and Indians, like most of the league have improved between seasons.

"It is too early yet to make definite predictions. The race seems upside down because clubs like the Yankees and Tigers were off to a bad start. The Yanks haven't started to win yet but they will come back. When they do, it will make our job just that much harder. The Tigers already are giving signs of their real ability.

"The more I look at it, the more I am convinced that the real test is yet before us. We've only been feeling each other out but from now on all friendship ceases."

Harris seemed more interested in the two-day performance of our Mr. Ruth, who came out of the hospital to hit .333 in his first two games and make a dazzling catch in right field.

"It was one of the greatest things I ever saw on a ball field," he said. "I don't mean the fact that he hit well. A great hitter like Ruth always will be able to sock them. What I mean is the stark nerve of the man. He got by those two games on his nerve alone and that proves to me he is a greater player than even the public concedes. When a man of his wonderful ability has the nerve of a bulldog, I don't think it is possible to improve upon the combination."

SPORTSMEN'S MEET JULY 22

July 22 has been selected as the date for the annual field meet of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association.

A special meeting of the field meet committee will be held in two weeks for the purpose of arranging the program for the day.

The state highway department has notified State Representative Ralph W. Emmons, of East Rochester, to have abstracts of all properties the state proposes to acquire for state park purposes in that office before July 9th, the date when the law authorizing the establishing of a state park in this county becomes effective. The survey of the land is about finished.

The association field meet, commencing this year, will be held annually at Guilford.

DAVIS TURNS IN FIRST VICTORY

Pilots Trotters in 8 to 2 Conquest Over Laughlin.

Trotters defeated Laughlin on the Newell diamond in a City Industrial league contest, 8 to 2, on Tuesday evening.

With one run each, the outcome was in doubt until the fourth inning, when the bunching of three hits and an error by Myers gave the visitors three runs and the game. Though they scored four more tallies in subsequent periods at the bat the victory was already theirs.

McConnell pitched for Laughlin, and barring two innings held the opposing men easily.

Deshler went in to pitch for Trotter and blanked his opponents in all but the first and fifth innings, when one run was made in each. He kept the eight hits he allowed well scattered and one of these would have been an easy out had Herbert and E. Bayley not Alphonso-Gastoned each other and let the ball drop safely at their feet. Deshler was a bit wild, as he passed five and hit one man, but except in the fifth, when a walk moved up the subsequent scoring runner, they did no damage.

Deshler, too, swatted .500 for the day, he having singled twice in four times up and reached first in all his appearances.

Tisher in the first inning forced H. Strobel, who had singled, Herbert to E. Bayley. He scored on Babb's single.

Herbert, tripling to right in the second, scored on J. Strobel's rap to McConnell, beating out the throw to the plate.

Myers' wide throw to first put Heckathorne on first. He stole second and scored on Deshler's single to left, V. Bailey fumbling the ball and the pitcher reaching second, from which point he counted on Parson's double to right. The latter scored on A. Bayley's single.

Babb, singling in the fifth, scored on V. Bailey's single, after Sayers had walked.

Deshler singled in the sixth. Parsons walked. Both counted on E. Bayley's single to right, and the latter counted on R. Pollock's single to middle.

Eddie Davis, the old local star, appeared as field manager of Trotters, and directed the team from the bench. The score:

Heckathorne forced J. Strobel who had walked in the seventh at second. He reached second as Myers threw out Kinsey at first and scored as Watson threw wild to first on Deshler's rap.

Majority of Entries Displaying High Grade Golf; Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones Take Gallery on This Morning's Round.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 3.—With Cyril Walker defending his title, the finals of the United States open tournament started at the Worcester Country club today. Undoubtedly the recent heavy rains have robbed the course of any long rolls, but the layout is in wonderful shape, despite the unseasonable weather.

A good warm sun looked down, speeding up the course and making startling scores possible.

Of the 500 odd golfers throughout the country who attempted to qualify for this open there are 95 left to battle for the title. There are any number in this field who have a chance of coming through.

The majority of the players are displaying a high grade of golf and some of the scores turned in during the practice rounds and the Metropolitan versus all other teams match were very low.

Mike Brady, former Massachusetts open champion, led the field with a 67.

Walter Hagen, Willie Hunter, MacDonald Smith, Johnny Farrell, Willie MacFarlane, Tommy Armour, Larry Nabholtz and Leo Diegel were all in championship form in the final warm-up rounds.

But today is another day. The gallery left with Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones this morning.

Matches likely to attract a large gallery today were:

Boy MacDonald and Jimmy Thompson; Willie Hunter and Angel De La Torro; Larry Nabholtz and Leo Diegel; Francis Gallett and Mike Brady; Robert T. Jones, Jr., and Walter Hagen; Jock Hutchinson and Tommy Armour; Cyril Walker and Henry Ciuci; Francis Ouimet and Gene Sarazen; MacDonald Smith and Johnny Farrell; Bill Melhorn and Joe Kirkwood.

Install the new Rusco Transmission Bands in your Ford

With the lug removed, the two hinges allow the band to be slipped in or out easily with no danger of bending.

No bending out of shape
Insure longer wear and velvet action
Relining done in thirty minutes

IT USED to take a half day to install Ford Transmission Bands. Then a removable lug was designed which reduced the time to thirty minutes. But the bands were almost always bent out of shape and never gave as good service afterwards.

Then Rusco designed and exclusively uses two hinges in each band in addition to the removable lug. The result is that both the original installation of the bands and the job of relining them at any time afterwards is done in thirty minutes easily, and there is no danger of bending the bands out of shape. They grip the drums evenly all around. The lining wears three times as long. You get no chatter. The hinges are of heat-treated steel tested for twice the strength they need.

Rusco Transmission Lining

RUSCO Bands are lined with Rusco Transmission Lining. It wears longer because it is so closely woven of highest quality materials and thoroughly impregnated with a heat and dirt resisting compound. Remains soft and pliable—no glazing.

pose that Lincoln had not had the courage of his convictions, where would our nation be today? Suppose that Washington had sheathed his sword at the first opposition and said, "Go slow, don't doubt the wisdom of king or parliament and above all don't draw your sword against the Lord's anointed." Suppose that Columbus had said, "I know the people are right and my ships would drop off the sides of the world and had sailed his ships only in sight of the shore." Suppose that Cyrus W. Field had said, "I guess that my friends are right, 'a submarine cable is impossible.'" Suppose the Wright brothers had said, "Well, I guess our friends are right, we are crazy," and had quit experimenting with flying machines. Why of course birds were made to fly, not men! Suppose Henry Ford had listened to his neighbor who said he was a crank. How did we overcome yellow fever, typhus fever, diphtheria, leprosy and many other diseases heretofore uncurable? Why through the persistency of men who had wheels in their heads and knew that they had wheels and were satisfied to let them turn.

Keep Channel Open.

You will not only have to be content to walk much alone but to be persecuted. They gave Socrates his hemlock Jesus His cross, John Huss the stake and fagot. Epithets and oaths were sped at Lincoln and Washington like poisoned arrows. No one has ever done a great work without being villified and lied upon unmercifully. It always has been so. It always will be so till the heart of man has been redeemed. "Count me o'er life's chosen hurled contumelious stone, stood alone, while the men they agonized for hurled (contumelous) stone, stood serene and down the future saw the beam incline to the side of perfect justice, mastered by their faith, divine, by one man's plain truth to manhood and to God's supreme design."

Now to keep the channel of life open many things we have learned to love must be sacrificed. Along little Stillwater were many trees, but we had to cut many of them down for their roots were obstructing the flow of the stream and their branches were gathering driftwood and holding back the current. Once in awhile if these trees were left alone they would fall over into the stream. The stream is the thing to be kept in mind and not the thing that grows on its banks. They may be beautiful, but sometimes the most beautiful things are the most evil. In theology we have had to discard many of the old dogmas to permit the stream to flow vigorously on. Politics has had to lop off a lot of its crudities. Business has had to throw away many of its methods based on selfishness. We must pursue and capture truth at all expense, and anything that stands in the way must be cast aside. Hero worship has kept many people from advancing. We have worshipped great warriors and have put up costly statues in their memory, and so kept alive barbaric war. The Chinese emperor once said to one of the famous scholars of his realm, "Hung, ninety years of philosophy must have taught you a great deal. Tell me what is the chief danger to government." "Well, sir," replied Hung, "it is the rat in the statue." "The rat in the statue!" exclaimed the emperor, "why, what on earth is that?" "Well, your majesty," said Hung, "you see it is like this; we build statues to the memory of our ancestors. They are all of wood; they are hollow and they are painted yellow. Now, sir, if a rat gets into the center of one these wooden statues you can't plunge it into the water for it would wash off the face of your ancestor. You can't smoke it out for that would defile the sacred image. Therefore, sire, the rat is safe because the image is holy.". There is a great danger of allowing fraud, deceit, graft to flourish in high places, for to expose it would destroy some idol. Some men would smother all investigation that would expose their own political party. None of the human weaknesses must ever be spoken in the men whom we have haloized. We would rather worship them than know them. The thing that has been wrong with religion for many centuries is that we have been content to worship God rather than to know Him.

The highest type of worship is to know the one true and living God and Him whom He hath sent. Now, in the beginning, I said there is ot much I know and that I was not geing to outline an itemized plan of procedure. What I meant was, we are not to progress by sense but we are to follow the Invisible. We are to proceed by faith. Ask the average man of success why he has done certain things and he will not be able to tell you. He just did them and he knows not why, and the things that brought the greatest success are the things he least knows how to explain. The scientific test applied for efficiency is not the best test. The great geniuses defy all scientific tests. And the geniuses are usually those who like fools will dare to follow this same inexplainable thing, like the Wright brothers and Henry Ford and Steinmetz and Edison and many others. The scientific test for metality was applied to a number of business men meeting recently in a city of Massachusetts and it was discovered they were usually low in mentality; and the four men who were rated the lowest were presidents of their concerns. You cannot establish things by machine tests, life is not built that way. Eugenics will never establish the perfect family. Selection is not made on this cold calculating basis. Ask your mother why she selected your father as her husband. Perhaps you need not go that far. Ask yourself while you are selecting a certain young man, are you contemplating having him sent to a labratory to find out about his temperament, his mentality, his heart beat, chest expansion and all that.

Know God.

What I want you to do is to see the invisible, hear the inaudible, and feel the intangible. I want you to know God, who cannot be seen, who cannot be heard and who cannot be felt, yet who is more real than the landscape or the thunder or the table you place your hand upon. There is a harmony between the eternal and every man. I want you to strike that harmonious chord. I want you to accomplish more ventional fay. I want that you to get out of the common drudgery of doing things in the ordinary, conventional way. I? want thata you shall dream dreams and be moved by high ideals. I do not want you to look on life as something that can be explained and analyzed and dissected in the laboratory. I want you to think of life as a thing which can never be reduced in the test tube to its component parts, which can never be measured by rule, or evoluted by the greatest economist. I want you to think of life as something elusive, something that has a thrill in it, something that has adventure in it. Something which when you start, its distance wou may find stretches where human foot has never trod. I want you to think of human life as something that comprehends God; something which searches you out while you search for it, so that you can say with animation, "Whither shall I go from Thy spirit! or whither shall I flee from Thy precence?—Life! If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there. If I make my bed in hell, behold—Life, thou are there. If I take the wings of the morning and dwell in the uttermost parts of the seas, even there shall thy hand lead and thy right hand shall hold me."

Let no one discourage you. Let no one speak in your presence the word failure. Believe all things are possible to them that love truth. Turn a deaf ear to all who would say that men are born to die or that the world was created to end in chaos. Laugh him to scorn, who says that God's kingdom cannot be established in the earth. It may be impossible but no one but a pessimist will think so. I am going to believe that it is possible. For if I do not believe that, I will do less than I ought. Life is rich, young people. It bubbles over with energy and the surge of it is upward. The other day, I passed through a section of country where strip mining had been going on. What a hideous form of industry that is! But I saw indefatigable nature had begun to cover up this terrible work man had done. Those works of stone and clay were covering themselves with a form of vegetation and little trees were shooting up. There is many a scar on the face of humanity but a benevolent God by the help of a wise race of men, is rubbing them out.

Work Hard, Is Advice.

One of the commandments of Moses is, "Thou shalt not covet." I dare to break that commandment tonight. At this very moment I am covetous. I covet your youth. I know I cannot appropriate it but maybe I can lead you to appreciate it more and apply it better. We have had dreams we were never able to realize. It remains to you to make them real. We have made a pretty bad mess of affairs but you can correct conditions. The great future lies before you. You have strong bodies, good minds, noble souls. You can do anything you set out to do. We believe in you not withstanding so many say you are the most trifling, foolish and disrespectful bunch ever. I doubt not, but what you are bad enough but I know there is more good in you than bad. I will bank on you more quickly than any other bunch of people in this city. Your latest possibilities are legion. The world waits on you. We have done a lot of things to advance civilization. Our fathers dreamed of a slaveless world and they broke the shackles and set men free. We dreamed of a saloonless America and we padlocked the doors. We have dreamed of a warless world but I question our courage to bring it to pass. But you who have already broken so many precedents will rush headlong where angles fear to trod. I doubt not but what you will make a great record. But to make the greatest will require a close application to truth and an earnest industry. Therefore, be studious, work hard and trust in Jehovah and He will bring it to pass.

Now in closing, I congratulate you on your accomplishments. So far, you have run well. It is no mean thing to have accomplished at your age what you have. But in reality you have only begun. Be a student all your days. Work hard, be industrious. Be honest and keep yourself clean, and the years will increase in joy and the past will be a blessed memory. Cut loose from everything that will bind you to the past, live out yonder in the future. Tomorrow will be the greatest.
